COAL RULE TO TIE UP CITY

PEACE APPEAL BY EDITORS OF MEXICAN PRESS

Want Conference Held; New Note by Lansing.

BULLETIN.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Private advices received tonight from Mexico City said there was no truth in the report from El Paso that Consular Agent Jenkins had been released from the Mexican penitentiary.

THE TRIBUNE early this morning received the following message from representative newspapers of Mexico:

"The undersigned representatives of the most important newspapers of the republic of Mexico are well aware of the possible imminence of a rupture in the relations between the United States and Mexico.

"We believe that such a rupture would be due to lack of a mutual knowledge of both peoples, whereupon we have today applied to President Carranza, suggesting to him the appointment of a delegation formed by two members of his cabinet, two senators, two representatives of the house, and three private citizens, which may put itself in touch with a similar delegation appointed by the United States government in order that the delegations may discuss and clear up any differences between the two governments, thus avoiding consequences that may fall upon our countries as an outcome of enmity.

"We earnestly invite you, involving the world partnership of the press, to give your support to this meeting and to ask President Wilson to accept the plan we are here proposing."

The message is signed by:

ENDORSES LANSING'S COURSE

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Following publication of the American rejoinder to Carranza reviewing the "request" for the release of Consular Agent Jenkins, Chairman Porter, Republican, of the house committee on foreign affairs, discussed the Mexican crisis with Secretary Lansing.

"I believe Mr. Lansing is pursuing the right course," said Mr. Porter, upon emerging from the conference. "However, I do not entertain great hope that anything short of the most forceful measures will bring about the safety of Americans in Mexico, respect for the United States, and satisfaction of our demands and grievances.

"I fear that ultimately the United States will be compelled to intervene with armed force to end the intolerable situation and accomplish the salvation of Mexico."

Note Is Not Ultimatum.

Despite the severe criticism of Carranza's persecution of Jenkins and tolerance of his abductors, in which the secretary of state indulges in this answer to the defiant Mexican refusal to release the consular agent, the note is neither an ultimatum nor a peremptory demand. It is an extended argument picking flaws in Carranza's excuses for not liberating Jenkins.

By those who had expected either an ultimatum or a peremptory demand for the release of Consul Jenkins, the note was regarded as a backdown in the face of Carranza's defiance.

On behalf of the administration, it was explained, however, that it is desired to give Carranza every opportunity to yield amicably and that if he should persist in refusing to release Jenkins in response to the renewed American request it will then be time to consider the dispatch of an ultimatum and the employment of force

GERMANS BALK AT PEACE TERMS; BEGIN ARMING

French Resent the Fact U. S. Envoys Leave Conference.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Special Cable.]
[Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.]

PARIS, Dec. 1.—The most serious crisis since the armistice ended the hostilities confronts the allies today with Germany refusing to sign the protocol which demands 400,000 tons of shipping as reparation for the sinking of the German fleet at Scapa Flow—with Germany insisting that France surrender immediately 200,000 prisoners of war—and with the United States abandoning the peace conference following the senate's refusal to ratify the treaty.

The British, French, and Italian delegates make no effort to hide the fact that the withdrawal of the American peace commission at this moment is fraught with the gravest possibilities. The Germans are in a truculent mood and are prepared to refuse to sign the protocol and thereby automatically prevent the exchange of ratifications, as this cannot be done until the Germans agree by a protocol to carry out the unfulfilled armistice terms, as well as to surrender the shipping and turn over the list of officers and officials wanted by the allies for violating the recognized rules of warfare.

Many Armed Germans Wait.

Secret French and British advices from Germany announce that more than half a million German soldiers still are under arms. This figure exceeds the combined French and British forces still undemobilized, and rumors are current today that the French are prepared to call up a new class earlier than had been expected in view of any emergency which might arise.

Although much pressure has been brought to bear upon the American commission, Frank Polk, Henry White, and Gen. Bliss will leave Paris on Friday and sail from Brest on Saturday with all the commission. Mr. Polk has made one concession, however. He has practically promised Premier Clemenceau that the United States will be represented on the supreme council, after he leaves, by Ambassador Wallace.

The present menacing situation is due to dilatory tactics of the peace conference. Mr. Polk has been telling the supreme council since the end of October that he was returning home before Christmas.

Screws Made Too Tight.

When France was hotly blaming the British for letting the Germans sink the fleet at Scapa Flow, the English promised to make good by forcing Germany to deliver up 400,000 tons additional shipping in the form of dry docks, floating cranes, tugs, lighters, and other craft. The Americans warned the allies then that this seemed like putting the screws on too tightly, but they insisted they could get away with it.

Now Germany is showing her teeth and muttering she will not submit. Even the French fear that pushing the enemy too hard may cause an overthrow of the present Berlin government, which would be a fatal move now with the extreme Socialists on the one hand menacing, with bolshevism and the strong reactionary party growing more powerful daily with an avowed platform of bringing back the kaiser.

"Because you can be influenced extremely you should take care as to whom you make your friends. You have an instinct which guides you to form likes and dislikes—which generally prove to be correct. But be sure you follow that instinct; it will teach you whom to trust and whom to avoid."
"Well, may I trust you?"
"Follow your instinct."

DO NOT GIVE IN TO THE MINERS: PALMER TO U. S.

Strike Is Illegal and Raise Is Adequate, He Declares.

BULLETIN.

Middlesboro, Ky., Dec. 1.—Indicating partial success of the offer of 14 per cent increase in wages by mine owners in district 19, United Mine Workers of America, which embraces southeastern Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia, announcement was made today by operators that 35 of 200 mines in the district have agreed to accept the proposal. The miners, it was said, have accepted the proposal until a new agreement is framed for the central competitive field, to which they will abide.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D.C., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Attorney General Palmer, responding tonight to the chamber of commerce at Moberly, Mo., disapproved of the chamber's suggestion that another conference of operators and miners be called.

"The wage increase proposed by Dr. Garfield," said the attorney general, "equalizes the average miner's wages with the present high cost of living without increasing the price of coal.

"This is fair to the miners and protects the public. The cost of living is now at the high point. To grant the demands of the miners would make the cost of living still higher.

"The new wage contract would run three winters; and, therefore, would maintain a higher cost of living for substantially three years. Such a situation cannot be tolerated.

Approves Garfield Plan.

"In addition to this, Dr. Garfield suggested a consultative body to investigate the situation, to be composed of miners and operators and presided over by the secretary of the interior.

"Such a body also would investigate operators' profits and if unreasonably high, the public should receive the benefit in a decreased price of coal, after the miners have had their wages finally adjusted on a fair basis. I understand this plan is acceptable to the operators.

"If the miners return to work and agree to this plan a way would be immediately open for permanent settlement.

Output Now 50% Normal.

"The production of coal now closely approximates 50 per cent of normal, and I have confidence that a sufficient number of miners will respond to the needs of the people to increase this production to a point which will supply the demand if economy and conservation in industry are employed.

"Any other plan to reopen negotiations would be futile and would delay production. As long as the miners' leaders believe their unlawful strike will force the public into a condition of suffering and loss which will compel further increase of wages continued conferences will only result in influencing miners not to return to work.

"The situation calls for the steadfast support by the public of the government's position as announced by Dr. Garfield. The public should refuse to be stampeded by threats of lack of fuel into concessions which will insure unreasonably high prices for all commodities for at least three years to come."

MINERS WON'T WORK

Practically none of the soft coal miners affiliated with the United Mine Workers returned to work, despite the offer of the 14 per cent increase in wages. Some of the mines in Kansas were worked by volunteers under military guard. In West Virginia several mines were being worked by nonunion miners.

ILLINOIS STILL TIED UP.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—The coal miners in this district have refused to return to work today. The operators are making no plans to run mines with men outside of the union.

So far as can be learned, no miners appeared at any of the shafts in the district this morning. None, the operators say, will work unless author-

MASSACRE OF 600 IS FIRST STEP IN VILLA'S REVENGE?

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Pancho Villa attacked and massacred 600 Mexican federal soldiers of the Eighth regiment at Rancho Espejo, twenty-one miles north of Santa Rosalia, Chihuahua, on Nov. 28, according to reliable information reaching El Paso tonight, which states the massacre was in revenge for the death of Gen. Felipe Angeles.

The advice declares the Villistas, 1,000 in number, fell upon the federals with such fury that only two officers escaped. They were Col. Rivas and Lieut. Col. Merrogin. Rifle butts, knives, and clubs were used to strike down the men, who were slaughtered almost before they were aware that Villa was upon them.

The attack came as a total surprise to the Carrancistas, who expected Villa to be cornered near Falomir, where he was last reported, about one week ago. Carranza officials endeavored to conceal the news of the massacre, fearing added prestige to Villa. His men were well armed and had plenty of ammunition.

CITY'S BUILDING FOR YEAR WILL BREAK RECORDS

Permits for the construction of buildings to cost $90,000,000 have been issued by the city building department thus far this year.

Edward W. Nordlie, chief building inspector, estimated yesterday that in spite of the high cost of material and the building strike last summer this year's permits will surpass in the value of the buildings to be constructed those of 1916, when $113,000,000 worth of permits were issued. Nineteen sixteen was the largest year the department has seen.

In the last month permits were issued for 167 stores and factories, 537 residences and 38 apartment buildings. Other permits brought the cost of the buildings to be constructed up to $17,577,000. For October the figure was $16,948,000; for September, $13,483,000, and for August $4,900,400.

1,200,000 GALLON BOOZE SHIPMENT ON ITS WAY HERE

Chicago wets are backing their bet that the liquor lid will be blown off soon by starting another 1,200,000 gallons of whisky on its way to three new bonded warehouses here.

"It's a sporting proposition with Chicago liquor men," said Col. L. G. Nutt, chief revenue inspector, yesterday. "We have allowed them to qualify three new general warehouses in addition to those they have already.

"They will bring their whisky from Kentucky, all under government supervision, have it all set for instant distribution here, and pay all of the additional expenses and government taxes, so as to have it ready for tapping at a minute's notice."

SOCIETY GIRL AT WORK IN STORE

Refused Stage, Chicagoan Gets Job to Show Parents Wrong.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Miss Priscilla Pardridge, daughter of A. J. Pardridge, the Chicago real estate broker, is working today behind a busy counter in a local department store.

She is selling Christmas cards. It's somewhat dull, she says, but adds "I am making good."

When she is at home Miss Pardridge lives with her parents at 135 East Chestnut street, Chicago, where the family is said to be well known socially.

Six weeks ago, Miss Pardridge, who works under an assumed name, came to Denver because, as she said today:

"I wanted to go on the stage to be an emotional actress and my parents would not hear of it. They wanted me to finish school.

Daughter Gets Her Way.

"I replied 'I can make my own way.' Next day I applied for a job in a Chicago department store.

"Seeing I was determined, mother suggested that I go to Denver to visit relatives, possibly thinking I would get some new idea and forget the stage, when I realized that trying to make my own living was not as easy as it had seemed. She has urged me to quit since, but I won't now."

"Why did you seek employment in a department store?" she was asked.

"I could do nothing else," she said. "I applied to a local theatrical company, but it had nothing just then."

Miss Pardridge is staying with relatives in Denver.

Later she plans to take up a shorthand course, she said, to get more pay.

Would Prove Parents Mistaken.

"Certainly there's nothing wrong about it. I don't see why there should be anything said," she continued. "I'm doing real, honest work. It's the only way I can earn money and prove my parents mistaken.

"When I told them I was going to work to make my own way in life they said: 'What can you do?'

"I said: 'Never mind, I'll get a job somewhere.'

"Here I am every morning at 9 o'clock.

"You would be amazed at some of the wonderful things the girls accomplish. I don't know what I'd do if it were not for some of the ideas the girls in the department give me on what to wear."

Miss Pardridge still is determined on a stage career. The movies have no charm for her.

MOTHER HAS HER SAY.

Miss Pardridge's experiment in earning her own living came as a surprise to her mother, Mrs. A. J. Pardridge.

"I know nothing whatever about it," said Mrs. Pardridge. "Priscilla is in Denver visiting a cousin and is expected home in a day or two. She is only 18. She has not yet made her debut.

"Girls are so impulsive at 18. She always has talked about earning her own living.

"Society never has interested her very much. She feels that girls ought to do something else.

Deplores Girls' Impatience.

"I do wish girls who talk that way would wait till they know a little more and can decide better what they want.

"Priscilla wants to study for the stage and it may be that she has worked in a Denver department store to study types—she wanted 'to see all sides of life.' She ought to have told me about it, though. I'd like to spank her if it's true."

Mrs. Pardridge said that her daughter would be placed in Miss Hare's school on the north side after the holidays and would then study dramatic art.

RENEW WARTIME FUEL ORDER; MAY CLOSE THEATERS TODAY

Churches, Factories, Schools May Be Hit by Edict

Chicago today faces a suspension of every activity not necessary to the well-being of its citizens.

This was announced last night by the regional coal committee after Fuel Administrator Garfield made public in Washington a national plan to restrict fuel consumption to such quantity only as the "urgent needs of the people make necessary." The Garfield order was general and "basic" in its terms; it awaits action of local fuel committees here and elsewhere to be effective.

The Chicago fuel committee issued no order after receipt of the Garfield order, but announced that today action would be taken which probably would suspend the following, either immediately or as soon as their present individual supply of coal is exhausted:

Theaters, movies, and all places of amusement.

Churches and schools.

Bakeries which produce only pies and pastries. (Bakers of bread will not be affected.)

Boot and shoe factories.

Brass and bronze manufacturers.

Clothing manufacturers.

Confectioners.

Machinery manufacturers except where especially exempted.

Iron and steel mills.

Jewelry manufacturers.

Marble and stone working plants.

Musical instrument factories.

Paper goods [news print excepted].

Rubber goods manufacturers.

Cigar factories.

Wagon and carriage factories.

Woodworking establishments.

Sheet and metal working plants.

Packing plants [except as specified].

Tanneries and leather goods manufacturers.

Mattress factories.

Paints and varnishes.

Photographic supplies.

Miscellaneous nonessentials.

In all more than 3,000 separate plants will be affected in Chicago if it is decided to cut the curtailment to the limit. This it is estimated would affect nearly 300,000 wage earners, whose weekly pay envelopes total about $6,000,000.

In the theatrical business alone more than 20,000 persons will be made jobless if it is decided to close all amusement places.

Authority Explained.

The regional coal committee, in announcing its intention of acting on the Garfield recommendation, explained that while lack of working funds and organization made Dr. Garfield's position as fuel administrator purely an advisory one, his recommendations would be considered as orders by the railroad administration, under which the coal committee operates. Any request of the fuel administrator will be transmuted into an order to the public by the fuel committee, it was explained.

Dr. Garfield's national order in prohibiting delivery of coal to or use of coal produced power by nonessential industries or consumers specifically exempts five groups on what during the war period was the priority list.

Priority List Revised.

This list, which in wartime included many steel plants and machine shops, has been revised as follows:

Railroads, including inland and coastwise transportation systems.

Army, navy, and other government departments, including manufacturers doing work for the government as the government may direct.

State, county, and municipal institutions.

Public utilities, including manufacturers of print paper and users of same.

Retail dealers.

Proctor's Comment.

Commenting on the order, T. W. Proctor, chairman of the fuel committee, said:

"The recommendations of Dr. Garfield will be incorporated into an order, probably tomorrow. We simply will instruct those who distribute coal under our supervision to comply with the restrictions mentioned by Dr. Garfield. There will be no sweeping or arbitrary action, however. Each case will be treated squarely on its merits. Those whose interests are most affected will be given opportunity to present their case.

"By that I do not mean that every man who has a four or five horsepower motor, used for a purpose unquestionably nonessential, will be allowed to argue about our ruling. But every industrial or business group which may feel it has grounds for being considered essential may, through a representative, present its case. All, however, must bear in mind the wording of the order—'essential to the urgent needs of the people.'"

Effects of Order.

The committee's final order will bring about:

The shutting off of light and motor power by the Commonwealth Edison company from industries deemed nonessential.

The curtailment of hydro-electric power, furnished by the sanitary district to commercial customers so that the commercial load will be removed from the sanitary district's line sufficiently early in the afternoon to enable the district to take over the municipal lighting without use of coal produced power.

The shutting down of all nonessential industries producing power by coal when their present coal stocks are exhausted.

The closing of churches—or their continuance without heat—when their present coal stocks are used.

Schools to Use Present Stocks.

The closing of schools as soon as their present coal stock is exhausted.

The elimination of sign lighting and window display lighting; the reduction of street and park lighting after midnight and cutting off of heat in trolley cars.

Any other measures deemed warranted by the situation, such as restricting the business hours of stores, offices, and the temperature in hotels, office buildings, and apartment houses.

Sees Situation as Desperate.

"We are facing one of the most serious situations in the history of the country," said G. W. Reed of the fuel committee. "No doubt there will be protests, but we have no alternative. Our problem now is to prevent suffering, perhaps death. There must be no unnecessary use of fuel."

The fuel committee announced it had no intention of taking over any private stocks, nor of confiscating the supply now in the hands of schools and other consumers not listed as essential.

Louis A. Ferguson, chief engineer of

GARFIELD ISSUES RULE LIMITING THE USE OF COAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 1.—Fuel Administrator Garfield, through a statement issued today, put the nation on a war time basis in use of coal. The enforcement of the order is left to the railroad administration. The statement follows:

"It is necessary that coal shall be used only for essential purposes. Public utilities consuming coal should discontinue to furnish power, heat, and light to nonessential industries, and should only consume sufficient coal to produce enough light, power, and heat to meet the actual urgent needs of the people. Advertising signs and displays of various kinds necessitating the use of coal should be curtailed and no coal should be distributed for such purposes.

"Pursuant to this policy I have requested the railroad administration in the distribution of coal now or hereafter in its possession, to limit distribution to these essential and urgent uses. As far as practicable, until the conditions warrant a change, the distribution of coal will be limited to the first five classes of the priority list.

"Retail dealers who distribute coal for household requirements, heating hotels, buildings, hospitals, etc., should take every precaution to see that coal is only delivered where it is absolutely required, and then only in such limited quantities that the supply may be distributed widely and prevent suffering.

"State and other local authorities can materially aid in inspecting and supervising such distribution by retail dealers, and the United States government will be glad to leave the supervision and control of such distribution by retail dealers entirely to any state, county, or municipality which may make provision therefor.

"Distribution to retail dealers must necessarily be administered by the railroad administration in pursuance of the orders already made by the United States fuel administration in carrying out the priorities which have been prescribed under the Lever act."

the Commonwealth Edison company, said the suspension of the company's wholesale power customers would save 2,000 tons of coal a day.

"That's about what we burn to supply our heavy power customers," he explained. "I do not know how many of them will be listed as nonessential. But I suppose a sweeping order would hit most of them."

Save 800 Tons on Cars.

Cutting off of heat in electric cars, Mr. Ferguson said, would save about 800 tons of coal a day.

Wallace G. Clark, chairman of the engineering committee of the sanitary district, said the district's power customers would not be forced to close because of the fuel administration order, but probably would be asked to cut their hours of operation.

"We have enough power throughout the day," said Mr. Clark, "to supply our commercial trade, and enough at night to light the streets. At this time of the year, however, the commercial load and the night lighting load overlap. We simply shall ask commercial consumers to shut down early enough so as not to overlap our night load."

1,130 Cars Released.

The seriousness of the situation was revealed by the report of the fuel committee on car releases. Of the 8,000 cars in the northwest region, 4,000 of which were in Chicago, when Mr. Proctor seized all coal in the hands of dealers at midnight Saturday, 1,130 were released yesterday. Of 746 received from the east, 310 were held in Chicago and the other distributed through the region. Chicago got 70 per cent of the coal released. Of the total released, 43 per cent went to public utilities and the balance to retail dealers, with a few cars to manufacturers of indispensible products, such as bread.

It was pointed out that with only 8,000 cars in the region and an average of about 600 cars a day arriving, normal consumption must be materially reduced to enable the coal reserve to outlast the strike. Chicago's normal consumption, Mr. Proctor pointed out, is about 1,400 cars a day.

Closer Bars Likely.

That Chicago and other cities in the northwest region may be placed on the same rationing as Kansas City was deemed not improbable by fuel officials after a conference between the fuel committe of the northwest region and B. J. Rowe, chairman of the central western fuel committee.

Mr. Rowe announced that in Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kas., the city authorities, acting as fuel administration deputies, had ordered all theaters, churches, clubs, schools, and similar users of coal closed and had restricted stores to business hours of from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. The Kansas City authorities recommended to the railroad administration that passenger traffic be reduced to absolutely necessary trains and that freight shipments be restricted to fuel and food. The recommendation was forwarded to Director General Hines.

No Train Changes at Once.

A representative of THE TRIBUNE at Washington asked Mr. Hines to outline his probable action on the Kansas City request and was told any further curtailment of railroad service "must be made by the regional directors."

An inquiry at the office of R. H. Aishton brought the statement that no further restrictions would be made in this region unless they were made in all regions.

Reports on the coal reserves of the roads, especially in the central western region, were said by railroad men to indicate that action by the regional director to enforce drastic traffic restrictions could not be long delayed.

Night Schools Close.

Thirty night schools and more than sixty-three community centers will suspend temporarily after tonight's sessions as a result of a board of education order to save coal.

Principals of elementary and high schools have been instructed to cut the luncheon periods in half, if possible, and dismiss schools earlier. This, it was estimated, will save 15 per cent of the coal ordinarily used.

Acting Superintendent Peter A. Mortenson, Vice President A. H. Severinghaus, and Harry Howatt, chief engineer, conferred yesterday and mapped plans for handling the school situation.

Mr. Mortenson announced that the board has a reserve supply of 160,000 tons of coal on hand, which will enable all schools to remain open until Feb. 1 unless the fuel committee confiscates the available stock.

CITY IMPERILED, LEADERS MOVE IN COAL CRISIS

Call for Law to Allow Volunteers to Work the State Mines.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

The presidents' council—the heads of twenty one leading business and civic organizations of Chicago—will have an extraordinary session this afternoon to discuss immediate action on the conservation and production of coal. Preceding that, the executive committee of the Association of Commerce will have a session at noon.

The steering committee of the Illinois Manufacturers' association met yesterday and talked with Gov. Lowden. Later they wired Dr. Harry A. Garfield for an audience on Thursday to present the "coal situation in Illinois."

Letter to Manufacturers.

Then to each member of the association a letter was sent which reads, in part:

"Attorney General Palmer has undertaken to protect the miners who have the courage to dig coal in spite of union orders, union ridicule, and union methods. The situation is critical. The crucial point is beng reached. The strength of our government is being tested with the strength of the union. Every loyal citizen should show where he stands by sending a wire to Mr. Palmer expressing his approval of the policy of the government in enforcing the law.

"Government protection to the miner means coal for the householder, coal for the hospitals, coal for the manufacturing plants, coal for the public utilities, and coal for the transportation companies. The strike has been on four weeks and, by persistent effort, production has been raised to 50 per cent. The situation in Illinois is worse than that of any other state. Please urge Gov. Lowden to coöperate with the federal authorities and call a special session of the Illinois general assembly for the purpose of repealing the obnoxious mining laws which prevent a man from working in a mine in this state unless he has three years' experience."

Restrict Use of Electricity.

In addition to this activity the state public utility commission held an informal conference of Chicago's largest coal users at which it was decided to eliminate the use of electric energy for display lighting and advertising. Further restrictions are to be determined upon so that they may be promulgated at a hearing of the commission Wednesday morning.

Commissioners Lucey and Wilkerson suggested that the gathering yesterday appoint H. H. Merrick, of the Association of Commerce; Samuel Insull, of the Commonwealth Edison and the Peoples Gas Light and Coke, and other gas and electric companies; Dorr E. Felt, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association; Charles Piez, another manufacturer, and D. F. Kelly, of the State street department stores, to formulate a program. They were appointed, conferred with the commissioners and will make their recommendations tomorrow morning to the commission, following a meeting this morning with T. W. Proctor and G. W. Reed of the fuel committee and this afternoon with the presidents' council.

Of Presidents' Council.

Those invited to the council meeting, together with the organization they represent, are as follows:

Complaint Nipped in Bud.

At the conference in the offices of the state public utilities commission some of the large manufacturers were inclined at first to complain of the wartime segregation of essential from nonessential industries.

"If we do nothing," said Mr. Insull, "that question will settle itself in about twenty-five days. Then we will be out of coal."

"This morning in advance of the ruling of this commission," said Mr. Kelly, "we got in touch with all of the large stores, the book and specialty shops, the furniture, shoe and jewelry houses and asked them to shut off all display lighting and cut their lighting load 50 per cent. They will do it.

"May I also add that an assemblage of this weight should make an appeal to the miners to return to work for the 14 per cent increase in wages and leave the final disposition of the case to arbitration. That point should be sent home."

"25 Days of Life."

"If we have only twenty-five days of industrial life," remarked H. H. Merrick of the Association of Commerce, "strong pressure should be brought on the administration to settle the strike. Why not a committee like the Roosevelt committee in 1902? We are going to have trouble this winter to get coal, even if the strike is settled at once. Let's throw the machinery into gear and start."

"We are not going to freeze for the lack of coal," said John G. Shedd. "We prefer to have the miners work the mines, but we can do it if they won't. Put the college students and the bankers into the pits. The government has been playing with this mine situation for three weeks and that is long enough."

The Chicago Coal Merchants' association started yesterday on rationing coal to essential consumers. This is being handled by a committee on which it was represented yesterday that M. B. Flynn is a member from the west side. That was an error. The west side representative appointed is George I. Methe of F. G. Hartwell company.

ized to do so by union officials, though some individually would accept the 14 per cent raise offered.

There is no suffering among the strikers in the vicinity of Springfield. Many have Liberty bonds bought during war time maximum production.

Acting President Lewis, back from Washington, said today:

"We understood from Secretary Wilson that the government was offering us a 31 per cent increase. We signified our willingness to accept that. We hold that this offer was afterwards repudiated by Dr. Garfield with the consent of the cabinet to some degree."

Mr. Lewis added that today's results showed the miners would not accept the offer of a 14 per cent increase.

Volunteers Work Mines.

Pittsburg, Kas., Dec. 1.—Production of coal in the strip pits of the Pittsburg field by volunteer workers under the state receivership plan began this afternoon. Following Gov. Allen's orders the first coal, to be shipped out tomorrow, will go to western Kansas.

Five hundred additional volunteers left Topeka tonight for the coal pits of this district. They will bring the total to approximately 900.

Deadlock in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 1.—There was no sign today that Indiana miners were accepting the offer of 14 per cent increase in wages.

No Progress in Pennsylvania.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 1.—Efforts of coal operators to reopen mines in the Pittsburgh district and the western and central Pennsylvania fields failed today.

West Virginia Conditions.

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 1.—"Sixty per cent of the mines in the Fairmont district are operating," Secretary Lewis of the operators' association said tonight.

EXTRA SESSION ASKED OF LOWDEN IN COAL CRISIS

Citizens Downstate Urge Drastic Measures to Curb Famine.

In the grip of a coal shortage, many cities and states are curtailing industries and doing all possible to obtain coal.

ASK AID OF LOWDEN.

Decatur, Ill., Dec. 1.—To fight the coal famine, a telegram from Mayor C. M. Borchers and twenty other citizens, including two legislators, was sent to Gov. Lowden today asking him to call a special session to repeal laws which prevent inexperienced workers operating coal mines.

Another for Extra Session.

Dixon, Ill., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Based on the theory that in a great emergency the state could seize the coal mines, John P. Devine, member of the house from this district, sent a message to Gov. Lowden asking that he convene the legislature in special session to "avert a coal famine."

Belvidere Factory Closes.

Belvidere, Ill., Dec. 1.—Short of coal, the Belvidere Screw and Machine company plant was closed today.

La Salle Schools Closed.

La Salle, Ill., Dec. 1.—Grade and high schools were closed indefinitely here today by the fuel famine. Three big cement plants in La Salle and Oglesby, the La Salle, the Marquette, and the Lehigh, will shut down.

Wisconsin Faces Famine.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 1.—Milwaukee and Wisconsin face a coal famine. Millions of tons of bituminous coal stored on Milwaukee and other Lake Michigan and Lake Superior docks have been seized by the federal fuel administration and are being distributed throughout the northwest district, which includes Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, northern Iowa, and upper Michigan. Only such industries as are absolutely essential to the maintenance of life will receive coal.

Kansas City in Darkness.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 1.—Kansas City was dark tonight to save fuel and to all outward appearances this was a wartime city again.

Business generally began today at 9 a. m. and ended sharply at 4 p. m. Schools were closed and amusement places were not permitted to open.

Rail Tieup Impending.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 1.—Suspension of all traffic over the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad lines out of this city is only a matter of hours unless the coal shortage is relieved, while all railroad traffic here may be tied up by the end of the week, according to local railroad officials.

Decide to Stand Pat.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 1.—All Washington local unions of the United Mine Workers of America at meetings held yesterday decided not to return to work until notified by their representatives at Washington, D. C., that a satisfactory agreement had been reached.

Montana Using Substitutes.

Helena, Mont., Dec. 1.—The coal shortage in Montana is most severe in the crowded cities, while on the farms of eastern Montana and in the smaller towns of that district the lignite fields are providing relief and in western Montana the forests are furnishing wood to take the place of coal, according to a statement by State Labor Commissioner W. J. Swindlehurst today.

COAL OPERATORS SEE NO HOPE FOR BETTER SUPPLY

Say U. S. Action Is Only Way to Combat Crisis.

The miners' strike will continue.

Production is less than half of normal.

The supply of storage coal is nearing exhaustion, except for purely domestic purposes.

Weather will slow down coal transportation.

That is a rough outline of the gloomy picture of the Chicago coal operators who could be reached yesterday on the phone. To them a settlement of the strike within a week seems almost hopeless. They also said that full normal production could not be gained under the best conditions within ten days or two weeks, even if the strike were settled before Saturday night.

Put Responsibility on U. S.

The only hope of a bright spot in the picture this week is action by the federal government. From the viewpoint of the Chicago operators, the government has fixed the wage increase; it is unsatisfactory to the miners; they won't work unless they are compelled to and the operators are practically prohibited from negotiating with the coal diggers.

The government on the other hand has been indicating by its reports that the present policy is increasing the inadequate coal supply each week. During the first week of the walkout the United States geological survey estimated that the soft coal output was 29 per cent of normal, the second week 33 per cent, and the third week 44 per cent.

Second Week's Output.

The details of the estimate for the third week have not been made public but the government view for the second week is available.

The output for that week is given as "3,990,000 tons, including lignite and coal coked."

"Compared with the week before," reads the statement of the geological survey bureau, "this is an increase of 438,000 tons, or 12.4 per cent."

The statement indicates that the total production for this year to date has been 411,507,000 tons. That is more than 100,000,000 tons below the production of last year to the same time, the bureau's figures being 524,444,000 tons.

Figures on Anthracite.

The governors in their formal resolution assert that the production of anthracite is above normal. If so, they have obtained inside telegraphic information from Washington. The available report of the geological survey says on the point:

"During the second week of the bituminous strike the anthracite mines failed to maintain their recent high level of production."

SUITOR, SISTER, HELD TO CLEAR TRUNK MURDER

Michigan Officials Seek Mother and Brother in Far West.

BY FRED PASLEY.

Lawton, Mich., Dec. 1.—A day teeming with developments in the death trunk mystery closed tonight when County Prosecutor Horace S. Adams announced that Sheriff Andrew Lang would arrive here early tomorrow from Chicago with Joseph Virgo, formerly realty broker and undertaker of Lawton, and the sweetheart, according to Mr. Adams, of the dead woman, Miss Maude Faith Tabor, literateur, linguist, and a graduate in 1900 of the University of Michigan with the degree of bachelor of arts.

"I believe Virgo is innocent," said Mr. Adams, "but I shall question him tomorrow when the inquest is reconvened.

"There is much to be explained as regards her critical condition at the time of death. Two lives were sacrificed when Miss Tabor, after being either chloroformed or poisoned, was thrust into the trunk and interred in the furnace room of the Tabor home."

Held as Material Witness.

Earlier in the afternoon Mrs. Florence Tabor Critchlow, only sister of the dead woman, was summarily ordered into custody of the sheriff's office at Paw Paw, county seat of Van Buren county, when she declined to answer questions at the inquest by Attorney General Warner.

"Assuming Miss Tabor was killed," I asked at the Tabor home yesterday, "who do you think killed her, Mrs. Critchlow?"

"I have nothing to say," said Mrs. Critchlow.

Later I gained access to the house. In the five rooms on the first floor was utter squalor.

In the basement, near a window, was a small, oblong hole with the earth still fresh—the last resting place of Maude Tabor.

Mother and Son Vanish.

Of the many angles of the case, the present whereabouts of the dead woman's brother, Walter Tabor, and the long silence of the aged mother, Sarah Tabor, last seen when she left here last August, presumably to accompany Walter on a transcontinental automobile trip, are of the most interest to the authorities.

Walter has written repeatedly concerning the sale of the Tabor home, and he returned a month ago to sell it for $3,000, the minimum market value of realty experts being $5,000.

He soon vanished. At that time he said his mother was in the west. Sale of a forty acre farm north of Lawton also is held up because Mrs. Tabor cannot be found to sign the deed.

Yesterday I learned that a letter arrived in Lawton Nov. 15 from Walter Tabor, and that Mrs. Walter Tabor, having separated from her husband, is now living in Kalamazoo.

Tabor's letter was postmarked Freeport, Ore., and dated Nov. 10. It read in part:

"Mother and I are leaving here in the automobile for Portland, Ore. Kindly forward all mail to us there in care general delivery."

Mrs. Walter Tabor was asked about the trunk mystery tonight.

"Do you believe Miss Tabor was murdered?"

"I am not sufficiently familiar with the case to answer," she replied.

Story of Victim's Career.

Miss Tabor taught for many years in Kalamazoo. School authorities say she was qualified to instruct in the more abstruse mathematical subjects and that she spoke and wrote seven languages, including Latin, Greek, and French.

Her last work here as a teacher was at the Vine street school in the fall of 1915. She was compelled to leave there, it was learned today, because of the condition which Prosecutor Adams says will constitute one of the chief points of his investigation.

According to the authorities, Lester Tabor, father of the slain woman, was a talented lawyer, who won a $25,000 damage suit against the Kalamazoo, Lake Shore and Chicago railroad for a client who lost his legs.

Sister at Northwestern.

Walter, the only son, and his sisters were given splendid educations. Florence, now in custody, received her degree of bachelor of arts at Northwestern university, Evanston, in 1893, and her master of arts at Leland Stanford university, California, two years later.

Then the father died, leaving a $50,000 estate to his widow. Dissension developed in the family. Florence, now 51, left to teach school in Florida and California. She was not here when Maude disappeared in the late fall of 1915 or the spring of 1916.

Maude stayed at home. Walter married. In the summer of 1914 Mrs. Tabor, through Charles H. Showers, former sheriff of Van Buren county, sold some farming land for $10,000.

Florence suddenly returned and filed a petition to commit her mother to the state insane asylum. The petition was defeated, but Mrs. Tabor assigned the deeds to all her property to Maude. Walter protested. Mrs. Tabor was adamant, and then, neighbors say, Walter's attitude became attentive and loving.

Maude Suddenly Ill.

In the summer of 1915 Maude became ill. Once, as testimony at the inquest today disclosed, she called in neighbors and told them "Maude is dying." Dr. I. J. Hamilton was summoned. He testified today that Maude was then in a critical condition. Joseph Virgo was then living at the Tabor home.

Then Maude disappeared. Walter said she had gone to Missouri on mining business. Then letters were received signed "Maude." Mrs. Tabor told the neighbors about the postcards and the letters.

As late as the spring of 1918 these epistles were received. L. D. Sensabaugh, the Tabors' janitor, testified today to having seen many of the missives.

North Dakota Ratifies Amendment on Suffrage

Bismarck, N. D., Dec. 1.—North Dakota today became the twentieth state in the Union to ratify the federal suffrage amendment when the house approved the suffrage resolution, already passed by the senate, 102 to 6. The vote ended the battle for votes for women in this state which began in 1885 when the territorial legislature adopted Dakota's first suffrage amendment, which was vetoed by Gov. Pierce.

Youtsey Pardoned in Last Goebel Murder Chapter

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—The final chapter was written today in the famous Gov. Goebel murder in 1900, when Henry Youtsey, one of the trio convicted of the murder, was pardoned. Caleb Powers and James Howard were pardoned by Gov. Augustus E. Willson, ten years ago. Youtsey was paroled last December after serving eighteen years of a life sentence, and was restored to all rights of citizenship by Gov. Black today.

'YARDS' WORKERS SCORN INCREASE GIVEN BY JUDGE

Lay Alschuler Award of 17 1-2% on Table and Call Rally of Unions.

An outdoor massmeeting of stockyards workers, to be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, was called last night by the Stock Yards Labor council after it had refused to take the responsibility of accepting the wage award ordered yesterday by Federal Judge Samuel Alschuler.

Led by John Kikulski, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, speakers joined in denouncing the 17½ per cent increase awarded to the 120,000 midwest "yards" workers. The increase, they said, should have been far greater, more in accordance with their demands, stipulating from 20 to 50 per cent more pay for the various crafts. Denial by the judge of a forty-four hour week and double time for overtime was not commented upon.

Lay Award on Table.

The council, meeting in Columbia hall, at 1700 West Forty-eighth street, unanimously voted to lay the Alschuler award on the table, pending an expression of sentiment by the workers in Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, and other packing house centers affected by the decision. It was intimated the will of the union workers, as expressed at the massmeeting, would guide the council in deciding whether or not to call a general strike.

Speakers were bitter in their reference to the award, many of them employing the expression, "To hell with it." Martin Murphy, president of the council, presided.

Judge Alschuler in his order dated the 17½ per cent wage increases from Sept. 1, making back balances collectible from that date instead of from July 14, as requested by the workers.

Discounting the personal element which had injected bitterness into the long arbitration hearing he counseled conservatism in all wage adjustments and made an appeal for the recognition of sane justice as a means of steadying after-war living problems.

Adds to Winter Award.

The general increase hinged on the award of 10 per cent accorded the workers by the arbiter last February. In weighing the voluminous evidence the judge disregarded warring labor factions at the yards and recognized both labor elements equally, fixing the blanket raise at 7½ per cent, to be added to the 10 per cent temporary increase given last winter to tide the workers over after-war high prices.

Separate decisions gave a 12½ per cent increase to the mechanical trades and an 8 per cent advance to helpers. Employes under 21 years of age, who now receive 40 cents an hour or less are given increases of from 3 to 5 cents hourly.

Chicago workers based their demands on living conditions.

In commenting on the economic situation in industrial centers Judge Alschuler appealed to the various communities as the only agencies with power to improve living conditions and advised individual workers to make new inventories of their particular problems and work out the improvements that congested communities fail to give.

Calls Demands Excessive.

"While I believe conditions are such that employés generally, and some of them more particularly, are entitled to some further consideration," he declared, "it seems to me these demands, as presented, in the main are so excessive that an arbiter would not be justified in granting them.

"This industry has, too, recently passed from the ten hour day to the basic eight hour day plan and the world's need for the highest productivity consistent with the well being of employés is far too pressing to warrant further changes in the direction of this (forty-four hour week) direction, and the demand therefore is denied."

The judge ruled that his February decision granting double time for overtime on holidays and Sundays, with time and one-half for fixed overtime, shall stand.

VIRGINIA WOMAN SITS IN MOTHER OF PARLIAMENTS

Lady Astor Wears Plain Black to Commons.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Special Cable.]
[Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.]

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Nancy Langhorne Astor of Virginia, a viscountess in the peerage of Great Britain and wife of an American born British peer whose millions were derived from New York real estate, took her seat this afternoon in the house of commons as the first legally elected woman member of the mother of parliaments.

Lady Astor was a small slim figure in a plain black suit, which might be worn by any $15 a week typist, and a small three cornered black hat which has become so famous during the election campaign in Plymouth. She slipped quietly into the parliament buildings about a quarter past 3. In spite of the downpouring rain of a typical English November day a great crowd, chiefly of women, was assembled outside to see the first woman M. P. arrive. She dodged the crowd, however, and slipped in by a side way. Suddenly she appeared before the members in a lobby outside the chamber itself where she was greeted by numerous acquaintances among the men M. P.'s.

With Lloyd George and Balfour.

Lady Astor then waited in the whips' room until 3:40, when she entered the chamber and stood at the bar with Prime Minister Lloyd George on one side and Arthur Balfour, former minister, on the other. At 3:50, accompanied by her sponsors, she walked up the aisle and bobbed to the speaker three times—a curious cross between a man's bow and a woman's curtsey. Then she recited the oath of allegiance in a clear voice, signed the roll of parliament, shook hands with the speaker, and passed out of the house behind the speaker's chair. The members poured out of the house, the interest for the day being over.

I have seen many new members take their seats in commons, but never such a roar of welcome as greeted this American woman. The commons' cheers are a thing unlike any other joyful noise. It is composed of the words: "Hear! Hear!" but as the members pronounce it, it sounds like "Yah! Yah!"

This afternoon nearly 600 men of all parties raised this cry in honor of Nancy Astor and could be heard in the outer lobbies where the great crowd was waiting in the vain hope that they would catch a glimpse of the most famous woman in England today.

Casts Her First Ballot.

The first vote of Lady Astor was cast in opposition to the proposal of Horatio Bottomley to issue premium bonds. The proposal was beaten, 276 to 84.

Loop Clothier Dies Hour After Reaching Hospital

St. Luke's hospital last night reported to the coroner's office the death of William H. Robinson, 5318 Kimbark avenue, president of the Robinson % Pfaff company, merchant tailors in the Monroe building. He was in the hospital only an hour, officials said, and death was caused supposedly by cerebral hemorrhage. He was taken to the institution from his home, according to his widow, shortly after he had become ill.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

BELGRADE HEARS NEW ACTIVITY BY D'ANNUNZIO

BELGRADE, Dec. 1.—Great activity prevails at Fiume. A destroyer left there Saturday, presumably for Zara, according to the Serbian Press bureau. The merchant vessel Adria followed with 1,000 shock troops. Reports from Fiume stated that "Admiral" Rizzo, commander of the D'Annunzio fleet there, has gone on board a destroyer and purposes occupying Sabenico.

Campanini Loses Ground, but Still Has Chance

Although Maestro Cleofonte Campanini, director general of the Chicago Grand Opera company, has lost a little ground in his fight against an attack of pneumonia, he still is putting up a good fight and there is a chance for his recovery.

This was the joint statement of Drs. J. B. Herrick, Joseph Blake, and Milton M. Portis, consulting specialist, yesterday morning after a consultation in St. Luke's hospital. Dr. Portis early in the evening declared the day had brought no change in conditions. Late at night it was reported that Maestro had rallied slightly.

KING DEFENDS ITALIAN STAND UPON ADRIATIC

Socialists Will Not Take the Oath in His Presence.

ROME, Dec. 1.—King Victor Emmanuel today addressed parliament for the first time since the war ended. All the streets through which the royal carriage passed were lined with troops, behind which the people were crowded.

Queen Helena rode in a beautiful silver gala carriage, which was followed by another in which sat the ladies in waiting, mounted cuirassiers preceding and following the carriages. The people applauded the queen. Shortly afterward bugles announced the appearance of the king at the door of the quirinal. His majesty was accompanied by Crown Prince Hubert and court dignitaries. Cannon boomed, while the people cried "Viva Re!"

At the Palazzo Monte Citorio the sovereigns were awaited by 500 senators and deputies, the diplomatic body, and high state officials.

Socialists Refuse Oath.

The whole house, with the exception of the Socialist deputies, stood applauding the king. The Socialists remained seated. Finally, when the applause ceased, all the Socialists rose, crying "Long live Socialism," and left the hall. The other deputies then renewed their loyal demonstration, while the women waved their handkerchiefs.

The king bowed first to Queen Helena, then repeatedly to the members of parliament, and finally sat on the throne. Francesco Nitti, the premier, invited the assembly to sit, after which he administered the oath to the new deputies.

The king in his speech from the throne said that the confidence and sympathy of the nation was indispensable to parliament, as was its collaboration in all movements for the good of the people.

Has No Military Design.

Italy, through the war, he continued, had gained some of her natural frontiers, but Italy's national aspirations had not always been judged by the allies with the spirit of justice. The aspirations of Italy in the Adriatic, he asserted, did not cloak any military design, and, for the most part possessed no economic value. They were confined, he said, to the defense of native ideas. The protection of Italian populations was the duty and imprescriptible right of Italy.

"We have no imperialistic views," he continued, "and intend in no way that the peace of Europe shall be disturbed."

PEACE APPEAL BY EDITORS OF MEXICAN PRESS

Want Conference to Settle Dispute; New Note by Lansing.

to obtain compliance with the American demand.

No Backdown, Officials Hold.

To the contention that the first note made a demand, while this note merely renews a request, the department replied that there is no backdown in this circumstance for the reason that the first note did not make a demand but a request.

Mr. Lansing said that in translating the first note into Spanish and again into English, the word request had been erroneously rendered demand. He declined to give out the text of the first note on the ground that it might reveal the departmental cipher. The note published today was sent to Mexico partly in cipher.

In some quarters it was conjectured that the mild character of the rejoinder is due to constraint put upon Mr. Lansing by the president to prevent the controversy from developing a breach of diplomatic relations or intervention. On the contrary, it is asserted on high authority that Mr. Lansing has not put the Mexican crisis up to the president.

U. S. NOTE TO MEXICO

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—The note to Mexico, as transmitted by the American chargé d'affaires at Mexico City, is in part as follows:

"My government will not, and is satisfied that Mr. Jenkins will not, place any obstacle in the way of a complete and full examination of himself or his witnesses, or of the events leading up to and connected with his abduction.

"The Mexican government prefers to attribute the American note to an imperfect knowledge of the Mexican penal laws, and proceeds to explain with refinement the intricacies of Mexican penal proceedings. But the government of the United States fails to discern in their application to this case at the hands of Mexican authorities any approximation to impartial treatment of Jenkins; and the Mexican government knows the absence of such treatment is the reason for the American request.

"The Mexican government maintains that it cannot grant the request of the United States for Jenkins' release for the reason that under international law no diplomatic intervention is appropriate unless a denial of justice has occurred, and because the Mexican government is not in a position to demand Jenkins' release in view of the separation of the executive and judicial powers under the Mexican form of government and the independence of the state courts, by one of which Jenkins is held.

"The succinct answer to this contention is, as every one knows, that a denial of justice has already taken place, and also because the Mexican constitution specifically gives the federal tribunals jurisdiction of 'all cases concerning diplomatic agents and consular officers.'

"The United States is not to be driven by such subtle arguments into a defense of its request for the release of Mr. Jenkins. It is for Mexico to show cause for his detention, not for the United States to plead for his liberation. Stripped of extraneous matter, with which the Mexican note of Nov. 26 endeavors to clothe it, the naked case of Jenkins stands forth: Jenkins, a United States consular agent, accredited to the government of Mexico, is imprisoned for 'rendering false judicial testimony,' in connection with the abduction of which he was the victim. This is the substance of the Mexican note.

Consul Really Plaintiff.

"In whose interest, then, is the charge of false swearing brought against Jenkins? His abductors? He is in equity the complainant in the case of his abduction, not the defendant, as the Mexican government now makes him out to be.

"The Mexican government is prosecuting the victim instead of the perpetrators of the crime. While the outlaws who endangered his life and took away a large part of his fortune, enjoy their freedom, the Mexican authorities now deprive Jenkins of his liberty.

"Moreover, the ground expressed for the imprisonment of Jenkins—namely, that he is supposed 'to be responsible for the crime of rendering false judicial testimony,' must be taken—and my government directs special attention to this point—as merely an expression of opinion on the part of the Mexican government, as it is entirely unsupported by evidence. There is not produced any of the testimony rendered by him, or any extracts from such testimony tending to show the correctness of this opinion.

"The Mexican government cannot expect the United States to accept in the grave circumstances of this case such a bare unsupported statement as a valid excuse for the imprisonment of an American consular officer, particularly in view of the fact that the investigation of the case by the representatives of the United States in Mexico, so far as it has proceeded, fails utterly to support this opinion of your government.

"On the contrary, this investigation gives the government of the United States every reason to believe that Mr. Jenkins has not knowingly given any false testimony in respect of vital points in his case, although he has been harassed by Mexican authorities to give such testimony even while lying in the hospital too weak and exhausted to make them as a result of his treatment by the abductors, and while he knew evidence was being obtained against him through intimidation of witnesses.

"So stands the single, unsupported, and, my government believes, utterly unfounded, ground alleged for Jenkins' imprisonment.

Trying to Ensnare Jenkins.

"What conclusions to be drawn from such a reply of the Mexican government other than there has been a studied effort on the part of Mexican authorities to ensnare Jenkins in the intricacies of legal proceedings by alleging the commission of technical offenses, and by bringing unsupported charges against him, for a purpose:

"In the first place, to divert the attention of the American public and the American government, and, indeed, of Mexicans themselves, from the actual situation, namely, that Puebla, the capital of the state of Puebla, and perhaps the second largest city in Mexico, is without adequate protection from outlaws who infest the immediate neighborhood, and who were accustomed openly and freely to visit the city without hindrance, that with the failure to furnish adequate protection in this district the Mexican authorities have, through their negligence, made possible the abduction of Jenkins, and that, in harmony with such an attitude on the part of the Mexican authorities, they have failed to carry out the duty and obligation incumbent upon them to apprehend and punish the bandits concerned in the crime of which Jenkins was the victim.

Latins Scorn U. S. Feelings.

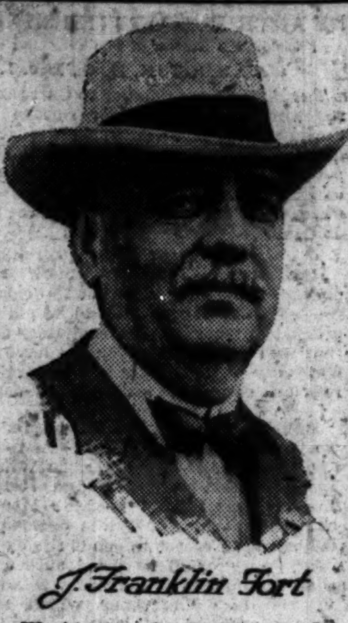
"And, in the second place, it appears to have been the purpose of the Mexican government to assume a willful indifference to the feelings of the American people that have been aroused to the point of indignation by the exposure, hardships, and physical suffering endured by Jenkins during his abduction and his subsequent treatment at the hands of Mexican authorities.

"In view of the considerations which have been set forth, and in view, particularly, of the belief of my government that the charge against Jenkins of deliberate false swearing is unfounded, the government of the United States must renew its request for the immediate release of Consular Agent Jenkins from further imprisonment.

"LANSING."

QUITS U. S. POST

J. Franklin Fort Who Resigned as U. S. Trade Commission Chief.



Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—J. Franklin Fort, former governor of New Jersey and chairman of the federal trade commission, has resigned because of ill health.

JENKINS' HEALTH IMPERILED

Laredo, Tex., Dec. 1.—Confinement in the penitentiary at Puebla, Mex., on "trumped up" charges, is seriously affecting the health of American Consular Agent William O. Jenkins, according to Miss A. C. Dyer, teacher in the Methodist Mission school at Puebla. She arrived at the border here today en route to her home at Chattanooga, Tenn., having left Puebla Friday.

The consular agent, she declared, is suffering greatly from mental and physical strain. He is being tried by "petty" Mexican courts and is taken from prison to a courtroom two and three times daily. His family and friends, however, are permitted to visit him, she said.

MEXICANS RALLY FORCES TO FACE YANKEE INVASION

Dynamite for Steel Spans Ready; Guns from Belgium.

BY CAPT. KENT HUNTER.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Further details of Mexican plans to resist American intervention in the event of a break became known in government reports made today when Gen. Renaldo Garza, Carranza commander at Nuevo Laredo, returned to his post from a military conference at Monterey.

With him appeared a demolition detachment of engineers, coming direct from Mexico City. They brought fifty cases of dynamite to Nuevo Laredo and fifty cases more to Lampasos.

It has become known on the American side of the river that each of the steel bridges between Nuevo Laredo and Monterey has been prepared for dynamiting. These bridges are at Rodrigues, Salinas, Villaldama, and Vitoria, and if destroyed would take months to rebuild as they span deep canyons.

Have Belgian Weapons.

Sonora reports indicate that the story originally uncovered in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE—that Mexico has been buying munitions in Belgium—is now a realization. The federal forces in Gov. De la Huerta's state have been supplied with machine guns of the most modern type manufactured by the government foundry at Liege.

Federal telegraph communication between Jaurez and Ojinga, which has been in a state of decay and disuse because of the constant cutting of the wires by Villista bandits, is being repaired with fervid speed by the Mexicans.

To further strengthen their communications, a powerful wireless station is nearing completion at Nuevo Laredo and the steel international bridge between Laredo, Tex., and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, has been mined by a detachment under Col. Manuel de la Fuente.

Bonillas on the Job.

The Mexican consulate at Presidio, Tex., is known to have received instructions from Ignacio Bonillas, Mexican ambassador at Washington, to ascertain whether Americans applying for passports into Mexico have had previous military service in the United States, and to notify the Mexican ambassador with a request for instructions before approving passports of any former American soldiers.

The Mexican official explanation of this move is that oil companies have started a move to employ ex-service men and send them to their Mexican properties, to resist by force, if necessary, the enforcement of the provisions of Carranza's article 27 of the Queretaro constitution.

Detect Plot to Bomb Foreign Office in Tokio

TOKIO, Friday, Nov. 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—A sensation has been caused in diplomatic circles by the arrest of three Chinese servants, two of them attached to the Chinese legation, and one to the Russian embassy, and also the Japanese gatekeeper of the Russian embassy, charged with complicity in the attempt to blow up the foreign office with bombs on the occasion of the celebration of the emperor's birthday.

CLOCKS THAT WEAVE SENTIMENT INTO THEIR TIME TELLING TASK

The grandeur of the grandfather clock, standing in stately splendor, inspires beautiful thoughts and acts. It is noble, majestic and proud. Banjo clocks, slender and graceful, bring back "the days of old when knights were bold and barons held their sway." Irresistible clocks of foreign birth are quaintly conceived and encased in exquisite enamel, and timepieces for traveling have comfy leather covers. Bright little boudoir clocks tick merrily and dignified desk clocks look solemn and wise.

Distinctive Gowns

Designing clothes which possess not only beauty but the note of "distinction" which the woman of good taste always seeks has earned for me the confidence of my patrons. This confidence I have enjoyed for more than twenty years.

Exquisite quality of fabric, smartness of fashion, individuality, fine workmanship—all are found in "Hosac" gowns and wraps.

Exclusive models in suits, top-coats and dresses for afternoon and evening. You will appreciate the opportunity of selecting from this stock.

REITMAN JARS FAREWELL PARTY TO ANARCHISTS

Renounces Emma Goldman and Talks of Golden Rule.

Two hundred persons attended a farewell banquet at the Morrison hotel last night "in honor of" Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, anarchists, who are slated to be deported.

But were Goldman and Berkman the sensation of the evening? Nay. It was Dr. Ben Reitman, former coworker of Emma, who upset the audience. He started softly:

"Emma Goldman has been the greatest feminine force in America for a quarter of a century," declared Reitman in recalling the old days when anarchy ran rampant. "She has been the most popular woman speaker in America. It is too bad, though, that she should be deported. You can't stop ideas with deportation—and it is strange that the government does not find it out. Instead of deporting Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, they should be pensioned.

Tells of Conversion.

"Emma came into my life years ago and seduced me from the old world. I dropped my old ideas. I dropped Jesus Christ. But today I'm thanking God I've learned the right road—and I learned it when I came back to Jesus."

Then Ben began to warm up.

"You revolutionists, you radicals, you anarchists, go on with your petty talk and your petty ideas. But you'll never achieve the millenium in that manner. You may accomplish good and you may accomplish harm.

"I'm not a revolutionist, nor an anarchist, I'm a reformer. I've started a new church, built on the brotherhood of man. And I want to tell you that I expect to accomplish more on a platform of human brotherhood than you can with a platform of revolution.

Quotes Golden Rule.

"You can't lead men without being bigger, and better, and finer yourself. There is only one motto which you can follow, and, in following that motto, you will lose your present ideas and ideals and gain newer, bigger, and better ones. That motto——

"Do unto others as you would have them do unto us."

In the audience were I. W. W.'s, communists, parlor bolsheviki, and the other kind, petty radicals, syndicalists, and various so-called social workers.

EMMA DENIED AN APPEAL.

New York, Dec. 1.—Appeals for delay in the deportations of Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, who recently completed two year sentences for obstructing the draft law, have been denied. A telegram from Anthony Caminette, commissioner general of immigration, received by Henry Weinberger, their counsel, made this announcement today.

Ellis Island officials are awaiting official orders to send Goldman and Berkman out of the country. They are on parole in Weinberger's custody.

DELAY CHARGES AGAINST "SOLID SIX."

The charges against the "solid six" members of the school board that are being prepared by Assistant State's Attorney John W. [illegible] and Angus Roy Shannon, attorney for Dr. Charles E. Chadsey, ousted superintendent of schools, will not be brought into the courts before the end of this week. The attorneys are presenting a contempt of court petition which will be presented to Judge Scanlan of the Criminal court.

Three Prize Winners at the Stock Show

Calf Acclaimed Grand Champion of Hereford Class at International Exposition; Little Chicago Girl and Pet That Won Applause.

JUNIOR LAD. OLIVE BELLE HAMON AND LADY BIRD.

GOVERNORS VIEW HUGE EXHIBITS OF STOCK TODAY

Chiefs of 6 States Are Expected; Lowden Gives Address.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Today is Governors' day at the International Live Stock exposition and it is expected to set a record. Govs. Lowden of Illinois, E. L. Philipp of Wisconsin, Samuel R. McKelvin of Nebraska, W. L. Harding of Iowa, R. D. Carey of Wyoming, and P. Norbeck of South Dakota have signified their intention of attending Chicago's big round-up.

The governors will be guests at a luncheon and boxes have been reserved for them at the horse show.

Lowden Gives Address.

Gov. Lowden spoke at the La Salle hotel yesterday before the United States live stock sanitary board.

"There probably never was a time in the history of our country when so heavy a burden was laid on the live stock breeders as today," he said, "because the countries of Europe have been pretty well depleted of their live stock, and our production is hardly sufficient for our own needs."

The governor is a charter member of the International Live Stock exposition and his interests here this week are primarily as a breeder.

After pointing out in his address many problems that stockmen must solve during the next few years, he said:

"Without better methods of agriculture, especially in the live stock industry, America soon will reach the point where she is not able to feed herself. So our best hope for the future is an improved agriculture."

Judging Brings Surprises.

In the morning, soon after the exposition judges began their work in the arena, the big surprise of the show came when California Perfect Lady, a grade heifer entered by California university, was defeated in the race for honors by Ames Plantation Coal, an Angus, owned by Ames Plantation of Grand Junction, Tenn. The California heifer was considered a prospect for grand champion, but this eliminates her from the competition.

Junior Lad, a junior grade Hereford calf entered by M. Armentrout of Botna, Ia., at night won the grand championship, an honor held in 1918 by Fyvie Knight, an Angus nominated by Purdue university, and in 1917 by Merry Monarch, a Shorthorn owned by Purdue.

STAGE "HORSE FAIR"

Beribboned draft horses won the acclaim of thousands at the International Live Stock exposition horse show last night. A real life production of the famous painting, "The Horse Fair," was a feature. The value of the animals in the parade was placed above the million mark. Scotch bagpipers led the cavalcade, which was bright with banners and tasseled manes.

In contrast was a class of tiny pony tandems which followed the draft horses.

The judges gave the blue ribbon to George A. Heyl's King Cole and First Edition in the Welsh pony tandem class, and Merry Maid and Merry Thought, shown by Alexander farms, were given second prize.

Brilliant Lady, owned by John L. Bushnell, annexed the blue ribbon in the harness class. Mrs. F. B. Hopewell of West Newton, Mass., won the first blue ribbon among the feminine entrants when Cuddles, her pony, won the saddle class.

John R. Thompson's first blue ribbon of the evening was taken in the roadster class, where Ebony King defeated a large list.

Blues Win Polo Match.

In the Shetland ponies in harness class the honors went to Harry Gorham, with Quapho and Prince Patton. D. T. Matlack of Winchester, Ky., scored a victory in the saddle horse class, three gaits, with his entry, The Answer.

Dinarth Magic and Mate won the blue ribbon in the pony tandem class.

The Blues won the indoor polo match, defeating the Reds by 2 to 0.

In the six horse team driving exhibition Swift & Co. arranged the horses in unique fashion, with one animal leading, followed by a team and three abreast.

'MOST ARRESTED RED 'IN AMERICA' IS SEIZED AGAIN

Ruthenberg, Commune Head, to Face New York Criminal Charge.

Charles E. Ruthenberg, national executive secretary of the Communist Party of America, with headquarters at 1221 Blue Island avenue, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Sergeants Lawrence McDonough, Charles Egan, Edward Birmingham, and John McGinnis of the bureau. The arrest followed a telegram from New York to the effect Ruthenberg had been indicted there for alleged violation of the state criminal syndicalist act.

Ruthenberg, known in radical circles as "the most arrested man in America," has made radical talks on Chicago platforms for the last seven months. Arrested in Cleveland last May charged with violating the syndicalist laws of Ohio, he recently was acquitted. It is said at present he has more than sixty indictments pending against him.

Defies Chicago Police.

On the occasion of his last speech to a Chicago audience, in Car Men's hall at Ashland avenue and Van Buren street in the early part of November, Ruthenberg invited policemen present to arrest him, but was not molested.

Ruthenberg and Louis E. C. Fraina are coeditors of The Communist, weekly organ of the Communist party, and of the Communist Internationale, a new monthly publication. In The Communist first appeared an appeal to the steel strikers to "throw the army out of Gary, Ind.," and other steel centers. This article was characterized by Col. Mapes as the "most revolutionary piece of literature" he had ever seen.

Hunt "America's Trotzky."

It is not known just what provision of the New York syndicalist law he is charged with having violated, but it is believed literature bearing his name has been circulated within the state and that the charge will be "inciting murder, anarchy, and riot."

The police are now looking for Louis Fraina, "America's Trotzky," also wanted in New York. While Ruthenberg has devoted nearly all of his time to the middle west, Fraina has been especially active in New York, being well known in Greenwich village and other radical circles.

Isaac E. Ferguson, attorney for the Communist party leaders, worked all night preparing for a writ of habeas corpus to effect the release of Ruthenberg, who was held incommunicado at detective headquarters.

ASKS FOR $991,000 TO AID CHICAGO HARBORS WORK

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—River and harbor improvement work, which was largely suspended during the war, is to be resumed next year, according to the plans of the war department engineers. Large sums are asked for the maintenance and improvement of the various projects in the estimates sent to congress today.

For the maintenance and improvement of harbors at the mouths of the Chicago and Calumet rivers and at Indiana Harbor, Ind., the sum of $991,000 is asked.

The sum of $500,000 is asked for the Great Lakes Naval Training station. This includes $6,000 for salaries, $100,000 for wages, and $394,000 for equipment, material, etc. This is as against $1,307,800 expended in the fiscal year 1919 and $850,000 appropriated for the fiscal year 1920.

JOE CASTS HIS BREAD IN LOOP; IT COMES BACK

Bootblack Who Shined Soldiers' Shoes "fur Nuthin'" Freed.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

Somewhere in the smoke and noise of the loop 10 year old Joe Popisa learned that you get out of life just about what you put into it. So he cast his bread upon the waters, and yesterday it came back to him. Joe's came through the soldiers and sailors whose boots he shined "fur nuttin'."

The slickers got Joe. In spite of his loop training he isn't suspicious. He has so many friends, and they have been so generous, that he wasn't the least bit surprised when two men approached him in a restaurant on South Water street the other day and told him they would give him $2 if he would drive their team to a certain spot. Then they pointed out to Joe a wagon loaded with about $250 worth of products.

"Lick this horse, and don't lick the one on the left," the men told Joe, so, of course, he thought they knew the team.

Tells Judge His Story.

In the Juvenile court yesterday, Joe told his story to Judge Victor P. Arnold, who believed him—every word.

"I druv the horses half-way down the block," Joe said, his eyes big with the scare that comes to any straight kid who finds himself before a bar of justice. "An, an then I turned 'em round and druv 'em back, 'cause I couldn't get out that way. I thought $2 was more 'en I cud earn in an hour, and my expenses is heavy, judge. I support my mudder. Before I got to the bridge they caught him, the fellers what owned the team."

Then up stepped Joe's friends, soldiers and sailors, nice looking ones, from the Soldiers and Sailors' club, and you should have heard what they had to say about Joe. He was "just right all the way through," they told the court, and they looked ready to fight the war all over again for the little feller that would shine soldiers' and sailors' boots "fur nuttin'."

"I'm a pretty good judge of when a boy is telling the truth," Judge Arnold told Joe. "And I believe every word you've said, Joe. I'm going to send you home with your mother, and you look out for the city slickers. Don't do things like that unless you know who you are working for."

Joe hurried back to his work.

Settle Cases Out of Court.

Judge Arnold had an interesting experience on Saturday, when he was addressing a west side business men's club. He was asked to tell about the Juvenile court, and he told about the 14,000 cases out of 21,000 each year that are settled out of court. Then he explained:

"It's so much better to give the children another chance when that is possible. It's a bad thing for them to have a court record. A record in the Juvenile court doesn't mean so much, but when a man gets twenty years older, perhaps his business rival, or the neighbor who thinks his wife has a little more than she should have, or some jealous school friend of his children, finds out that he once had a court record! It means a great deal of unhappiness then."

After his talk a man hurried up to Judge Arnold and wanted to shake his hand. "I'm one of those Juvenile court, boys," he told him. "And I have always felt grateful because a prank that got me into trouble could be settled out of court."

RENOUNCES TITLE

Bourbon-Orleans Noble Gives Up Privileges as an Infante of Spain.

MADRID, Dec. 1.—[Havas.]—El Sol announces today that the Infante Antonio of Bourbon-Orleans, by an acknowledgement signed Nov. 20, renounced his title as an infante of Spain and the privileges attached to this title. The newspaper adds that he also relinquished his Spanish nationality and severed family ties with the Spanish royal family.

Antonio of Bourbon-Orleans some time ago, by decree, was ordered to reside in Madrid and not to leave the capital. Nevertheless, he surreptitiously quit the country and proceeded to Italy, where he has great landed interests which several years ago were put under the administration of King Alfonso, owing to the alleged prodigality of the infante.

POLES ON HEELS OF DENIKINE IN MIDDLE RUSSIA

Ukrainian Army Seems Shattered and Gen. Petlura in Flight.

BY THOMAS STEWART RYAN.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Special Cable.]
(Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.)

WARSAW, Nov. 29, via Paris, Dec. 1.—Polish advices from Podolia indicate Denikine's troops are falling back from the territory which they took from Petlura and the Polish troops are advancing.

There is no contact between the two armies. Between them the country is occupied, rather than held, by disorganized bands of Ukrainians.

A few days ago Denikine's staff was at Proskurow, an important station on the Podolian line to Odessa. Yesterday the Poles entered Proskurow as well as Grodek and Starykowtantinow. Their troops took over the Ukrainian front against the bolsheviks and are advancing on Jitomir as Denikine leaves the country east of Kamieniec.

Poles to Stay.

The Poles have come to stay, according to Maj. Borutha, commanding Kamieniec. His orders, he said, were simply to occupy the city and made no reference to concluding a truce with Denikine. He added the bolsheviks might have seized the place, had not energetic action been taken, especially as elements of the Ukrainian army wanted to hail the soviet as the republic. In official circles there it is stated that Poland had to protect the lives and fortunes of her nationals in Podolia, who constitute most all the landed proprietors.

Gen. Petlura now is in Cracow.

Fate of Ukrainians.

Ukrainian arms have suffered various fates. The so-called Galician army under Gen. Tarnawsky, former Austrian officer, was penned up in Vinnitza when Denikine took Scherinka. The officers are largely Russian and Austrian with pro-Denikine sympathies, so that no one was greatly surprised when they betrayed Petlura and joined Denikine.

A large number of Ukrainians surrendered to the Poles and were disarmed and those who were natives of Galicia were interned. Other units withdrawn from the front against Denikine have concentrated with new arms and ammunition. They are still fighting Denikine with some success, although the government under which it fights is a fugitive.

MAN ASPHYXIATED AT CLUB.

POLAND KEEPS PADEREWSKI IN PREMIER'S CHAIR

BY THOMAS STEWART RYAN.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Special Cable.]
[Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.]

WARSAW, Nov. 29, via Paris, Dec. 1.—Ignace Paderewski remains premier of Poland, having secured a majority of the diet.

All his ministry has resigned and he is granted until Dec. 4 to choose a new cabinet.

The plan is to have the council of four within the ministry invested with wider powers.

The ministry is a sort of coalition, M. Paderewski holding the patriotic conservatives and Pilsudski appeasing the more radical element. The premier has had no majority in the diet, many ministers being chosen by him simply as concessions to public opinion, and they greatly hampered his work.

Astounded!

Art and science joined hands last night at Orchestra Hall, in the most unique event of local musical history.

A living reproduction of a great artist's interpretation of a wonderful concerto, played with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, by an instrument performing without human aid,—yet expressing every nuance and shade of tone color.

PLEA OF GUILTY MADE BY TWO IN NEWBERRY CASE

Senator Will Appear on Monday to Reply to Charges.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 1.—Quick progress was made today by federal officers preparing the way for trial of the 135 men, including United States Senator Truman H. Newberry, who were indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of corruption, fraud, and conspiracy in connection with the Newberry election campaign in 1918.

Service was secured on a number of those indicted and first arraignments were held before Federal Judge C. W. Sessions, half a dozen of the defendants appearing.

Two of those cited in the true bills, but whose names did not appear in the lists announced Saturday, came before Judge Sessions and pleaded guilty to counts contained in the indictments. These were William E. Rice, a Grand Rapids printer, who pleaded guilty to conspiracy, and was released under bond of $1,000, and Allis K. Moore, a publisher at Marquette, Mich., who pleaded guilty to four of six counts.

Newberry to Appear Monday.

That a bench warrant had been issued for Senator Newberry was indicated today when it was announced that Clerk Charles Potter of the federal court had given United States Marshal O'Connor one for each of the 135 persons indicted.

Former Circuit Judge James O. Murfin of Detroit, council for Newberry, announced that the senator would appear in court next Monday to answer the indictment. It had been believed that Senator Newberry might resist service, if he desired, on the ground of senatorial immunity.

The trials of the indicted men are expected to begin early in January. The date will be fixed Monday.

Greet Newberry in Senate.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Senator Newberry of Michigan was in his seat in the senate today. It was made plain by his friends that he has no intention of resigning or absenting himself from the senate pending the outcome of the case in which he was indicted. As he entered the senate chamber he was surrounded by his colleagues, who shook hands with him cordially.

Republican leaders stated that they would push the investigation of the Newberry-Ford case in whatever phases were not covered by the grand jury.

Senator Moses of New Hampshire, Republican, announced that he was preparing a resolution for introduction within the next few days for a general investigation into election corruption.

The elopement of Julia French with Geraghty, who was employed as a chauffeur in this city, in August, 1911, created a stir in Newport social circles. Recently Mrs. Geraghty has been living with her mother here.

WILSON TO SEND CONGRESS HIS MESSAGE TODAY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—President Wilson's annual message to congress, which is to be transmitted to the senate and house at noon tomorrow, was completed today and sent to the public printer. There still was no information as to its length or the subjects discussed.

It develops that the president made notes and then dictated the message from them, instead of writing the message on the typewriter, as has been his usual custom.

LODGE TO PRESS RESOLUTION TO END WAR STATUS

Senate Meets with No Indications of Treaty Compromise.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader in the senate, announced today that his resolution to declare the war formally at an end would be pressed immediately and that he would endeavor to have it reported favorably by the foreign relations committee within the next few days.

This announcement was made after it had become apparent that the administration leaders, unable to see President Wilson because of his illness, were wholly at sea as to what course to take with regard to the peace treaty. Senator Hitchcock, the Democratic leader, had no instructions from the White House and, consequently, was helpless to take any action pending the next move by the president.

Meanwhile no progress was made in the direction of a compromise.

Rail Bill in Preference.

The railroad bill is now "the unfinished business" and takes precedence over all other legislation. Senator Cummins declared his intention today of keeping the railroad bill before the senate continuously until a vote is reached. Consideration of the railroad bill will begin formally tomorrow, and indications are that it will take all this month, and more, to dispose of it.

The senate was in session only a few minutes today. The custom of sending a committee to call upon the president and notify him of the reconvening of the senate was not followed. Instead a committee, consisting of Senator Lodge and Senator Hitchcock, was appointed merely to notify the president that the senate was in session and would be pleased to receive any communication he might desire to send. Senator Lodge and Senator Hitchcock composed a brief letter to this effect and dispatched it to the White House by messenger.

Gets Thanks of Wilson.

The messenger placed the message in Secretary Tumulty's hands. Mr. Tumulty stepped from his office into an adjoining room, which the president has not visited in months, and after an absence of about a minute returned and informed the messenger that the president thanked the senate and would be pleased to send it a message in writing tomorrow.

DISCOVER VIEW OF MIDDLE WEST ON BIG ISSUES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Senators and representatives from the middle west have returned from meeting their constituents firm in the belief that the peace treaty should not be ratified without reservations. They found at home also a preponderance of opinion that there should be prompt and vigorous action taken by the government in the Mexican situation.

Senators Watson of Indiana and Capper of Kansas said the public in their states were overwhelmingly in favor of amendments to the treaty and for early action to pacify Mexico. Practically the same word was brought by Representatives Graham, Chindblom, and Juul of Illinois.

Lynch Negro in Georgia for Shooting Young Man

Macon, Ga., Dec. 1.—An unidentified Negro was lynched last night after he had shot and seriously wounded Hansel Rosier Jr., a farmer's son. The body was found today hanging from a tree near a church. Rosier will recover.

LABOR-CAPITAL RENEW MEETING IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—"Pitiless publicity" having failed in the first industrial conference called by President Wilson, the second conference was assembled today determined to test the closed door method of "calm deliberation."

"Men are free to think out loud if there are no reporters present," said Secretary of Labor Wilson, who was chosen as permanent chairman of the new conference, the post held by Secretary Lane in the former conference, which split on the rock of collective bargaining.

In today's conference methods of procedure were discussed, and Herbert Hoover, former food administrator, was chosen vice chairman. Stanley King of Boston was named official spokesmen for the conferees.

It is understood that the high cost of living, the present strained relations between capital and labor, the subject of collective bargaining, and other principles were discussed academically.

Nothing was said about the steel strike and coal strike.

SETTLE THE COAL STRIKE.

Energetic measures planned for the conservation of the coal reserve will have public support and produce substantial economies. A very considerable saving of coal can be accomplished by these measures, but no good can come from shutting our eyes to the fact that we are in for a fuel shortage which cannot now be avoided by any action whatsoever.

Our problem is how to escape an extreme coal famine, with a disastrous shutdown of industries, widespread unemployment, and extreme suffering among all classes in all parts of the country.

The danger lies directly before us, and cannot be met by argument. The nation must have coal. Whatever is necessary to obtain it must be accepted, even though concessions are made by all parties to the controversy. At best we are in for increased costs of necessities through a coal shortage which cannot be fully made up before spring. But if this shortage is increased by protracted postponement of maximum coal production, the crisis will be the most serious of its kind in our history.

Issues of principle are involved. The consequences of compromise may be serious. But both must be balanced against the necessity for heat.

There should still be a way of avoiding extremities, and it should be energetically sought by all concerned.

FRAUD CHARGES AGAINST NEWBERRY.

Truman H. Newberry, United States senator from Michigan, and 133 of his workers have been indicted by a federal grand jury on various charges of election corruption, fraud, and abuse of mails. Before Senator Newberry took his seat in the senate a petition for an investigation of his election was presented by Henry Ford, his defeated rival.

At that time the senate was democratic, and there was a vigorous effort to have the investigation of Newberry's election made by the senate in which he was not to sit. The activities in Ford's behalf by the administration were such as to question the validity of the intent to ascertain facts and to emphasize the desire to have Ford in the senate.

Now federal prosecutors have undertaken what Democratic senators did not accomplish. The senate can only decide, with the support of facts, that Newberry was elected by fraud—if this be the case—and is not entitled to his seat.

Criminal prosecution, in the manner begun, can determine what the punishment shall be, aside from expulsion from the senate, if the indictments were found in a trial to be true.

The senate cannot afford to retain in its membership a man elected by corrupt methods. It cannot afford again to be so tolerant as it was in the case of William Lorimer for so many months. Michigan cannot afford to hush up a case which accuses its electorate of such corruptibility.

In the meantime an opinion which assumes the truth of the charges will be faulty. The administration has not been free from guile in its attempts to get Ford into the senate, and it has not been candid in its endeavors to get Newberry out. This is a federal prosecution of a man whom the administration endeavored to throw out through a Democratic senate to which he was not elected, refusing to have the validity of his election passed upon by the Republican senate to which he was elected.

If a great deal of doubt prevails as to the truth in the case, the administration must bear some responsibility for clouding the issue by its tactics. But if Ford won the election he should have the place. Good citizenship will insist on that even if he were to prove a much more dangerous ford than he has been in American political action.

MISS GOLDMAN SEEKS JUSTICE.

Emma Goldman, who for thirty-two years has preached anarchy—which is absence of courts and government and restraint—impetuously exclaims that she will fight deportation in all the courts.

Anarchy is nonresistant, but Miss Goldman fights. Anarchy presupposes the absence of authority; yet she will appeal to authority. Miss Goldman is a paradoxical peripatetic.

We can understand why Miss Goldman prefers to remain in America. It is so much easier being a martyr in America than in Russia. In Russia martyrs are 100 per cent so. They never come back after standing against the wall at sunrise. In America they are only about 2 per cent; 2 per cent martyr and 98 per cent box office attraction.

The other day we read a tightly written paragraph or two from Russia. The Red who at that moment happened to be in local authority was laboring to convince some minority leaders of the incorrectness of their theorizing. He first caused all their clothing to be removed so as to avoid rumpling it—clothing is valuable in Russia—and then sent a squad of economical Chinese fusileers to them, one bullet and a bash on the head being bestowed on each prisoner. During this thrifty performance the chief, being mindful of the neighbors, caused motor trucks to stand near by and their engines to fill the air with gas explosions by way of disguising the rifle shots. We don't know what the argument was about, but our money is on the Red.

Miss Goldman has exhibited a good deal of courage of a sort, but we do not believe she is eager to enter the forum against such convincing controversialists as we have just described. Miss Goldman is a safe radical. Experience has shown her that safety first is the only kind of radicalism that pays. She knows that so long as she sticks to America she will keep on breathing, even if she doesn't convert any one.

Miss Goldman is strong for her convictions, but not strong enough to argue with Reds who keep motor trucks detonating to drown rifle shots. We might suggest to her that some 75,000 Americans gave their lives in the war—gave them without a thought of the future—for a principle. Miss Goldman goes into intemperate ecstasies over her imprisonment for twenty months; twenty months of square meals and a good bed; and a $5,000 purse from her safety first admirers; martyrdom indeed!

No wonder she wants to stay in America, where one may be wrong and yet live on. No wonder she doesn't want to go back to Russia, where one may be right and pass out, to the syncopations of motor explosions. But if Miss Goldman wants America to emulate Russia and is in a hurry for the change, we can think of no speedier realization of her hopes of tumult than for her to go to Russia. The American upheaval will be some time in coming.

OUR LATEST NOTE.

A careful perusal of Secretary Lansing's latest note fails to rouse any hope either that the Carranza government will respect the "request" with which it closes or that our government is of a mind to have its "request" respected.

The document is legal argument, sound enough, we have no doubt. But we've had sound enough and to spare. Mr. Jenkins seems to be in the situation of the gentleman in the moth eaten parable who was told that he could not be put in jail. The trouble was he was in jail, and so is Mr. Jenkins. So far as Mr. Lansing's elaborate argument goes he will remain there.

Carranza can write as long as we can. He will write as long as Mr. Lansing is willing to respond in the same form. Even strong words have ceased to mean anything, because we have shown Carranza so often in the past that we are not willing to give them meaning.

Our dignity would be better served by silence.

We are sorry for Mr. Jenkins. We think he would be justified in demanding that if his government is not ready to force Carranza to release him, it might slip something to the jefe politico of Puebla to do so. We cannot see that this would be any more humiliating than our present futility, and it would be fairer to Jenkins.

THE ACTORS' FUND BENEFIT.

Chicagoans are urged to give hearty support to the Actors' Fund benefit performances which are to be given on Friday, Dec. 5. Most of the important theaters in America will stage such a performance, the gross receipts to be given to the Actors' Fund of America. The public is reminded that while the rule of charity and generosity is that of giving in return for pleasure in the knowledge of good done—actors being most eager participants in charitable activities—actors have the happy faculty of giving while receiving; giving of their talents and their labor while receiving for their unfortunate brethren. The actor solicits a dollar, but tries to give back a dollar's worth along with the pleasurable knowledge of a good deed well done. The investment is twice sound. And a good time will be had by all.

THIS ALONE IS ENOUGH.

Mr. Baker, secretary of war, was a pacifist, a believer in conscientious objection and in the league of nations in its most altruistic form. As secretary of war—and because he is secretary of war—he believes, in spite of all his predilections and idealism, in a strong army and in universal military service.

If ever a man were convinced against his will it is Secretary Baker. Every bit of his emotional and mental equipment was set against military effectiveness, and yet in his report to congress he recommends an adequate army and the military training of citizens.

He gives arguments upon which advocates of universal service may rest their case. He believes that in spite of any league of nations this nation will need an army. He believes that for citizenship benefits the nation should have universal service. He believes it should have this service for its safety. He does not think this means militarism.

If Baker is convinced, where is the reasonable objector?

REDISTRICT THE CITY.

Chicago's failure to eliminate the pocket boroughs has had a pleasant reaction. Citizens interested in cleaner politics are emphasizing the subject and we may mention that THE TRIBUNE has had a good many letters urging that redistricting be kept alive.

When the voters are impressed with the fact that some wards with fewer than 10,000 votes are electing two aldermen and exercising equal authority with other wards of more than 40,000 votes we believe they will be in some eagerness to correct the iniquitous gerrymander.

It hardly is correct to assume that gerrymandering will be stopped or avoided altogether. The "good" voters will be kept together. We needn't be so much concerned about that. It wouldn't do much good if we were. But chiefly desirable is that no matter what kind of voters they are they should not possess more authority than others. There should be an end of such rank inequalities as wards of 10,000 and of 40,000 voters. Let all the hand picked voters be in the same ward, if such is the unavoidable dictum of those who remap the city, but no fewer of them in one ward than another.

Editorial of the Day

WHO OPENED THE DOOR?

[St. Louis Globe Democrat.]

For some time a committee of the German reichstag has been holding an inquiry into the war. It began by trying to fix responsibility for beginning it. Documents very quickly revealed the fact that Germany began the struggle, and that it could have been postponed, if not entirely averted, had the German foreign office been willing to wait a little while for the inquiry other foreign offices urged should be made. The German military idea, as Hindenburg puts it, was that war was inevitable, that Germany was better prepared than her adversaries, and therefore there was no use waiting. Hence the rush for France through Belgium. Having accepted the conclusion that Germany was responsible for the beginning of the war and that individual responsibility for it was pretty well distributed among the entire military clique, with the kaiser as the chief, the committee then turned its attention to the discovery of why the war was lost, or rather to ascertain who was responsible for that why. The why itself seems to have already been accepted by the German leaders and people. That why was the entry of the United States into the conflict. What the committee is now trying to ascertain is who is responsible for opening the door and letting us in.

Your labors with the dawn began,
And ended late of nights.
If, as Professor Porta writes

How will you look to Pan?

Ah, yes, how will you look to Pan
And other worthy friends,
If Venus, Mercury and Mars
Work pull for private ends?
Fall for these second story stars
And Saturn, that old bore,
We'll see more freckles on your face
Than we have seen before. PAN.

CONCERNING the "occult wave" which is "sweeping the city," the Trib reports that "even our society women are interested"; which may be a knock or a boost—we suspect a knock. But what we had in mind was that this occult wave must be a great bore to the people "on the other side." For, as Dr. Collins remarked, lighting a contemplative seegar, just as a spirit gets comfortably settled on the edge of a cloud, word comes that some nut with a ouija board wishes to converse with him.

A Happy Happenstance.

[From the Guthrie, Ia., Times.]

What might be termed a fortunate accident occurred on State street about noon. P. W. Dowd, one of our druggists, had parked his car in front of his drug store, and when he attempted to crank it the brake failed to hold, and the car shot forward with great speed. Mr. Dowd could neither get in the car nor reach the brake, and the result was the fender struck Miss Gladys Watts, a high school pupil, who was passing at the time, and shoved her through the big plate glasss window in the Harry Riddle barber shop. When the car struck the building it stopped, but not before one wheel was demolished. Miss Watts went through the window, breaking it, but fortunately escaped without serious injury, which was almost miraculous. Had the upper part of the glass fallen, Miss Watts could not have escaped without being badly hurt, so it was indeed a fortunate accident so far as she was concerned.

PERIL IN ALKALINE FOODS.

ONLY recently bottle fed babies received a mixture to which soda had been added. The theory was that the curd formed from cow's milk was large and hard and unlike the small, soft curd formed from human milk. This was ascribed to the acidity of cow's milk as contrasted with the alkalinity of human milk.

At any rate, the formulas used called for a rather liberal use of soda or lime-water or some other alkali. Doctors Hess and Unger told the American Medical association that the practice is a bad one. Alkalies destroy some of the vitamines necessary for the welfare of the child.

Hess and Unger noted that a child fed on malt soup was not thriving. They put the child on milk and alkali and it continued to go down. They changed to milk without the alkali and improvement started at once and continued steadily. They then began a series of experiments with young animals and these experiments confirmed the theory that the alkali was the cause of trouble. In making malt soup carbonate of potash is used.

Alkaline malt soup extract is dissolved in water and then mixed with wheat flour and milk. The mixture is then boiled for three minutes. Boiling is destructive to vitamines. Boiling with alkali is more so.

In the discussion of this paper it was shown that while many children are fed on malt soup, few of them had scurvy. The explanation of this fact was that most babies get some form of vegetable or fruit juice early in life. It is the custom now to give orange juice or tomato juice to babies only a few weeks old and children much under a year are being fed finely mashed green vegetables, stewed apples, and prunes.

The conclusion was general that if babies were to be fed on prepared foods they should have fruit juices, soups, and finely mashed vegetables if they were to escape trouble.

Doctors Hess and Unger suggested that old fashioned cod liver oil was acid. The modern preparations are alkaline. This fact may account for some of the disappointments in the use of newfangled cod liver oil preparations.

This is a new angle to the literature dealing with the use of alkalies in foods. A government expert a few years ago protested against the custom of putting soda in cooking vegetables. It does improve the color and soften the texture, but it lessens the food values. It is especially destructive to the vitamines and it especially disturbs the mineral balance—and it is for vitamines and mineral balance that we eat vegetables in the main.

It has been proved that an over amount of soda in bread is harmful. Habitual eating of bread yellow from soda has been charged with causing pellagra.

All these attacks on alkalies in food for babies and adults are bound to have results. Ultimately the persons who take soda for dyspepsia may see in them a warning. Some of those who put lime-water or soda in the baby's milk and who cook vegetables and biscuits with soda should take notice right now.

LOCOMOTOR ATAXIA.

Mrs. Z. W. writes: "I have had locomotor ataxia for a number of years. I have taken extra good care of myself. The ataxic pains in my legs have left, but my limbs are still weak, or they do not seem able to hold my body correctly, and when I walk I cannot always walk straight. My legs seem weak and I walk like one intoxicated. It takes all my will power to try and walk straight. Naturally I am extremely nervous and it makes me melancholy at times when I realize my position. I am anemic and my lips are pale.

"I have taken beef, iron, and wine and hypophosphites of lime and soda. What can I take to make my nerves strong, also to enrich my blood? Do you recommend iron, and what kind? The lower part of my spinal cord is weak and I remember having quite a fall when a child. I have suffered with this trouble about ten years, but I seem to be getting better gradually; that is, can walk better. Is it possible that I can ever have absolute control of my limbs, and can I be cured? Liquor has always helped me, but when the effect died out I was worse than before."

REPLY.

Get a good book on physical education and spend some time each day training your muscles and nerves. Patience and persistence will be rewarded. Among good books on the subject are those by Frenkel and MacKenzie. Instead of taking tonics eat plenty of spinach and other green vegetables.

OF DOUBTFUL UTILITY.

L. D. B. writes: "Where can specific information be obtained regarding altitude, barometric pressure, etc., in such part of the country as in your opinion would be an advantageous place for a nervous rheumatic to live?"

REPLY.

I do not know of anything which indicates that change of climate is helpful in nervous rheumatism. There is no place to get just the information you seek. You might write to the weather bureau, though your inquiry would be a little out of its line. They will have the record of barometric pressures of any place you write them about. You can get information about altitude easily. The health department of the place you are interested in could give you that. Most health department annual reports have a chapter on "meteorological data."

MORE RIDING BEST CURE.

Edith W. writes: "Is horseback riding harmful for the kidneys? Recently a friend told me that it frequently brings on Bright's disease. I have often had pains in the lower part of my back after riding, but thought it was due to the fact that I have only been riding for the last three months [once a week]."

REPLY.

No.

THE FRIEND OF THE SOLDIER

The Friend of the Soldier will cooperate with the war risk insurance bureau of the treasury department, 1307 Stock Exchange building, Chicago, and with the committee of the Chicago Bar association on legal assistance to soldiers and sailors, 105 West Monroe street.

Address inquiries to Friend of the Soldier, Chicago Tribune. Answers to as many as possible will be published in this department. To insure a personal reply an addressed and stamped envelope should be inclosed.

No attention will be paid to anonymous letters.

ATTENTION, BILL O'HARA.

Charles M. Eck, 6615 Greenview avenue, Chicago, writes in as follows: "Two weeks ago, I left my note book containing my two army discharges, in a telephone book in a restaurant. Later a gentleman by the name of Bill O'Hara called me on the phone, saying that he had found them and would mail them to me. He has apparently forgotten to mail them and I do not know his address. I would greatly appreciate the recovery of them as I need them very much.

PAY DUE.

Mount Vernon, Ia., Nov. 28.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—1. Does the rating that a man has in his release from active service in the U. S. N. R. F. indicate that he has been confirmed in that rating?

2. If a man is entitled to the two months' base pay plus 10 per cent and has not received it, where is he to apply to get it? H. S. G.

1. Not necessarily.

2. Bureau of navigation, navy department, Washington, D. C.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 28.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Will you please tell me what is meant by extended insurance?

My mother is beneficiary of my insurance, but never received any certificate. Doesn't the government issue them? Will they do so on the new policy? M. M.

Extended insurance means that if the insured lapses his insurance after it has been converted he will be insured for the full amount of the insurance for a certain specified period; and if death occurs within this period the policy will be payable to his beneficiary.

In many cases the government did not issue a certificate of insurance. However, the beneficiary and the insured are fully protected. Every day it is paying claims to beneficiaries who have no certificate of insurance.

A certificate will be issued on this new policy and if yours is not delivered write to the war risk insurance bureau about it.

ORIZABA EN ROUTE.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I had a card from my son saying that he expected to sail on the Orizaba. He is not with any unit especially, like the infantry or artillery, but has been taken out of his own company. Do you know if there are any men unattached to any units coming home and if the Orizaba has sailed? He was in the motor transport corps. MRS. HALL.

The Orizaba left Brest Nov. 23, carrying several casual companies, which are units organized for convenience in traveling and are composed of men who at various times and for various reasons were detached from their regiments.

There is a motor transport company aboard this ship numbered 547. It may be that he was transferred to that unit. You will doubtless hear from the soldier within a few days.

CONVERTS POLICY AT 37.

Oak Park, Nov. 30.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Seeing your many answers about insurance for discharged soldiers I am going to take advantage of your department service and ask you to give me the rates on the government insurance when converted at the age of 37. At least I was 37 in August and suppose that I will pay at the rates that age requires. Where shall I send my papers to have the insurance converted? T. P. Y.

Premiums are paid according to the rates required by the nearest attained age of the insured, which is 37 years in your case.

The monthly premium rate per $1,000 on the different policies offered are: Ordinary life, $1.81; thirty payment life, $2.00; twenty payment life, $2.44; twenty year endowment, $3.44; thirty year endowment, $2.30; endowment at the age of 62, $2.72.

If you are in Chicago, bring your insurance certificate to the bureau of war risk insurance, room 1307 Stock Exchange building, and they will handle the conversion of your insurance. If it is not convenient for you to call personally send the certificate either to the Chicago bureau or to the insurance division, bureau of war risk insurance, Washington, D. C.

NEEDS MONEY.

Highland Park, Ill., Nov. 29.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—In April, 1918, I was shipped to Fort Williams, Me., but was discharged after being there over a week. My discharge was headed "discharge from draft, subject to call again." Now I would like to know if I am entitled to the $60 bonus, inasmuch as I was under military discipline and drilled while I was there and was discharged on account of varicose veins and being underweight.

Would also like to know if the government is making a loan to soldiers in amounts up to $4,000 for a period of years at a nominal interest. If so, could I take advantage of it, as I am building a home? J. J. P.

As you reported to camp you may collect the $60 bonus from the government. If you come in to Chicago bring your discharge with you and have the bonus bureau at 120 West Adams street make a copy of it and send it to Washington for the bonus. Otherwise you may send for it to the zone finance officer, Lemon building, Washington, D. C.

The $4,000 loan proposition is the tenor of the bill introduced in congress by Congressman Morgan of Oklahoma. It has not been passed yet, but if it does some provision would doubtless be included to cover your case.

INSURANCE NONTAXABLE.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I wish to keep the greater part of my war risk insurance, but first wish to know if it can be taxed as an income, presuming, of course, that it will pay dividends. F. A.

The proceeds of any of the insurance policies offered by the government are exempt from all taxation.

All policies on the permanent forms entitle the insured to participate in dividends which may be taken in cash or left on deposit to accumulate at interest.

NO STATE BONUS.

Pontiac, Ill., Nov. 29.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I belong to the regular army, but am in reserve now. When I enlisted I was living in the state of Mississippi. I have heard that many of the states are giving bonuses or land grants to soldiers, sailors, and marines who fought in the war. Is Mississippi included in the list of states giving any such reward? G. L.

The legislature of Mississippi convened in January of 1919 and at that time no provision was made to reward recent war veterans by land grants, bonuses, etc.

The legislature will convene in January, 1920, and these matters will be presented.

Letters for this department must be signed with names and addresses of the writers.

POSTERS TAKEN DOWN.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—[To the Friend of the People.]—As a daily reader of (the W. G. N.) THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, I ask your assistance in obtaining for me certain information—viz., in the last few days I have noticed large signs have been attached to the telephone, telegraph, and lamp posts throughout the city; these signs are very prominent in our loop district. The signs in question advertise a dance to be held by some Irish society on Nov. 26, 1919.

I am a taxpayer and voter of this city and my opinion is that we have a city ordinance that prohibits the placing of any sign or signs on telephone, telegraph, or lamp posts. If I am correct in this matter, a reply to the following questions is desired.

[1] Who is responsible for the placing of these signs?

[2] Was a permit granted to allow the placing of these signs? If so, by whom was the permit issued and under what authority?

[3] Can I place signs on telephone, telegraph, or lamp posts advertising a dance that is to be held by a society with which I am connected? If not, why and who will stop me from placing these signs? W. C. R.

We return herewith letter protesting against the placing of signs on telephone or telegraph posts throughout the city, especially in the loop district.

The signs complained about have been removed from the poles in the loop district.

THOS. H. BYRNE,
Superintendent of Streets.

TENANT LIABLE.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Former owner of this property has been making temporary repairs, although tenants in signing lease promise to "keep the premises in good repair." Have recently come into possession of property, and because of some trouble with a water closet in one of the flats the water overflows the bowl and ruins plaster on the flat below. Is it the tenant's duty to have this fixed? Can owner have it fixed and charge tenant for it? If tenant won't fix it, does this violate his lease, and what is necessary to make him vacate? A. H.

If the damage was caused by the carelessness of the tenant you can recover from him.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NICE PUPPY.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I would very much like to know whether there is any relief for us regarding a neighbor's barking dog? She is the worst kind of a nuisance. She starts in with her yelping every morning. It is positively nerve racking. The dog carries on that way off and on all day, and I certainly wish something could be done to stop this dreadful nuisance. I am just about getting over a severe case of illness, which left me with a bad heart, so, you see, this dog's noise almost drives me insane. This has been going on for two years. This dog has no license, and is not muzzled. They also deliberately sic her onto people. F. T.

Officers investigated this matter and found that the dog is owned by an elderly couple named Vettstead, residing at 5630 Wentworth avenue, who live alone and keep the dog for protection. Neighbors in the immediate vicinity were interviewed, but they stated they were not annoyed by the dog. The owner was served with a summons for not having a license for the dog. The owner promised to get a license and also stated he would see that the dog does not annoy any one in the future.

JOHN J. GARRITY,
General Superintendent of Police.

STAY WHERE YOU ARE, HUBBY.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Mrs. A. inherited some real estate in Illinois from her mother long after Mr. and Mrs. A.'s marriage.

1. What interest can her husband claim in this property in case she wished to sell it?

2. In case of separation or divorce, what are his legal rights in the matter?

3. Can she by will cut him off from any interest in the property? R. A. T.

1. A dower interest.

2. If the divorce is for his fault the dower is cut off.

3. No, not if he is still your husband.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CAN SUE AFTER A YEAR.

Hillsdale, Nov. 29.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—If a woman leaves her husband while they are living in Indiana and goes to another state—say Michigan or Pennsylvania—can she sue for divorce in that state? MRS. C. H.

Yes, after proper residence, generally a year. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A POLICEMAN IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Ireland, Nov. 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I have read with conflicting emotions an article in your paper headed "A Policeman's Life in Ireland." I don't know whether or not it was an Irishman who contributed it, but whoever he was he was mistaken when he states that a policeman's life in Ireland is a lonely one. He may be right where a small country station, manned by a sergeant and two constables, is concerned; but as a Dublin policeman I absolutely repudiate his statements. He states that the policeman is an outcast and a traitor, a thing shunned by everybody, like the lepers were in the days of our Lord. Why, then, is it that the Dublin police have had to shift their dance class from one hall to one more than twice as large in order to accommodate the crowds of colleens and male civilians who attend it? I may here state that the colleens who attend it are the most refined and educated, ranking just under the gentry of the country. So much for being a traitor and an outcast.

Your correspondent makes a lot of the fact that a few policemen have been shot in the back. Surely that must reflect on a man's patriotism. It certainly does on his courage. One can only liken it to things which happen from time to time in America. Paid assassins are roaming the country in the interests of a few political idiots who are trying to defame the glorious name of Ireland. Not so long ago the lord mayor of Dublin, himself a rank Sinn Feiner, in a speech delivered at the inquest on Constable Downing, who was murdered at 2 o'clock in the morning, denounced in the strongest possible language his murderers, stating that no Irishman worthy of his salt or with love of his country in his heart would commit such a dastardly act.

Certainly the police in Ireland are not popular. The nature of their calling naturally prevents them being so, but with the exception of a few wild hotheads they stand in much the same position as ever they held. At any rate, any men or women of my acquaintance, whether they hold Sinn Fein views or otherwise, are always glad to see me, take my hand and call me friend. What more can one man expect from another?

GEORGE FENNELL,
D. M. P., Store street, Dublin.

LIKES SENATOR SHERMAN.

Galva, Ill., Nov. 27.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—We kindly advise the "Disgusted Republican," Mr. Franklin E. Rickow, to leave the Republican party and leave us Mr. Sherman. We think we can get along nicely without Mr. Rickow, but we don't like to lose Mr. Sherman or even to muzzle him.

We wish also to learn the source of his information as to his misrepresenting the Republican party, which at present consists of a large majority of the people of Illinois. J. W. DEXTER.

UPKEEP OF COSTLY CARS.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—On leaving town this summer for three months I sent my touring car to the dealer of whom I had bought it, requesting that it be stored at a storage place which the dealer had recommended. On taking the car out I found it had not been jacked up or looked after in the slightest degree. All four tires were flat. Four new ones cost me $321. It then appeared that the car required a few repairs. The charges for these were moderate, only $33, but they were almost immediately followed by another lengthy bill, carefully itemized, the kind that the chauffeur, but not the owner, understands. No one appeared to feel responsible for the condition of my car. It was all right when it went into storage and a wreck when it came out. This bill was $103.

After going carefully over my garage bills for the last half dozen years, I am impressed by the large amount spent on the upkeep of an automobile. The upkeep is the main expense, as I know through disillusioning experience. Now I venture to offer some advice to would be purchasers. Do not buy until you know all about the mechanism of a car. Take lessons of an expert chauffeur. If you have sons or daughters oblige them to become experts. Hire a car for them to learn on, and by all means rent or buy your own garage, and keep your car and your supplies under your own eye. I am persuaded that only by following this course can you save your bank account as well as your temper. E. M.

"BEG YOUR PARDON."

Chicago, Nov. 28.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—THE TRIBUNE's effusively complacent editorial of Nov. 26, entitled "Beg Your Pardon," was interesting to those of us who know that any reputable paper corrects its errata as a matter of routine and without heroics. Possibly the writer of the charming editorial is unaware that Miss Margaret Haley made a special request that certain misstatements concerning her, published on Oct. 27, be corrected, which correction was chivalrously made in the "bulldog" edition which is never seen in Chicago. From this one may get a fair estimate of THE TRIBUNE's powers of noblesse oblige. Of course, your editorial was written for the edification of those unacquainted with your paper's well known altruistic tactics, but why write for a vanishing minority?

As for THE TRIBUNE's hunger for chastisement, the voters of Chicago have offered satiety, yet, to date, the dear paper hasn't registered graceful gratitude.

While I realize that, for obvious reasons, you will keep this little document entre nous, I take great pleasure in signing myself, admiringly,

MABEL YOUNG,
One of the 2,000,000 Chicago imbeciles who are "on" to THE TRIBUNE.

POOR PAY MOST FOR CAR FARE, MAYOR CHARGES

Attacks State Utilities Board and Traction Ruling.

"The poorer you are, the more you must pay."

The above, in the opinion of Mayor Thompson, is the gist of the most recent of the public utilities commission's traction rulings. At the close of yesterday's council meeting both the mayor and Corporation Counsel Ettelson "lit into" the "traction barons" with renewed vigor.

"The public can't expect much from the public utilities commission because they are appointed by the governor and consequently are not responsible to the people," said the mayor.

"The people can't reach them. If they could the commission would not act as it has. The day is coming when at the proper time and place the people and the mayor will reach the commission, however."

Quotes Supreme Court.

The mayor then referred to the following sentence from the state Supreme court decision in the case of the Schiller Piano company vs. the Illinois Northern Utilities company, decided June 18, 1919:

"The public utilities act of this state has no relation to the public health, safety or morals, but was enacted to protect the public against unreasonable charges and discrimination and to promote the general welfare."

Commenting on the language of the decision the mayor continued:

"When you read what the Supreme court has said and then review what the public utilities commission has done, you want to laugh, though it is no laughing matter.

"In spite of the decision and in spite of our protests the company continues to rob the people of $40,000 a day in paying dividends on watered stock, though it refused before the board of review to pay taxes on the same stock.

"The recent fare order providing slight reductions if ten and fifty ride books are purchased is in line with the other orders of th board. We hear much from persons in the traction barons' class about the reds who are menacing the nation. Who is creating the reds?

Poorer Can't Save.

"The men and women who can't invest $3 must pay 7 cents under the new order. The men and women who can invest $3 buy the books and save money. In other words, the order means that the poorer you are the more you pay."

Corporation Counsel Ettelson branded as false a statement attributed to Attorney Harry Weber of the law firm of Busby, Weber, Miller and Donovan, before Judge McGoorty last Saturday.

A statement of earnings under the 8 cent fare was presented yesterday to a meeting of the shareholders of the elevated roads. It revealed a deficit for August of $109,447.27; for September of $47,213.83, and for October of $4,488.23 in revenue to meet interest charges and other expenses. No earnings at all were available for dividends on $10,000,000 in 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock.

BANKING SERVICE

FOR JOINT SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

A Joint Savings Account is similar to a Joint Checking Account, excepting that it is not subject to check.

Two people can deposit or withdraw funds, carrying One Bank Account for Two, and making it handy for both.

This enables both to watch expenses and exercise economy and thrift.

Your savings account then is always accessible when funds are needed—the account passing to the living depositor in event of death of the other—without any court procedure.

SIX YEAR OLD BOY TO BE SOLOIST AT PAULIST CONCERT

MOFFETT PHOTO
JULIAN MERHOEFFER

Julian Merhoeffer, 6 years old, will be one of the soloists at the concert of the Paulist Choristers at Orchestra hall, December 12. This concert will help to enlarge the choristers' fund, which helps them take part in the various public affairs. About one-fourth of the choir are boys from 6 to 14 years. Julian Merhoeffer is one of four Merhoeffer brothers ranging from 6 to 14 years who sing in the Paulist choir.

Wife Denies All Charges Made by W. E. D. Stokes

New York, Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Mrs. Helen Ellwood Stokes filed an answer in the Supreme court today to the amended complaint of W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire realty and hotel owner, in his suit for divorce in which she denies every allegation of her husband. She says that from the time of their marriage in 1911 Stokes pursued "a deliberate and studied course of annoying, insulting, abusive, and cruel acts" toward her.

FEW 6 CENT CAR TICKETS USED ON FIRST DAY

Most Passengers Still Paying 7c.; 70,000 Books Sold.

Results of the first day's sale of the new street car ticket books indicate that Chicago's trolley patrons are going to bring the average fare below the 6¼ cent mark figured upon by the public utilities commission.

One hundred thousand of the fifty ride books, which provide a flat fare rate of 6 cents, were on sale at car barns, cigar stores, department stores, and drug stores throughout the city, and by 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon it was calculated that 70,000, sufficient for 3,500,000 rides, had been disposed of. By that hour all loop agencies had been cleaned out.

Passengers turned their noses up at the ten ticket strips which sell fo 65 cents.

South Side Sales Heavy.

The heaviest sale during the forenoon was on the south side, where the stockyards workers and university students were equally eager to avail themselves of the 6 cent fare.

"We are distributing the books as fast as they come from the press," President Leonard A. Busby said. "We will have another installment of 50,000 distributed by 8 o'clock in the morning, and by Wednesday we hope the daily product will be increased to 75,000."

Few Present Tickets.

Only one of ten passengers who boarded a North Clark street car in front of THE TRIBUNE building at 3 o'clock presented a ticket book, while seven of twenty persons who boarded a Cottage Grove avenue car at Wabash avenue and Adams street held them up for the conductor to snip off the blue passport. No tickets at all were seen on a five mile ride in the afternoon on a Belmont avenue car.

Conductors were pleased at the new arrangement. It saves them much time in making odd penny change.

The conductor of Ashland-Archer car 5042 declared last night he had been on duty since 2 o'clock in the afternoon and had not received a single ticket. The conductor of Archer-Thirty-eighth car 393 said he had taken in about 300 cash fares, 100 transfers, and eight tickets between 4 and 11 p. m.

G. O. P. SLOGANS FOR 1920 GIVEN SOUTH DAKOTANS

Americanism Main Plank; Lowden Presses Wood for Popularity.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER.
[United News Staff Correspondent.]

Pierre, S. D., Dec. 1.—The Republican party stands for a strong foreign relations policy and a determination to bow to no "supergovernment" that would emasculate powers of the American government and congress.

This was the message from the Republican national committee conveyed through former Congressman Chiperfield of Illinois to the South Dakota Republican proposal delegate meeting here today, in advance of tomorrow's state conventions.

"This means," Chiperfield said, "that the great issue to be supported by the Republican party is Americanism, and one of the great planks in our platform will be that the rights of American citizens shall be respected everywhere."

Slogans for 1920.

The following Republican campaign slogans for 1920 were among those outlined by Mr. Chiperfield:

A strong American policy to crush the enemies of our government and to correct conditions which men feel oppressive.

Women must come into politics on the same basis as men, sharing not only labors, but rewards.

Ending of interference with private rights and business and restoration of freedom of action.

America's dignity shall not be humbled in dust by a vacillating policy in Mexico.

Policy of ample living wage for an honest day's work for labor and reenactment of a tariff law to protect labor from abroad.

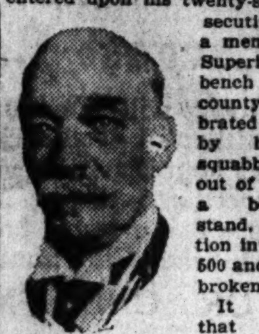
Indorsement of Gen. Pershing's plan for a peace army.

Sterling Represents Lowden.

While the plan is to give the indorsement to Wood, as the strength of the large counties has been concentrated in that direction, there are a lot of Lowden men in view.

State Treasurer Sterling of Illinois is leading the fight of the Lowden men for an instructed delegation, and if that fails the name of his leader will either go upon the minority ballot or he will be placed before the people at the March primary as an independent Republican candidate.

JUDGE BRENTANO BEGINS HIS 27TH YEAR UPON BENCH



JUDGE THEODORE BRENTANO

Judge Theodore Brentano yesterday entered upon his twenty-seventh consecutive year as a member of the Superior court bench of Cook county. He celebrated the event by hearing a squabble growing out of the sale of a bootblacking stand, a transaction involving $1,500 and an alleged broken contract.

It developed that the stand could have been bought a few years ago for a few dollars.

Greeks were the litigants and it was shown that one of them could not read his native language as presented in a duplicate copy of the bill of sale.

A feature of the judge's anniversary was that for the fifth time he assumed the honors of chief justice of his branch of the court.

THREE SEIZED AS CANCELED RAIL BOND SALESMEN

A woman and two men were arrested yesterday when detected selling canceled Rock Island railroad bonds. Search is being made for a fourth member of the "ring," which is said to have netted several thousand dollars.

Those under arrest are Mrs. Grace Dulin of 715 Rush street, Irvin Jordan of 3833 Broadway, and F. Earl Braden of 1058 Lawrence avenue, formerly an oil promoter of Tulsa, Okla. The fourth person is said to be B. H. Mason, vice president of the Orange County Oil and Gas company of French Lick, Ind. Assistant State's Attorney John M. Lowery has notified the New York authorities that the bonds are declared to have been obtained from Randall Foote & Co., a New York brokerage firm.

The "bond" salesmen were arrested after they had sold a $1,000 certificate to the United States Loan company for $400 and had returned to make another sale. Jordan restored the $400 to the firm, took the bond, and attempted to sell it to another pawnbroker, who called the police.

In the possession of Jordan the assistant prosecutor found a notebook in which was the name of Detective Sergeant John Buckley.

"Do you know this man?" Buckley was asked.

"I should say I do—his case comes up tomorrow morning in the Sheffield avenue court, where he is to be tried in connection with a $3,000 confidence game charge."

Buckley said he arrested Jordan in September on complaint of Richard Novotney, paying teller of the Baker & Sons Savings bank of Cicero. Jordan is asid to have induced him to take a $25,000 note signed by "Earl Braden" as security for $3,000.

Wood Alcohol Beverage Claims Another Victim

Wood alcohol is believed to have claimed another victim yesterday in the death of Julius Geuliski, 55 years old, 1235 West Thirty-first place.

BOARD CLEARS SCHROEDER ON 22 CENT SUGAR

Brother members of the Chicago "fair price" committee issued a statement yesterday vindicating J. H. A. Schroeder from the implied charge of profiteering in his admitted sale of sugar at 22 cents. District Attorney Clyne refused to drop investigation, however.

The case was brought to the federal authorities by City Food Director Russell J. Poole, who charged that Schroeder was one of ten retailers who entered into a pool to purchase 10,000 pounds of sugar at 21½ cents from Surkin & Portnoy, wholesale grocers.

Chairman A. A. Sprague of the Chicago committee made a last attempt to jar the administration in Washington into action he believes is the only sugar famine preventive by urging Attorney General Palmer to set a national refiners' price immediately. The statement clearing Schroeder says:

"With no base fixed and no attempts being made by the federal government at Washington to fix a definite price, it is, of course, impossible to make a fair price in definite terms or figures on sugar. Thus every jobber is limited to a maximum margin of ¾ cent per pound, and the retailer to a maximum margin of 1½ cents per pound. The retailer in question (Schroeder) did not add the maximum margin allowed and violated no law nor rulings of the fair price committee."

Victor output reaches normal

The shortage in Victrolas will soon be relieved

Plans for expanding the plant to meet the tremendous increase in demand have been fully matured and are under way—astonishing increases are assured within the next few months.

The value of the Victor Talking Machine Company's output for October was the greatest in its history. The unprecedented shortage of Victrolas will therefore soon be relieved.

During the war practically 90% of the $36,000,000 Victor investment was devoted to war work. This was responsible for the almost total disappearance of Victrolas from the market.

The armistice was signed in November, 1918, but it was not until March, 1919, that the Victor Company could clear its plant of war orders. And as it requires at least four months to manufacture Victrolas in the way the Victor Company manufactures them and in the way they should be manufactured, the rapidity of our recovery to normal output will be appreciated by all who know about manufacturing.

The Victor Company is the only talking machine company in the United States which has a complete plant for the manufacture of complete talking machines. All others are operated more or less by a system of contract construction—the fabricating system.

Years ago the Victor Company found it necessary to erect a large plant of its own in order to maintain its own standard of quality—VICTOR QUALITY.

NAVY DEPARTMENT
WASHINGTON

23 April, 1919.

Dear Sir:

The work carried on during the war by the Navy Department in developing anti-submarine devices and equipping vessels for anti-submarine operations had an important effect in restricting enemy submarine operations.

This result was made possible by the splendid assistance and co-operation of the many distinguished scientists, engineers, and business men who were in one way or another associated with the Special Board on Anti-Submarine Devices, which had been appointed by the Department to supervise work of this nature.

The Navy Department wishes to express its appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered by you in this connection.

Very truly yours,

Franklin D Roosevelt

Acting Secretary of the Navy.

Eldridge R. Johnson, President,
Victor Talking Machine Co.,
Camden, N. J.

As this plant happened to be exactly what the Government required to produce bombing hydro-aeroplanes and other submarine detecting devices, the Victor plant was chosen for the place of honor and sacrifice, while our less fortunate or less competent competitors were ignored and allowed to continue.

This is the true story, the cause of the shortage in Victrolas, which our competitors have not been slow to take advantage of.

Many of our exclusive dealers stood by their convictions, while some have not and have put in competing lines which in many instances are inferior. This was their privilege, but we wish to point out that the advertisements which are appearing announcing several lines of "standard" talking machines are misleading.

There can never be several standards. The shortage of Victrolas and the lure of greater profits has induced the endorsement of inferior goods.

The Victor Company is the original manufacturer of the Victrola and holds all the original patents. In the last twenty-three years the Victor Company has originated all the startling improvements in the type of talking machine which it manufactures. Other manufacturers have simply followed, manufacturing instruments which are largely imitative.

The Victor Company is the only company in the United States fully equipped to make standard talking machines of the gramophone type—the Victrola is a gramophone not a phonograph.

There is only one standard talking machine and that is the VICTROLA.

There can be but one standard in any line, and the Victor Company produces the standard in talking machines.

NOTE—By reason of the above circumstances it is important that prospective customers visit a store where Victor goods are given fair presentation.

$100,000 HUNTED BY COUNCIL TO CLEAN STREETS

By a resolution passed at yesterday's meeting of the city council the question of providing funds to clear away the accumulations of ashes, garbage, and other refuse in the city's streets and alleys was put up to the council finance committee.

The resolution directs the committee to provide $100,000 for street cleaning work in December, if that sum is available and can be expended legally.

"This year's appropriation is the same as that of three years ago," said Ald. Clark who introduced the resolution. "Since 1916 costs have increased 100 per cent. Therefore our appropriation is just half what it should be. On top of that we are facing epidemics of both scarlet fever and diptheria."

Introduce Zoning Ordinance.

The council made a start on its proposal to create industrial and residential zones. An ordinance creating a commission of fifteen members to be known as the commission on building districts was introduced by Ald. Kostner. It was referred to the committee on buildings and city hall.

Under the proposed ordinance the commission would consist of Building Commissioner Bostrom, who would be chairman; President Faherty of the board of local improvements; Health Commissioner Robertson; Corporation Counsel Ettelson; Ald. Kostner, chairman of the council buildings committee, and ten other members to be appointed by the mayor with council approval.

Powers of Commission.

The commission would have the following powers:

To employ a zoning engineer and staff, to make investigations and to prepare ordinances creating zones.

To publish maps, books, and pamphlets to inform the city council and the public generally of proposed zoning enactments.

To hold public hearings on proposed zoning measures.

To prepare ordinances to be known as "districting ordinances," dividing the city or parts of it into building districts and to formulate special building regulations applicable to the districts.

Licenses in Windows.

Ald. Clayton F. Smith introduced an order for legislation which would compel all licensed businesses to display their licenses in the windows, to make it easier for license officers to keep tab on them. The proposal was referred to the license committee.

The council passed an ordinance providing for the widening of Western avenue between Thirty-first street and Lawrence avenue and received another from the board of local improvements to widen South Water street.

Five thousand copies of the report of the special committee on constitutional convention proposals, made public last Saturday, were ordered published.

LEGION POSTS GET $8,498 OF CIRCUS PROFITS

Audit of the receipts of the American Legion circus, held last month at the Stockyards amphitheater, show that $8,498.18 of the proceeds were turned over to the Cook and Lake counties posts. The report would indicate that the promoters of the circus made nothing at all, although the disbursement audit is not available. Following is the authorized statement:

Space rentals	$ 6,967.07
Mail ticket campaign	13,930.00
Legion ticket sales	1,485.25
Ticket sales by salesmen	236.00
Box office admissions	2,870.20
Box seat sales	1,300.80
Reserve seat sales	1,905.00
Over and short	23.68
Concession receipts	4,866.20
Dance hall	332.00
Check room	76.50

Under the original arrangement, Convey and Smith, the promoters, were to turn over 25 per cent of the proceeds to the legion and pay the expenses themselves.

GARRITY TELLS LEGIONAIRES OF 'RED SQUAD' WORK

The efficient work of the anarchist detail of the Chicago police force was told to 400 members of the advertising post of the American Legion last night by Chief of Police Garrity. The work of "the bomb squad," according to the chief, averted scores of anarchistic outrages during and since the war. The chief pleaded with the legionaires to "keep their heads" and not try to take the law in their own hands.

Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood told of conditions in West Virginia, where soldiers have been called to preserve law and order in the coal strike zones.

Arnold Joerns was unanimously elected commander of the post. Other officers elected were: J. J. Finley, vice commander; Walter J. Stephens, adjutant; F. H. Jewell, assistant adjutant; Walter C. Barnes, treasurer; Fred L. Foote, assistant treasurer; Sewell Osgood, sergeant at arms, and the Rev. Frank Wilson, chaplain.

Books Well Chosen
Are Gifts of Enduring Influence

A book never grows old. Its cover may fade, its leaves may crumble with the years, but its influence lives on forever. Choosing books for gifts is an art developed instinctively as one senses in his selection the characteristics which form the friend one has in mind. In the choosing of books for gifts this Book Store offers a very definite service which is the sum of—

Thousands of books of genuine interest for readers of every age—

Thousands of books of high literary standards—

Thousands of books especially suitable for presentation—

Thousands of books of poetry, of the classics, books by modern authors, books of world interest by contemporary writers, books of romance, adventure, travel, scientific books, historical books, art books, educational works, books for young people, for boys, for girls, for little children.

In fact, this is a book store, conveniently accessible (on the first floor, with a direct entrance from the street on Wabash Avenue near Madison), wherein thousands of books are quickly reached, a book store "humanly indexed" by a corps of trained salespeople, trained to know books, trained to help make selections, trained to know these book stocks so that the books wanted may be secured with the least possible loss of time.

HERE are all the recently published books at prices as low as anywhere, and besides—here are thousands of other books much below the prices noted elsewhere because they were secured in publishers' surplus editions complete, produced when paper, binding and printing were not on the high cost basis noted during the past year.

Come to this Convenient Christmas Book Store today, for today is none too soon to choose the books one wishes to give this Christmas.

The following is a list of the year's most popular publications—those that are now being called for the oftenest at this store—and among them are the books you will very likely choose for your friends. Use this list for reference.

CHRISTMAS TIME HATE LEADS TO ARSON, SUICIDE

Crazed Man Burns His Brother's House and Kills Himself.

For twenty-five years harbingers of Christmas happiness have served only to inflame the hatred of Robert L. Reid, eccentric law clerk and laundryman, for his brother, William H. Reid, wealthy manufacturer. Yesterday morning's snow, preparing Yuletide scenery, proved too much for the crippled brain of Robert.

ROBERT L. REID

He took a revolver and a can of benzine from his little room in the rear of his laundry at 1249 North Clark street, hurried to his brother's home at 1525 Hood avenue in Rogers Park, and killed himself after setting fire to the house and terrorizing his two nieces.

Brothers Come to City.

Twenty-five years ago the father of the two men died in Tavistock, Canada. He left a small estate. Robert and William assigned their shares to their mother, who now lives in Detroit. The brothers, then young men in their early twenties, came to Chicago to seek their fortunes.

William, marrying soon after his arrival here, prospered and devoted his spare time to his two daughters, Hilda and Norma. He was successful in his business ventures and often offered a helping hand to his brother, then employed by a collection agency and making a fair salary.

Companions and habits of an unpleasant type lost Robert his position in 1914. In 1915 he was indicted by the federal grand jury for sending obscene letters to his brother through the mail. He defended himself before Judge Geiger, but a jury found him guilty and fined him $50. Unable to furnish $2,000 bonds, Robert had been in jail four months awaiting trial.

William paid the fine. Michael F. Ryan, then preparing to practice law, hired Robert as his clerk.

Nieces Flee from House.

According to Miss Hilda Reid and Mrs. Norma Reid Sainer, the nieces, Reid presented himself at the front door and tendered a package. The crazed expression of his eyes alarmed them and they shut the door and fled into the back yard. They heard him break the glass, enter the house, and rush through, knocking mirrors and lamps to pieces. Seeing smoke they called the fire department from a neighbor's, and just as the engines arrived two shots were heard within the home.

The firemen and police found that Reid had shot himself through the head.

In his pockets they found a sealed letter addressed to his employer. It will be opened at the inquest this morning at 6340 North Clark street.

Bead Bags

Now and then, here and there, among the bead bags made in France we find some bags singularily alight with that subtle and elusive quality which we, for want of a better name, call art.

Wrought by the patient fingers of some unknown artist hidden away somewhere in France, they are examples of that true sense of beauty of form, design and coloring which cannot be acquired or simulated but must be born within the one who creates and executes.

Such bags are rare, precious and much sought after. These find an outlet through us to those who appreciate the finer things. Be sure to see them.

ESSEX MOTOR CARS

The Roadster Now Shares

Particularly Suited for Business Needs; Dependable Transportation, Economy, Smart Appearance and Comfort at Moderate Cost

Praise for the Essex

The Essex Roadster is not only a favorite with those who love speed, power and grace above all.

A large class of its buyers are business men. They choose it for utility, for dependable transportation.

It becomes, in fact, a part of their business system. It must be on the job, keep all engagements on time, and be as responsible as an engineer's watch.

18,000 Owners Attest Essex Dependability

Durability, economy and train-like regularity are the standards set by Essex.

More than 18,000 owners have learned this advantage. Many cars run 16,000 to 20,000 miles without the least repairs. Such proofs multiply daily.

Today Essex durability is as unquestioned as its ability to out-perform any car of its weight, and to surpass many that are larger and cost far more.

Note, These Special Business Conveniences

The Essex Roadster is particularly suited for salesmen, visiting representatives, inspectors and others who must make widely scattered calls.

Though not large, the Roadster is commodious. There is plenty of room for passengers, and special arrangements for carrying sample cases unseen, and even a trunk if desired.

Consider comfort, too. Men who use a car much in business appreciate the value of riding ease. They know how motoring fatigue takes the drive out of a man, toward the long end of the day. They appreciate the riding comfort of the Essex. It is comparable to no other light car. Only among large, high-priced cars, owners tell you, will you find such smoothness of action.

But for such a car as might give you the speed, power and endurance of the Essex, you would pay far more. And you would not get the Essex advantages of nimbleness, low upkeep, tire and gasoline economy which result from its light weight.

Big Car Comfort Light Car Economy

The size of the Essex makes parking space easy to find. It allows free handling in crowded traffic, both important these days. The quick pick-up easily escapes "pocketing" behind slower cars.

Whether for long tours cross country, or for the nimbler requirements of city use, the Essex Roadster has proved itself worthy in endurance, hill-climbing, acceleration, speed and comfort. Its place is established among the fine cars of motordom, not only as a jaunty, graceful car for pleasure or sport, but also as dependable transportation that squarely meets the test of business.

Keeps Its New Car Appearance

Despite its pleasing grace the Essex is solidly built. Thorough care is evident in every detail of finish and appointments. The Essex keeps its appearance. Even after months of service its smartness of finish is practically unimpaired, and its performance as true, smooth and quiet as when new.

Come see the Essex Roadster. Ride in it. Try its paces. Whether you want it for pleasure or business, you will appreciate the reasons why more than $30,000,000 has been paid for Essex cars by more than 18,000 owners. That is a record that no other car ever equaled in its first year sales.

Some Great Mistakes

Which Advertisers Make

They Waste Millions of Dollars—Create Needless Disasters—Crowd Out and Discourage Wiser Undertakings

Suggestions by Lord & Thomas

This is the hey-day of advertising. The volume is breaking all records. The harvest is unprecedented, both in size and profit. Never were results so plentiful and cheap.

But this condition has developed widespread recklessness. It is inviting impossible ventures. It is leading to haste and incaution. And it is causing much calamitous waste.

One result is an acute paper shortage. Consumption far exceeds production. Now newspapers and magazines are reducing their sizes. Advertising rates are increasing. And many good ads are crowded out by ads which cannot pay.

The future result will be a reaction. Advertising will unjustly suffer through avoidable disasters. So the good of the line, in our opinion, calls for these warning notes.

The Waste in Display

A large share of the money spent on advertising is wasted in over-display. Men attempt to force attention which the subject should invite. This leads to oversize ads, big type, wide margins, etc., which contribute nothing to the selling power.

The cost of results is thus doubled or trebled. And the margins in advertising will not permit that.

The most valuable readers are the interested readers—people who seek what you offer. They are attracted by the headline—by the subject—as in everything they read. Then it is not loudness, but convincing presentation, which brings customers your way.

That is one thing, at this juncture, we are anxious to discuss. That alone, if the facts were known, would end the paper shortage and cut selling costs in two.

Hap-Hazard Advertising

Then there is advertising which is rash, unproved, unscientific. One simple test would show the folly of it.

It is wasting money, wasting space. And the end will be discouragement to wiser undertakings.

There are advertisers who are guessing, when one nowadays should know. And the average guess is wrong.

There is inefficient advertising—countless columns of it. It is all avertible. And inefficiency has no chance in this field.

Many possible successes are defeated through some fundamental error. Others are sacrificing half their results without knowing it.

To all these men we wish to lend a hand, in the interest of good advertising. And without any obligation.

The Neglected Chances

There are others who are overlooking golden opportunities. Advertising could multiply their profit and stability.

Absolute proof would cost little or nothing. It would be so clear that no one could deny it.

They look upon advertising as a speculation or a venture. It is not. There is nothing safer in all business than rightly-conducted advertising, or which brings such large results so quickly.

Some simply overlook it, through lack of information which experience can supply. We have records to discuss with such men which will be a revelation.

Our Position is This:

This Advertising Agency is 47 years old. It is one of the largest, if not the largest, in the world.

It has gleaned experience from ten thousand sources. Scores of the ablest men in advertising have contributed to its efficiency. Successes by the hundreds prove our principles and powers.

We stand for advertising which is right and safe, economical and profitable. We eliminate the hazards.

We are in a position where the good of the line serves us better than new accounts.

Publishers pay us to foster good advertising. And we owe a debt to everyone who needs advice or help.

Any advertiser, present or prospective, has the right to call on us. There is no obligation. We are simply earning our pay and serving ourselves when to any line we add security or profit. Four in five of the concerns we talk with could never be our clients.

We urge every concern, facing any problem cited here, to ask us for an interview. It may increase your profits, save mistakes or stop a costly waste. Just tell us when and where.

2-YEAR-OLDS' FIRST YULE UP TO GOOD FELLOWS

They Want Real Wooden Horses Instead of Broomhandle.

This will be the first Christmas for Walter and Edmund. They were too young last year to understand, but this year they both have that lusty longing of a 2 year old to bang a wooden horse about or hurl a big red rubber ball. Empty cigar boxes, bits of a broom handle, and an empty talcum powder box have been their only toys so far.

To visit Walter you must go down South Halsted street, almost to the stockyards, and climb two flights of stairs. There on the third floor in the rear you will find three rooms, clean, orderly rooms, that show Walter's mother struggles to give the little home as much of an air of comfort as can be obtained for a few dollars a week. That is all she is able to earn. She can't leave home to work in a factory, for she has to look after Walter and his 5 months' old sister, Jennie.

Father in Asylum.

The home shows evidence of the fact that once the family's income was more than just enough to purchase the bare necessities of life. That was before Walter's father was taken ill and was taken to the Chicago State hospital last March. Walter's mother has struggled along in the hope he would soon be able to come home, but last week came a message that his recovery is doubtful.

Walter doesn't know yet that daddy isn't coming home for Christmas and can't bring him that wooden horse, but he is going to get one just the same. Somewhere in Chicago there is a Good Fellow who is going to take him that horse and also a doll for Jennie.

Who Will Help Edmund?

Edmund has a little sister, Irene, born six months ago. They live with their mother in West Thirty-third place. Edmund's mother had managed well until last May, when her husband took her savings, amounting to almost $100, and disappeared. No word has been received from him since.

Edmund's mothr, with the aid of the county and charitable organizations, has kept her little family together, but the outlook for Christmas isn't what it should be. Who is going to give Edmund his first Christmas.

But neither Edmund nor Walter will get the full enjoyment out of the toys you take them, Mr. Good Fellow, if their little stomachs are empty on Christmas day. Remember it is up to you to supply a Merry Christmas. You are the only one toward whom they are looking for happiness on that day. When you fix up your basket it should contain not only the toys and candies and nuts, but the more substantial things for the Christmas dinner as well.

Dinners Also Needed.

Some Good Fellows this year have obtained the idea that gifts other than toys and candies are not needed. That is not the case. Hundreds of families will go without dinners on that day unless Good Fellows supply them. While the main idea is to make the kiddies happy, the mother or father should be able to share in that happiness by preparing a good, substantial meal for the whole family.

THE TRIBUNE takes this opportunity also to say that the use of its name has not been authorized in any schemes such as raffles, sales or other profit making enterprises, the proceeds of which are to be used in the Good Fellow work. THE TRIBUNE merely serves as an agent in bringing the Good Fellows in touch with needy families.

Giver Shares the Joys.

Of course, any clubs or organizations that desire to collect funds for Good Fellow work gladly will be furnished with the names of families. THE TRIBUNE also will see that the funds are properely expended, but it is preferred that the organizations themselves prepare the Christmas baskets and take them to the homes. This is the central spirit of the Good Fellow idea and THE TRIBUNE is sure its readers appreciate and are in sympathy with the purpose to hold the institution closely to its original purpose—to have the givers share the joy of the deed through their personal service to and contact with the needy children and families.

There are dozens of other such messages waiting here to be answered. The way to answer them is to call Central 135, 136, 137, or 138, or drop in and leave your name at the Good Fellow desk in the lobby of The Tribune building. Or fill in the blank and mail it or bring it in and find out what real fun is.

GOOD FELLOWS!

Here's a Form for You to Fill Out—It Will Aid You in Stating Your Plans for Helping the Poor Kids.

If you will be a Good Fellow on Christmas to some family of poor children in Chicago, please fill out the attached blank and send it to "The Tribune," Good Fellow department.

Visit Florida and Cuba for your Winter Vacation

The Ideal winter holiday should include a visit to both Florida and Cuba, lands of enchantment

From Key West to Havana is but a few hours by fast steamer. Your itinerary should include a week or more spent on the wonderful island.

You will be fascinated with Havana, so delightfully quaint, so refreshingly different, so replete with historic interest. A sojourn there is like a visit to a far country.

You'll be charmed on every hand by the unexpected — by ancient streets and old landmarks, Spanish architecture and strange customs.

You'll visit grim old Morro Castle guarding the harbor entrance. You'll overlook Havana lying molden in the sunshine, outlined against the blue sky and bluer sea in blending tones of pink, mauve, azure and gold.

There are innumerable trips by rail or motor through a fertile, undulating land dotted with fields of tropical fruit, vegetables and sugar cane, to famous places such as Matanzas with its Bellamar Caves, the Isle of Pines, Santa Clara and Santiago.

Everywhere myriad flowers, luscious fruit, novel scenes, new faces, tonic air. Things to see and enjoy and remember.

Attractive Winter Excursion Fares to Resorts in the South are offered by the United States Railroad Administration. For Fares, Schedules, Service, Maps or Booklet, "Florida and Southern Winter Resorts," apply to or write nearest Consolidated Ticket Office or

THOSE WHO DRINK OR LET IT ALONE TELL THEIR SIDE

Regard Prohibition as Caste Government, Blow at Liberty.

BY EYE WITNESS.

When democratic opinion thoroughly favors repression, that repression is likely, in the conditions of modern society, to be stronger and more uncompromising than under a monarchy or an aristocracy. It is difficult to observe without some disquiet the manifestly increasing tendency of democracies to consider the regulation of life, character, habits, and tastes within the province of government. LECKY.

("Democracy and Liberty.")

The label "unfair" has been pinned on this survey of the effects in Chicago, and elsewhere, of nation-wide wartime prohibition.

It is maintained by a considerable number of readers that the eight articles printed thus far have run to too much morgue and almshouse and bridewell and drink cure, and not enough to the always orderly but now somewhat drear Sunday afternoon Turners' concert and the rational drinker's genial dinner table.

Particular examination of the material printed would hardly bear out the charge that it has lacked comprehensiveness, but it is apparent that such is the impression it has made upon some minds.

The "Man Between" Speaks.

The impression seems further to be that it has been the intention to present the state of the once nearly ruined as now nearly beatific; meanwhile, in excess of joy over down and outers uplifted, ignoring the plight of the middlings of the social fabric who neither abused, nor were abused by, alcoholic drink.

Least of all, say those who cry "Unfair," have you gone into the fact of the inevitable weakening of the fiber of a people on the way to finding itself legislated into bed at one hour and out at another.

That phase of the matter seems to me to take the whole subject into the field of the speculative, and to speculate was distinctly not the intention of the survey. The intention was to keep it objective; to present conditions that were proved [whether they were improved or not] from places where they could readily be unearthed.

The laying of special emphasis was not the intention.

"How About Me?"

Anyway—a vehement man, but a man of sense and self-control, and sufficiently representative of a large social element to be typical, said:

"Come away from the barrel houses and the 'flops' and the morgue and write about me!

"My breakfast is nothing to me. By my choice it is meager, and by the necessities of business it is routine and hurried. Lunch with me is only taking in fuel.

"But dinner! Then I feed my face—relax, enjoy the pleasure of eating and drinking and linger over my three or four glasses of wine. It is the humanizing hour of the day for me with my family and my friends, and it's both a pleasure and a profit. It gives me a fresh horizon. I resent bitterly having that stimulating hour legislated out of my life."

That man and others—lawyers, men of business, clubmen and the like of them, who, in distinction to the down and outers, may be called the unhurt—talked copiously along these lines and from several points of view—the social, the economic and the ethical. For purposes of compactness their utterances will be summarized instead of quoted in detail.

See Liberty Affected.

In the first place, these people feel degraded by the new regimen.

They say that, great as the economic disadvantages of prohibition ultimately will be—and they made statements on that phase of the subject which I will give later—it will be in the sacrifice of individuality and the cramping of personal liberty that the greatest loss will be suffered.

They say that prohibition violently changes the historical currents of the nation to the opposite of what they have been, and that people will come to think of liberty in this land as something historical instead of as a thing alive.

How many people in Chicago, they ask, are drunkards?

Answering their own question, they say that the highest figure ever claimed by anybody was 50,000, but that even is an exaggeration, and that court records will not sustain such an estimate.

50,000 Against 2,500,000.

Then they ask: "Shall we legislate for the less than 50,000 and against the more than 2,500,000 decent, sober citizens, or shall we make the less than 50,000 live according to the laws made for the decent and the sober?"

Such was the premise of those who—and fairly enough—call themselves the unhurt, those who neither abused nor were abused by intoxicants.

In the course of the numerous talks, I encountered that attitude of mind, and the bitterest feeling, mostly among citizens of foreign birth or of foreign extraction, among Jews, a race notable for discreet use of intoxicants, and among American born citizens who have lived a good deal in foreign parts.

All three classes insisted that prohibition reduced the nation to government by caste and that such government disintegrated the fiber of a people.

Court's Decree Withers Oasis at Louisville, Ky.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 1.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals here today granted a writ of supersedeas directing that liquor sales in Louisville, Ky., under the injunction granted there by District Judge Evans, be stopped. The court legalized the sales made between the granting of the Evans injunction and the issuance of the new writ.

Why Your Files Need This Plan

How You Can Have Filing and Finding That Is Individualized to Your Business

If letters are ever lost in your office—you need the Amberg Plan.

If letters are ever mis-filed in your office—you need the Amberg Plan.

If units of correspondence are ever separated in your office—you need the Amberg Plan.

The Plan in a Nutshell

THE Amberg Plan is simple, complete filing and finding individualized to your business. It is more than filing cabinets, it is more than guides, cards and folders. It is more than these although it includes them. The Amberg Plan of filing and finding is based on scientific certainty, yet is so simple in practice that anyone who knows the alphabet can operate it. Even the boss can find a letter by the Amberg Plan.

The Amberg Plan is the culmination of 51 years experience in filing and finding correspondence. Founded in 1868, this company has been both pioneer and authority in its chosen field during the last half century. It has originated practically every fundamental improvement in vertical filing and finding.

There are two basic reasons why the Amberg Plan is the choice of 75,000 offices:

First—The Infallible Law of Correspondence

Correct distribution of file matter is the crux of any filing plan, for correct distribution means accurate filing:—accurate filing means quick finding. Amberg discovered how to make the distribution of file matter 99½% accurate.

An exhaustive study was made of American business names as they occur in business correspondence. Seven years were devoted to the monumental task of analyzing and classifying 205,920 business names. The final result showed to a certainty the percentage of recurrence of various alphabet letters and combinations of letters in filing. So exactly was the value of each letter determined that with 75,000 Amberg installations to check against, the error in distribution under the Amberg Plan is less than one-half of 1%. This is the Law of Correspondence, discovered by Amberg and exclusive to the Amberg Plan. It is the basis of every Amberg installation.

Second—How It Is Individualized to Your Business

Your business is different—different in policies, in methods. You have your way of selling, of billing. You have your own list of customers and correspondents. The Amberg Plan recognizes these differences.

With the Law of Correspondence as the foundation and after a study of your requirements, we build a Plan of filing and finding to fit your needs. The Amberg Plan operates simply and economically in your office because it is built for your business and yours alone.

You Should Investigate the Amberg Plan—

Because your business—like every other business—has its filing troubles. "Filing troubles" is only another way of saying "Time-and-money waste in your office." The Amberg Plan reduces these wastes to the minimum.

Because it individualizes to your own business scientific filing and finding principles.

Because it is simple to operate, sure in its results.

Because of the service that is part of it and and the guarantee that is behind it.

Because Amberg equipment can be installed with scarcely a ripple in your office routine.

Phone for a representative. Let him discuss with you your filing and finding needs. Let him show you what the Amberg Plan can do for you. No obligation on your part—a pleasure on ours.

YELLOW CAB SAFETY

Is a Public Asset

The absolute safety of riding in YELLOW CABS is one of Chicago's most satisfactory assets. It is a vast comfort to know that the man who is driving you home is a high-class business man and not an ordinary cab-driver.

It is a big comfort to know that you will not be over-charged; that you are safe from reckless driving; that you are protected from rough-neck tactics; that the cab you are riding in is clean and sanitary. When you know these things, your ride is a distinct pleasure.

This is due to our extreme care in hiring men. and it is to create such conditions that we demand to know a man's history clear back to his childhood before we employ him. That's why we want to know how men live, how they pay their bills, how they treat their families, how they are regarded by their neigbors.

Before any man takes the wheel of a YELLOW CAB, he has been proved and found true. Every possible question about his past and present has been answered and verified. It has been settled beyond the shadow of doubt that he is a desirable citizen who is qualified to meet the public and serve it as it ought to be served.

When we get these men of unblemished record and standing, we pay them better salaries than they can get elsewhere. And we share the gross profits of the Company with them.

When you ride with a YELLOW CAB driver, why don't you ask him about these things? Ask him why he is satisfied to work to the straining point to please his company. Ask him why it is that he never has any complaints to make against the institution.

Then, when he answers in his own way, you will understand why the YELLOW CAB is the greatest cab company in the world.

Did you ever stop to think what a splendid Christmas Gift a Yellow Cab Coupon Book would make for your friends or the members of your family? You can obtain them from the Yellow Cab Garage at 57 East 21st Street, either by letter or telephone, in two sizes $10.00 or $25.00. On each book purchased you are allowed a 2 per cent discount.

LETTERS REVEAL GERMAN UNION WITH KOLCHAK

Bermondt's Teutonic Troops, Fed by U. S., Go to Fight Bolsheviks.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[By Special Cable.]

[Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.]

RIGA, Nov. 29, via Paris, Dec. 1.—In Mitau today letters and papers were discovered in possession of Gen. Bermondt which indicate the invader of Lettland was working for the league of Denikine and Kolchak. The letters prove the close bond between these generals, who are united in a military political program for Russia.

One letter from Gen. Yudenitch, former commander of the Northwest Russians, referring to a proclamation issued by him that Bermondt was not a Russian, tells him to disregard these public utterances, which politically were necessary.

Russian soldiers captured by the Letts from the Bermondt forces were permitted to join Yudenitch. Two hundred are going to the front already. Arrangements are being completed for the passage of 6,000 of Bermondt's troops through Letvia to fight the bolsheviks. American Commissioner Gade is arranging to feed them.

TWO ARMENIAN REGIMENTS SHOT AFTER CAPTURE

LONDON, Dec. 1.—A dispatch to the Russian liberation committee from Rostove-on-Don reports that two Armenian regiments, fighting on the side of the White guards, have been disarmed and shot.

The dispatch says the list of killed fills three pages in the newspaper Isvestia.

The communication is signed by the commissary of the Turkestan soviet.

Report Red Reverses, Too.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The war office tonight, in a report concerning the situation in south Russia Nov. 25, says:

"Gen. Wrangle withdrew his line to the west bank of the Volga river, but the bolsheviki suffered heavily. One of their columns was surrounded and destroyed and all its transport and a number of machine guns were taken.

"The bolsheviki have advanced fifty miles south of Voronezh. Gen. Markoff's division counter attacked the bolsheviki on the Kharkov-Kursk railway, recaptured Rjava, and advanced to thirty miles southeast of Kursk, taking 600 prisoners and six guns.

"Gen. Denikine's army has now joined up with the Poles."

BOY'S 10 HARD YEARS LEAD TO HOPE IN HOME OF WARRIOR UNCLE

ANTONE LUCAS.

Antone Lucas' ten years have been painful ones. From the time he was brought into the Juvenile court, three years ago, bleeding from a beating that he said his father had administered, until the time that he landed in St. Joseph's Home for the Friendless, three months ago, he has been particularly unhappy. But yesterday, through the kindly offices of Miss Nellie Russell, the probation officer who has Antone's case in charge, he was started on the right road with a grin that indicated some measure of appreciation.

Antone's uncle was a soldier, partly disabled by wounds. He is Joseph Lucas of 1336 Washington street. He has a wife and two children to support, so he took a job in a coal yard, which is far too hard for him.

Still he isn't complaining. Instead, with all his other troubles, and living four in one room, he started out to find his nephew, who he heard was abandoned by his father.

Through Miss Russell he found the boy in the Home for the Friendless. Yesterday he instructed his wife to take the boy to their home.

"I hate to accept anything more from the Red Cross," the man told her. "They did so much for my wife and babies while I was in France."

But the Red Cross was ready again to help.

LESS HIS AGE, THE MORE HIS TERM

Joseph Aedenovc of 510 West Twenty-eighth street lied about his age when he was brought to the Boys' court after having been caught in the early morning hours standing under a viaduct with a gun in his hand. He was sentenced to the bridewell, and yesterday, his age having been discovered, he was brought before Judge Victor P. Arnold of the Juvenile court, and a writ of habeas corpus was requested.

"I'll sign the writ," said Judge Arnold, "if the parents of the lad will consent to an instanter hearing."

The parents agreed. Before he signed the writ the court had a delinquency petition filed, and then heard Joseph's case and sent him to the Cook County School for Boys till he is 21. This is longer than the bridewell sentence, which included a $200 fine. Joseph was to remain in the bridewell until March 23. Under no consideration is he to be sent back from the Cook county school until the last day of March, and he may be kept there much longer.

"There are too many gunmen loose in Chicago," said Judge Arnold. "The boy admitted to me in court today that he and another boy held up some men the night before they were found under the viaduct and got $4 from him."

REINBERG URGES BONDS TO MEET COUNTY DEFICIT

"For years Cook county has had to make its annual start with a heavy deficit. Conditions imposed by outside influences have prevented our shrinking this growing obligation. We set off this year with a deficit approximating $7,000,000, of which $6,350,000 represents tax anticipation warrants and the balance outstanding liabilities. In other words, about 85 per cent of the taxes to be collected this year already have been expended."

This is an introductory paragraph of the annual report presented to the county board yesterday by the president, Peter Reinberg.

That the county board will have a camp somewhere in the offing when the constitutional convention is held in Springfield is apparent from President Reinberg's statement that the county will look to that convention to supply a remedy for unsatisfactory county fiscal conditions. It is pointed out that less than 9 cents of the taxpayers' dollar now accrues to the county, and reference is made to the county comptroller's suggestion that a referendum be held on the proposed issuance of bonds to take up the accumulated deficit.

"We are now paying, I understand, 5½ per cent interest on tax anticipation warrants," Mr. Reinberg's message says, "and I know that a much lower rate could be obtained on such a bond issue."

Forest Preserve Seeks Title to Oak Grove Tract

The forest preserve district of Cook county filed a petition in the Circuit court this morning asking that the "central portion of the town of Oak Grove" be condemned, in order that the forest preserve may acquire title.

Underwear that is actually fashionable!

NEVER "bunches" under the clinging skirts of nowadays. Never creeps up! And no wonder. The fabric in Carter's Knit Underwear is so finely woven, so elastic that it stretches 'way out, then springs back into perfect shape. No wonder it never "bunches." And what a comfort it is to know that your underwear will always stay smooth.

Carter styles follow the season's fashions so closely that you can get underwear to go with every possible kind of outer clothes. Do you wish an undergarment to your ankle? To your knee? Wrist sleeves? Elbow sleeves? No sleeves at all? High neck? Dutch neck? Bodice top—with charming ribbon straps over the shoulders? Every one of these you can get in the sheer, soft Carter weave!

And every one has the lovely, double crocheted edge that comes only in Carter's Knit Underwear. The edge that pulls up smoothly around the neck; that lies so flatly all around your arm there's never the slightest "ruffle" to show through your blouse.

These are some of the reasons why particular women buy Carter's for themselves and their families year after year!

Carter's comes for men, women, children and infants in silk, lisle, cotton, merino and wool—all weights. Get your winter Carter needs today at any department store.

THE WILLIAM CARTER CO.

Isn't it comforting, in these days of clinging skirts, to know that you can get underwear which will not "bunch"?

For every kind of dress there is a Carter's Knit Union Suit. For high necks, for low; for filmy blouses and evening dress. No clumsy turning in, no embarrassing exposure of underwear at the neck.

Such satisfactory underwear for girls and boys. As soft and sheer as the famous Carter infant shirts, yet made to stand hard wear.

Extracts from Janitors' demands for next year:

(a) Increase of 57½% over present wage scale.
(b) In case an owner is not a member of the Chicago Real Estate Board he must pay the Chicago Flat Janitors' Union $25.00 to have each case submitted to the permanent arbitration board.
(c) All work of any kind is to be done by members of unions. This means as an example that you must have your windows washed by members of the Window Washers' Union.
(d) If flat rents for $60, or over, janitors' wages are to be doubled or quadrupled.
(e) All janitors must be members of the Chicago Flat Janitors' Union.
(f) The janitor must be provided with healthy living rooms, to be decorated every two years, all free of charge, or the owner must pay the janitor $7.50 to $15.00 a month extra.
(g) If basement rooms are rented out the owner must pay the janitor $50.00 a month extra.

* * * * *

The foregoing extracts are only part of the janitors' demands.

For five years janitors' wages have been increased annually until they are now receiving from 75% to 125% more than they did five years ago. The new demands will bring the increase close to 180%.

No owner can fight the janitors' organization single handed.

A payment of fifty cents for each flat owned by you will supply the Strike Committee of the Chicago Real Estate Board with funds urgently needed to protect your interests and will make you an affiliated member.

Calumet Steel and Better Farming

ONE thing played a more important part than any other in the American farmer's ability, during the war, to "feed the world"—modern American-made implements that multiplied his reach and enabled him to cultivate square miles as easily as he used to cultivate acres.

Calumet High Carbon Rail Steel has played an essential part in the perfection of modern farm implements and tools. In combination with other grades of steel and iron it has made possible America's tremendous production of food with a minimum outlay of man-power. It has enabled the American farmer to work a larger acreage intensively.

Farm implement manufacturers specify Calumet High Carbon Rail Steel because they've found it of uniformly high quality, physically and chemically pure, rolled to meet the specific needs of their industry. And hardly less important, they like the policy of prompt, friendly co-operation which it is our privilege to extend to them.

We invite the correspondence of farm implement manufacturers and others who can use tough, springy, rail carbon steel in any form—angles, bars, flats, tubing or concrete reinforcing.

INSULL TO GET DEMANDS OF GAS WORKERS TODAY

"Big Tim" Picks Men to Ask for One-Third More Pay.

A committee of eight gas workers will wait upon Samuel Insull, president of the Peoples Gaslight and Coke company, today with a demand for an increase of 33 1-3 per cent for all of the men employed in the manufacture of gas in the vicinity of Chicago.

Although nothing was said about a strike, if the head of the corporation refuses the figure set by the men, it was generally understood that such an action was being planned.

"Tim" Murphy, known as organizer of the street cleaners' union, was the prime factor behind the meeting last night. When between 200 and 300 gas house workers arrived they found the committee already picked.

"Here they are!" shouted Murphy. "Good men, every one of them, and I'll lick the man who refuses to back them up."

None offered to take up his challenge, and Murphy continued:

"The gas company has volunteered a 10 per cent increase. 'Volunteered' is right. What does that mean? The men who volunteered to go to war were to serve only until the emergency is passed. That's the kind of an increase the company gave. When the emergency is gone they'll take it back."

The union claims a membership of 2,000.

ECHOES

The Chicago Political Equality league war camp community service committee, of which Mrs. Julius Reynolds Kline is chairman, will entertain sixty wounded marines and sailors from Great Lakes today at the State-Congress theater through the courtesy of the theater management. After the performance a dinner will be served at the Khaki and Blue club. Tomorrow the committee will entertain fifty wounded men from Fort Sheridan at Powers' theater through courtesy of the management.

Members of the First Tank corps post, American Legion, will elect permanent officers at a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the assembly rooms at 120 West Adams street. The post will also take up the question of the establishment of a permanent home.

Fort Sheridan and its work in rehabilitating wounded soldiers was discussed by Col. W. N. Bispham, its commandant, at a meeting of the Dames of the Loyal Legion society of the state of Illinois in the Congress hotel yesterday.

Girls of the Sig-Yeo, a post of the American Legion, formed of young women who served as telephone operators, or "yeomanettes," in the navy, will substitute for the former weight of war duties a party at the Khaki and Blue club Friday night.

Plea for Receiver for Brokerage Firm Dropped

After two days of argument before Judge Charles M. Foell in the Superior court on a motion of minority stockholders of the brokerage firm of W. N. Macqueen & Co., 16 South La Salle street, for a receiver for the concern, Attorney Lewis C. Coyner, representing the minority stockholders, yesterday withdrew the motion. The bill, which also asks for an accounting of the affairs of the concern, still stands, and it is probable that a hearing will be held before a master in chancery within a short time.

TRAYLOR WILL NOT JOIN CABINET

Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First Trust and Savings bank, yesterday announced his inability to accept the cabinet position of secretary of the treasury, "even if it were offered to him." He said:

"I have felt deeply flattered by the efforts of my friends to have me appointed successor to Secretary Carter Glass. The movement to give me this preference began during my absence from the city, and I am most keenly sensible of the great honor that has been done me in even suggesting me seriously for the highest financial post in the gift of the nation.

"I feel, however, that it has now become necessary for me to state that I should be unable to accept the offer of the position even if it were to be made. My present connections are so recent and entirely satisfactory that I feel I should be deserting a post in which I had not completed even my apprenticeship if I were to sever my relations with the First Trust and Savings bank and the First National bank at this time."

A Simple Way to Reduce Wrinkles

Remember that wrinkles and bagginess of cheek or chin are due to the muscular tissue losing its strength and shrinking. The skin is then too large in area to fit such tissue smoothly. It wrinkles or sags.

To remedy this condition, there's nothing so effective, so quick acting, as a simple wash lotion easily made at home. Just get an ounce of pure powdered Saxolite from your druggist and a half pint of witch hazel, mix the two and bathe your face in the liquid. This at once tightens the skin and solidifies the underlying tissue—which, of course, smooths out the lines and draws in the sagging skin. It also stimulates capillary circulation, bringing natural color to faded cheeks.

On Secret Service —in Mexico

BY DR. PAUL BERNARDO ALTENDORF.

[Late Agent A-1 in the Military Intelligence Department of the U. S. Army.]

FINAL ARTICLE.

HERE I was, surrounded by enemies, hundreds of miles from the nearest place of safety, with only one possible avenue of escape, the railroad. All trains were being carefully watched.

I was determined not to be taken alive. My .45 caliber automatic pistol was concealed under my shirt beneath my left arm, with the shirt unbuttoned so that I could draw instantly. If attacked I proposed to kill as many as possible, but to make sure of an opportunity to blow out my own brains at the last.

I kept out of sight until the next train was ready to start; then went to the conductor, an elderly American, and, speaking in English, offered him 10 pesos to let me ride in the caboose. I made the pretext that I wanted to sleep.

Long, Hungry, Weary Ride.

All day long and into the night I rode without food. Before leaving Mazatlan, a friend at Guaymas had been notified that I should be at Empalme on a certain train, and he was asked to have men meet me there to convey me secretly to Guaymas in order that I might hand over reports.

During the ride I occupied my time in making my report. I wrote a farewell message to Byron S. Butcher, secret service officer at Nogales, which read: "Good-by, I have done my duty." I kept this in my pocket, knowing that the Mexicans would forward it if they caught me. I reached Navajo at 1:30 p. m. I saw Dr. Schleck on the platform and hid in the washroom for twenty-five minutes. I reached Esperanza at 4 p. m. Calles' soldiers were stationed there. I saw Calles' son and several officers I knew well. Again I took refuge in the toilet, waiting with drawn pistol. Soldiers searched the coaches, but did not look into the caboose.

Dash in Dark to Hotel.

The train did not arrive at Empalme until 9:30 p. m. I slipped off the side opposite the station and took the darkest route to the hotel. The friends I had expected were not there. I returned to the station and arranged for a motor car, such as section men use to take me to Guaymas. I reached this place and delivered my papers at the home of my friend.

I arranged for permission to ride on a freight train which left Empalme ahead of the morning passenger and I sat in my room and smoked until the train left. The train poked along for three hours, when it took the passing track at Escalante to let the north bound passenger go by.

Here I was to change to the caboose of the passenger. The passenger conductor was an American who knew me as a German agent. There was a railroad official on the train who saw to it that the conductor did not know too much. He put me in the caboose and locked the door.

Nerved for Crucial Test.

We reached Hermosillo at 1 o'clock. Here would be the supreme test. Gov. Calles had been told that I was expected on that particular train and every one in town was down at the station. I saw Col. Garcia and several other officers at the station. I did not dare risk the toilet room.

Under the cupola of the caboose is a closet in which ropes, jacks, buckets, and other things are kept. I crawled into this and closed the door. I remained in the hot hole for half an hour. I heard men come to the caboose door and rattle and shake it. When we were well outside the town I ventured out.

We reached Nogales at 1:30 o'clock in the morning. There was no one there to meet me, and I spent the night on a bench in the plaza. On Monday, May 13, after fifty-one days of constant peril, I found means to get across the line into God's country and safety.

I learned then that Maria Hass, German agent, was the one who had sent information about me to Calles.

Betrayed by German Girl.

I have reason to believe that she had been told of my identity by Capt. Lacomb. When I accused him of this I got no satisfaction. Neither did I get any satisfaction when I reported his conduct higher up.

On the day of my arrival I set out on the Carl Jacobson case, already narrated, and secured his arrest.

I remained at Nogales until July 1, doing what I could to check the flow of German agents to and fro across the border. Then I was called to testify against Waberski.

While in San Antonio I became a member of the Tannhauser Halle, the leading German club. Here I found a lot of I. W. W. schemes hatched and nurtured by the Germans.

Ludwig Reuter lived here, and had been under surveillance for eighteen months. I was asked to take his case. I called on him and told him I had been sent by friends. I mentioned several trivial things that led him to suppose this was so, and he took me into his confidence.

Spy Surrenders Papers.

I told him that I had orders to take him to Mexico City to make explosives to be used in the coming war against America. He gave me all his important papers to be forwarded, and I bought a disguise for him. I even put on a false beard for him, but it was not fastened well, and when officers approached us on the train near Brownsville his beard got askew and betrayed him.

We were both arrested and handcuffed. We denied all knowledge of each other. Reuter later offered to betray me as a dangerous German agent in return for his own immunity. The last I heard of him he was in Fort Sam Houston.

Count St. Pierre Fromento Rodynko, who claimed to be a Bohemian, lived in San Antonio at this time. He had tried to get a commission in the department of justice, but failed. He was kept under observation for a year. It was learned that he was in communication with German Consul Bopp in San Francisco.

I obtained an introduction to him as a wealthy mine owner in Mexico and later I confessed to him that I was a German spy. I asked him to contribute his skill in explosives to the Fatherland. I said I was willing to pay him $500 a month. The count swallowed this.

I invited him to my room on several occasions to talk things over. In the room was a dictagraph. He gave me all his secrets. He was really an Austrian and had studied plans for destroying whole armies by sending germs of deadly diseases to be distributed by spies. He had figured out just how many microbes it would take to destroy 500 000 men.

The count said he knew all about the Zimmermann note. He said if Mexico was willing to go in with Germany that Japan would go in without fail. He said he had opened avenues through which he could obtain the formula of the wonderful poison gas which the American army was preparing to use.

$25,000 Stage Money Seized.

Unfortuntely, about this time I was arrested and the authorities kept all of my $25,000 stage money. The count came to my defense, but he was arrested also and taken to Fort Sam Houston. The count pretended to be ill and stayed in the hospital for months to avoid trial. To the best of my information he escaped anything worse than internment.

Affairs of less interest to the general reader kept me fully occupied until April 1, 1919. Then the war, being definitely over for the present, at least, and the military intelligence department in time of peace offering few attractions to an active man, I resigned.

The End.

TWO MEN STRUCK DOWN BY AUTOS DIE OF INJURIES

Deaths in Chicago by Automobiles in 1919 to date	383

William H. Bartlett, 70 years old, 5642 Kenmore avenue, died at his home last night from injuries received Oct. 1, when he was struck by an auto at Hollywood avenue and Broadway. The machine was driven by a young woman who said she was "Miss Howard" of 1739 Chase avenue. He was taken to his home by the police and his injuries were not considered serious.

John Brockman, 2235 West Twenty-first place, died at Mercy hospital early yesterday morning. He was struck by an automobile several days ago. The police are still looking for the driver of the machine. Brockman's injuries were not considered serious at first and he was taken home. Two days later he was removed to the hospital. The accident occurred at Twenty-second street and Oakley boulevard.

The snow caused an accident at Canalport avenue and Halsted street yesterday. Sister Dolores of St. Anthony's hospital, hurrying across the street, head lowered to protect her face from the snow, was struck by the motor truck driven by Fred Heinl of 2155 West Monroe street and severely injured. She was taken to St. Anthony's hospital. The driver told the police he did not see the nun in time to avoid the accident.

3 MINUTE BANK ROBBER BAND STEALS $9,000

Four armed bandits, one of them believed to be a former soldier, entered the Twelfth Street State bank, Berwyn, yesterday morning and after forcing three employés and a woman depositor into the vault, escaped with $7 500 in currency and $1,500 in Liberty bonds.

As they left the bank, Joseph Vistain, the cashier, and his son, Joseph Jr., fired several shots at the fleeing men. One of the men was seen to fall, but his comrades assisted him into a waiting automobile which was driven east in Twelfth street.

The robbery occupied less than three minutes, Vistain said.

CHICAGO ISN'T SO BAD, SAYS NEW DIVORCE JUDGE

Happy Wedding Bells Drown Triangles, Rush Discovers.

Judge G. Fred Rush, recently elected to the Circuit court bench, heard divorce cases yesterday for the first time—and he says the old town isn't so bad after all.

"Of course, you see lots of women downtown, some working, some hurrying to the divorce courts, some to the Court of Domestic Relations," he said, "but if you ever started a procession of happy wives, satisfied mothers, and contented daughters, it would take a week for them to pass a given point.

"Certainly there are a lot of divorces, but the number is not too large in comparison.

"We hear every day of the ruined romances, the shattered homes, the broken hearts, but no one ever speaks of the happy marriages and the tranquil homes.

"Get out and look around Chicago. Why, you'd be surprised! I believe there is more marital happiness in Chicago than in any other town in the country. Chicago is a marrying town—that's why it is such a remarkable city.

"You'll find more happiness in Chicago's vest pocket apartments than you ever will in Chicago's Gold Coast mansions, and there is plenty of happiness there, too.

"There are bound to be many divorces. Any town that marries 200 couples a day is bound to have divorces. You can't help it. But the number is not large when you think of the successful marriages. And this is the 'marryin'-ist' town in the country. A pretty good old town, after all."

Tired of Life, Woman Takes Poison; Cuts Throat

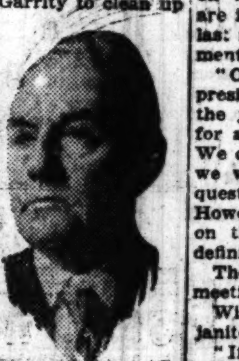
When Mrs. Flora Cohen's relatives came home last night they found her lying dead on the floor. She had cut her throat with a razor after swallowing poison, it is believed. She left a note asking the police to blame no one but herself. She was tired of life. Mrs. Cohen, who lived in Detroit, was visiting her brother, J. Weiss, 2025 Haddon avenue, and his family.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

Otto Brauer, who was shot during an alleged attempt at robbery in a drugstore at 1801 West Huron street, was represented as having said that he lived with his sister, Mrs. Emily Rosenheim. Emil Rosenheim of 209 West Goethe street explains that he is the husband of Brauer's sister, and that Brauer never has been a member of his household.

ILLNESS KEEPS CUDMORE OUT OF CRONIN'S SHOES

Capt. William W. Cudmore, assigned by Chief of Police Garrity to clean up the vice and gambling in the Warren avenue police district, informed the chief yesterday that his health will not permit him to accept the job. Instead Capt. Cudmore requested and was granted a thirty day leave of absence from the department. If his health, which has been poor for more than a year, does not improve by Jan. 1, he expects to resign from the department, he informed the chief.



CAPT. WM. W CUDMORE

It was the conditions along West Madison, West Lake and West Adams streets that cost former Capt. Thomas F. Cronin his place in the department two weeks ago.

In the face of the announcement by Capt. Percy B. Coffin, president of the city civil service commission, that the detective bureau will be investigated in a series of open hearings, Chief of Detectives James L. Mooney yesterday turned over to Chief Garrity a report of the bureau's activities between Nov. 1, 1918, and Oct. 31, 1919. The report shows, according to Chief Mooney, that the bureau cannot be justly accused of inefficiency.

The 179 men, including three lieutenants, assigned to the bureau made 5,026 arrests, on which there were 2,649 convictions, in the year covered by the report. In the same period 486 fugitives from justicee were returned to other cities. Arrests for burglary numbered 148, convictions 122; for murder, 75; convictions, 49.

JANITORS ENTER PARLEY; REFUSE TO TALK WAGES

Working Conditions Discussed; 'Take Reasonable Offer.'

Representatives of the Chicago Janitors' union refused yesterday to discuss wages with the Chicago Real Estate Board committee during the preliminary conferences to avert, if possible, the threatened strike.

They did, however, consent to talk on various working conditions which are in dispute, and hope was held out last night on both sides that an agreement might result.

"Of course," said Ivan O. Ackley, president of the Real Estate Board, "if the janitors insist on their demands for a $2 raise, there will be a strike. We can't afford to pay that raise and we will not. When we brought the question up they refused to discuss it. However, we have made some progress on the other questions, but nothing definite has been accomplished."

The committees will resume their meeting at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

William F. Quesse, president of the janitors' union, said:

"If the flat owners' offers are reasonable we wil laccept. Their original offer of 25 cents increase was ridiculous—we were forced to turn it down."

FIGHT FIRE ON 17TH FLOOR OF MASONIC TEMPLE

Hundreds of late diners in the loop witnessed the efforts of firemen in extinguishing a fire which broke out in Corinthian hall on the seventeenth floor of the Masonic Temple shortly after midnight.

The fire, believed to have been caused by crossed electric wires, was discovered by Patrick Lahey, a night watchman, about an hour after a Masonic lodge meeeting had been held in the hall. The building is occupied by a large number of wholesale jewelers and diamond merchants, who have millions of dollars' worth of Christmas stock on hand, and the firemen fought heroically to prevent the flames from spreading to lower floors.

The loss was estimated at $10,000

Andrew Morse, president of A. G. Morse & Co., 210 North Halsted street, $25.

SOMETHING LIKE "THE FOLLIES"

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

"THE SCANDALS OF 1919" is a bright reflection of the Ziegfeld extravaganzas, a gay flurry of ragtime and motion, women and vaudeville, assigned to a travesty of life as it simmers in the fleshpots. Its youthful impresario, Mr. George White, being a dancer of renown, makes that art the leading function of his show, and the jazzes, the jigs, and the shimmies blossom as the rose upon a desert libretto. Pictorial ladies, in sly half-nudity, ornament the scene and sing, refuting the aphorism that music hath charms; and two comedians, Mr. Lou Holtz, in blackface, and Mr. Lester Allen, enliven the exhibition with the humorous antics of the modern revue.

So definite is the influence of Mr. Ziegfeld, the maestro, upon his pupil, Mr. White, that there are times at the Illinois when you imagine you are seeing the "Follies." Especially is the "Scandals" reminiscent, as Miss Ann Pennington operates pleasingly upon the eye, wafting her gentle and undressed legs about in movements half-demure. Then there is the inevitable satire of Broadway plays, and the stodgy allegory with which all metropolitan revues are introduced.

The last time I saw the "Follies" it was rather a cleanly thing, with Mr. Ziegfeld confining his audacities to accentuation of the beguiling shapes of his female employés. Mr. White might take a further hint from this formula. He might remove another atom or two—not more than that—from the clothing of his company, and cut out a blue joke here and there. As Mr. Holtz said of the story told to him by the chorus girl, the book could be cleaned up a trifle.

These minor improprieties are infrequent, however, and they are what the public orders. In case Mr. White decides to accept my suggestion I trust his amendments will not be made upon the dress of La Sylphe, a dancer whose casual contortions are graceful, decorative, and thoroughly visible.

Mr. Holtz is a black faced clown of the intimate type, something after the fashion of Mr. Jolson and Eddie Cantor, and he became a great favorite last night with the audience, spoofing Mr. White and being a general cut-up. Mr. Allen's insinuating effeminacy is often humorous, and the two of them manage to provide much more fun than is usual in plays with music. No memorable songs occur, but Miss Adele Ardsley and Mr. Al Sexton warble a ballad or two engagingly.

The scenery and curtains, patterned after Mr. Urban, represent the customary locations—Broadway outside of Rector's, the planet Mars, a restaurant, a dressmaker's shop, a hotel lobby, and all the rest. Mr White vies with Mr. Ziegfeld in the richness of his costumes and the beauty of the girls who are in them. He seems to have a flair for the sumptuous and the sensuous and the nerve to indulge it. His brisk and agile dances, sometimes with Miss Pennington, sometimes alone, were last evening a spirited part of the play. It is safe to say that there are only two things of the kind better than the "Scandals"—Mr. Ziegfeld's show and the one with Al Jolson in it.

Combination in Vaudeville.

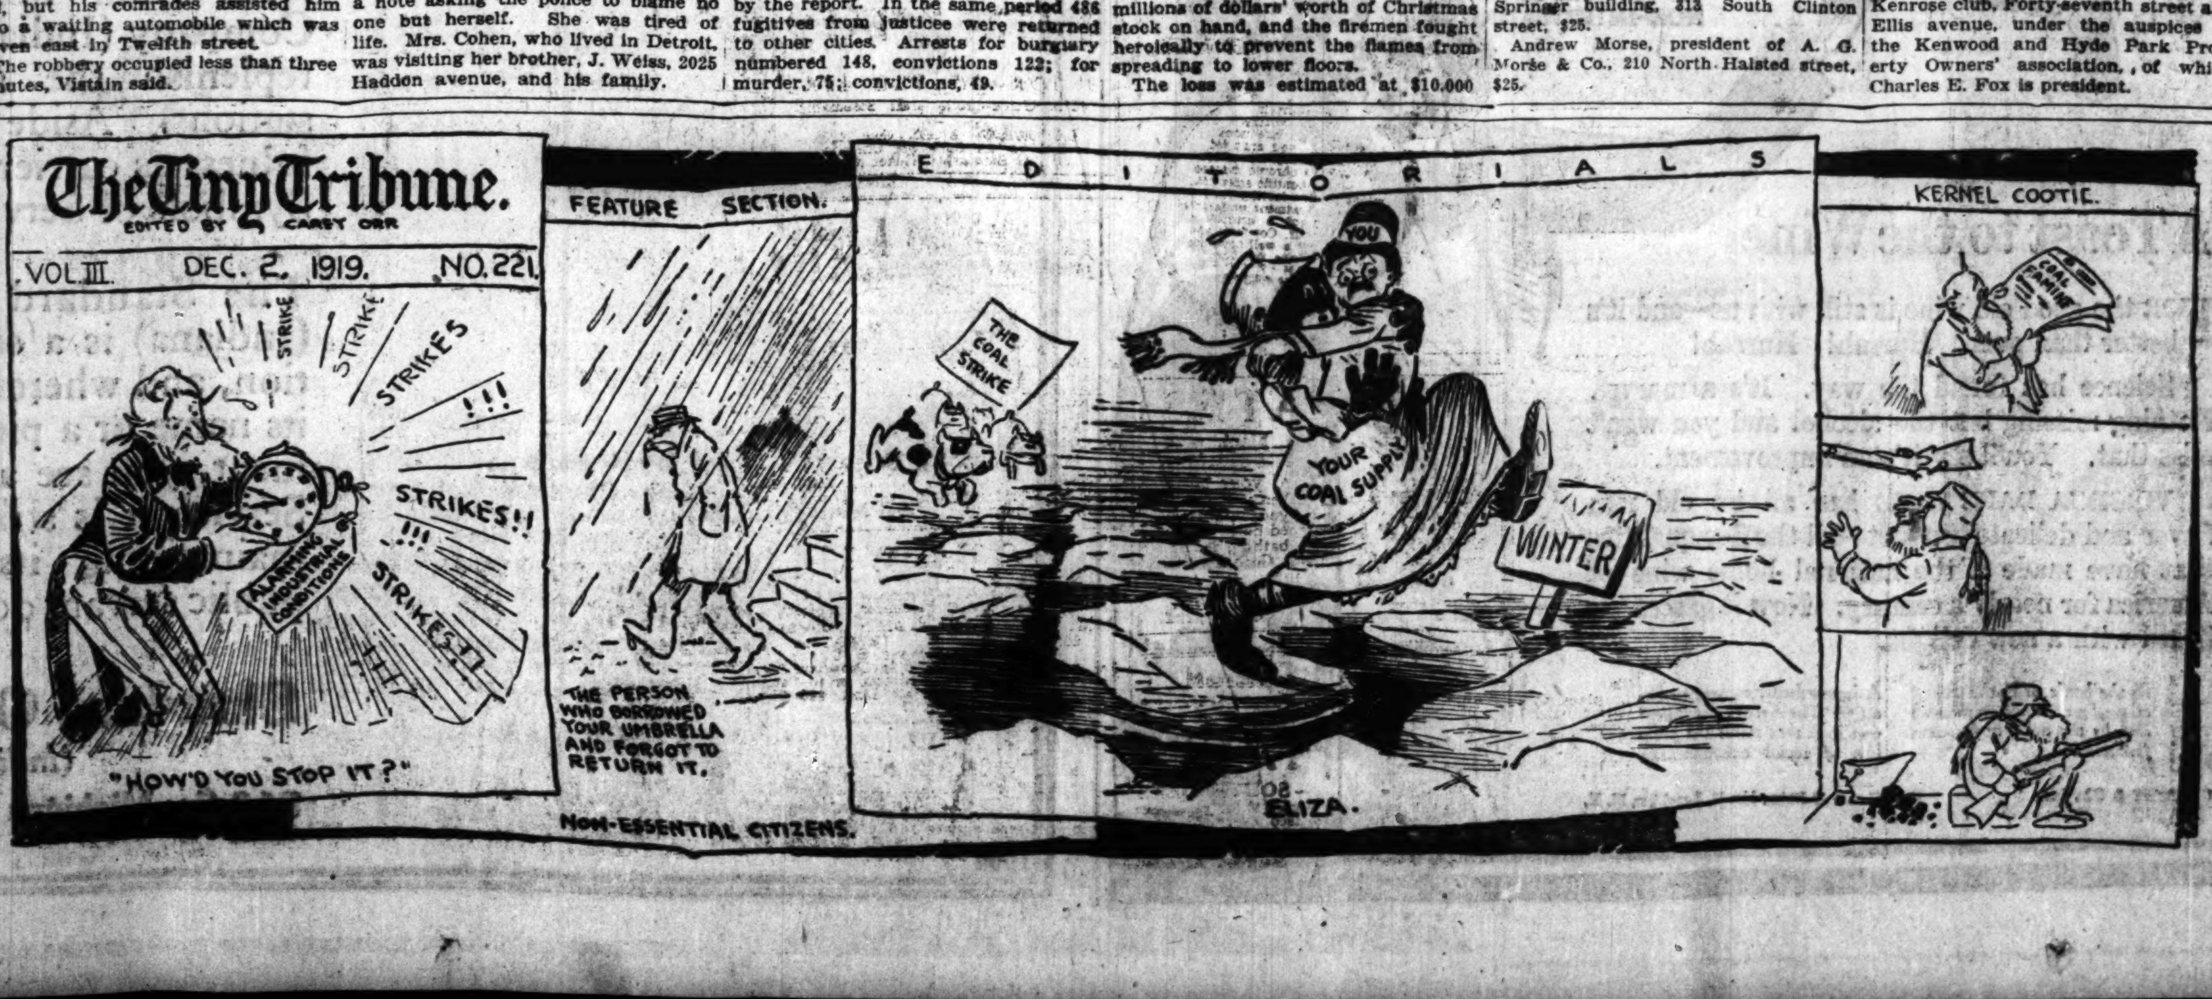
New York, Dec. 1.—[Special.]—One of the biggest deals in modern vaudeville, said to represent an investment involving $50,000,000, was announced today when it was made known that the forty vaudeville theaters operated in the west, the middle west, and the south by the Orpheum syndicate and allied interests are to be combined into one company under the name of the Orpheum Circuit, consolidated.

Among the cities affected are Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Memphis, New Orleans, Denver, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Seattle, besides towns in Canada. Martin Beck, who is to become president and managing director of the new company, and M. Meyerfeld Jr. represent the controlling interests.

HYDE PARKERS TAKE UP NEGRO PROBLEM AGAIN

Property owners of Kenwood and Hyde Park will meet again tonight to discuss means of keeping the overflow of Chicago's black belt out of their districts. Invitations have been sent to all property owners east of Cottage Grove avenue, between Thirty-ninth street and Sixtieth street.

The meeting will be held at the Kenrose club, Forty-seventh street and Ellis avenue, under the auspices of the Kenwood and Hyde Park Property Owners' association, of which Charles E. Fox is president.



WRECKS OF WAVE OF OCCULTISM FILL HOSPITAL

Too Strong for Minds of Many, Psychopaths Declare.

LETTERS FROM THE SPIRIT WORLD—NO. 2

TO THE CITY EDITOR:

"You have agreed that sanity consists in sharing the hallucinations of your neighbors." — Evelyn Underhill, writer on mysticism.

There are 19,000 insane in the public institutions of Illinois. They are gentle and dangerous, saints and devils, bewildered children and shuffling senility. You meet them and they pass with lowered eyes.

Thousands of them hear the "voices" and see the "faces." Some smell sweet wild odors of the heavenland and catch strains of celestial music. Some, as Sabina, the Amish maid, fight evil faces which appear and reappear on the troubled screen of their mind.

Whether the insane are sane and whether the dead are alive is too much of a problem for one reporter in spiritland to solve. There seems to be a shadowy borderland between so-called sanity and insanity where the phenomena of spiritism are at home.

What Is Reality?

The human mind was made to work with a certain set of concrete things, and when its gets beyond these, when it enters the realms of the mystics and glimpses the towers of the eternal city, it may be thrown from its ordinary balances and left in a wilderness where good and evil wander, seeking prey.

What is reality? What is insanity? Answer these questions and then get on with this pioneering work. It is ignorance to say that because of frauds there is no communion between the earth bound and the spirit forces, or that because there are insane sensitives and spiritists that this is a high road that leads to insanity.

If there is a window through which mortals may peep at life beyond the grave, as so many think they are doing every night in Chicago, it is well to search for the right opening instead of opening all the casements of the human mind to alien winds. The intellect finds a cold landscape here. The heart finds a flame.

Opened the Wrong Window.

I would like to tell you of a woman who opened the wrong window. She is 36 years old, unmarried, and has fine brown eyes and a quick, bright, expressive face that is shadowed at times by a fear which she understands is unreal, but which she cannot shake off.

Something began to trouble her when she was a little girl. She felt as if it was brushing her arm at times and it was close to her while she was at school or at home. She outgrew this, but when she was 18 years old she began to visit mediums. Something in this atmosphere attracted her. She should have led a simple and quiet life, for she was one of the large class of "borderland" persons, somewhat sad and timid and inclined to melancholia. She did not know that this was a pressing down upon her sensitive brain of the melancholy, dissatisfied spirits that cannot find courage or wings to take them to the higher sphere.

Mystery Dangerous.

This mystery was as dangerous as poison to her. She was told that she was psychic and would make a good medium. She laughed and went her way, but the mischief had been planted. Years later, only a year ago, when life was not running smoothly with her, some unhealthy curiosity thrust her forward again into the shadow world.

I talked to her in the presence of a doctor at the psychopathic hospital. She was quiet and "clear" in her mind at the time. There were a number of other patients about the big room, some busy and apparently normal, others walking back and forth in nervous haste, driven by some unseen urge.

When we entered the examining room with the woman there was a noise of some one rapping overhead. A shadow of fear crossed the woman's face and her eyes had a puzzled, hurt look.

"Do you hear that?" she asked, pointing upward. We assured her it was a sound made by mortal hands.

"Did you think it was the spirits rapping?"

She looked ashamed and said she thought maybe we were trying to frighten her.

Ouija and Pencil Writing.

"I stopped going to mediums until last year," she said, after telling of her girlhood experiences. "Then I went to many of them. I took up the Ouija board and tried pencil writing but could not get any messages.

"The mediums I remember are Mrs. Biedermann, 1708 School street; Mrs. Frank, 1827 Barry avenue, and Mrs. Schmidt, who lives in a basement on Robey street near Barry avenue.

"Mrs. Biedermann frightened me. She wanted me to go into a dark circle. I would not do it. She showed me a picture of a medium taken with her spirit guides."

"Mrs. Frank told me of her Indian guide and this frightened me. There were knockings of spirits heard at Mrs. Frank's.

"Since then I have been trying to frighten the spirits off. Last winter I felt something come to me and it seemed to be crushing me. I guess I went clear out of my head. The mediums had told me my father and

CHICAGO NOW PLAYING N. Y.—IN HOT STOVE LEAGUE

MAGNATES FUSS AND FUSS OVER MEETING PLACE

Lawyers and Judges and Injunctions—All Are Cutting Into B. B.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

"Chicago vs. New York" ought to be the title of the latest legal drama being staged by the two American league factions dealing with the place for holding their annual meeting next week.

Regarding the injunction proceedings instituted by the Comiskey-Frazee-Ruppert faction against holding the meeting in Chicago, President Johnson intimated yesterday that he expected the reply made by his lawyers would convince the Gotham judge that no legal grounds existed for restraining the majority of the club owners from convening in Chicago if it was their will to do so.

No Counter Action.

Asked if an injunction would be sought to restrain the minority owners from attempting to hold a meeting in New York, President Johnson said that had not been considered, as he believed the matter could be handled without permanently tying up the entire league in the courts in that way.

President Comiskey left at noon yesterday for New York to attend a meeting of the directors of the league, at which the only known business to be considered is this attempt to prevent holding the league's annual meeting in the Old Roman's native city.

Insufficient notice was urged by President Johnson's New York legal representatives in securing a postponement of yesterday's hearing in the New York vs. Chicago controversy. His formal reply was prepared by his local attorney yesterday and forwarded by mail to New York.

Always Held Here.

Outlining his defense against the injunction, Johnson said:

"Before issuing the call for the annual meeting I consulted the club owners, and five of them favored Chicago. Our annual meeting has been held here continuously since 1912, and always has been called by the president of the league. The constitution fixes the time, but does not name the place. It does not confer authority to issue the call on either the president or directors, but I have always done so after determining the wishes of the majority of the club owners.

"Why the three directors wish to hold the annual meeting in New York I do not understand, as it is much more convenient to convene in the city where the league's offices are located. I understand the directors have asked to see various papers, documents, and records of the league. They can have free access to all of them in my offices, but it would entail much inconvenience to transport them to New York and back."

Commy Quiet on Matter.

Before leaving for New York President Comiskey of the White Sox said: "There is nothing to give out at this time except that the New York club intends to protect its property rights, and if any meeting of the league is to be held it desires that all clubs be present."

Whether or not the Sox owner would return to Chicago this week or remain in New York until after Dec. 10, the date of the disputed annual meeting, could not be ascertained.

HEARING IS POSTPONED.

New York, Dec. 1.—Hearing on an injunction suit against Ban Johnson, seeking to prevent him from holding the annual meeting of the league in Chicago Dec. 10, was postponed today for a week. The owners of the New York club have been granted a temporary injunction and seek to make it permanent.

DEPLER CHOSEN ILLINI CAPTAIN

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 1.—John C. Depler, center of the Illinois team and All Conference selection of a majority of experts, was elected captain of the 1920 Illinois team tonight at a football banquet given by the Champaign Rotary club. Depler's home is at Lewistown, Ill.

COLUMBUS SENDS BID TO SKATING BODY FOR ROLLER RACES

Over 100 members attended the annual meeting of the Western Skating association, held at the Hotel Sherman last night, at which all last year's officials were reëlected, with a new board of control.

President Julian T. Fitzgerald was selected to lead the association again. The other officers are: First vice president, James P. McWhirter; second vice president, John W. Shaffer; secretary and treasurer, Clayton Everett.

Board of Control Members.

Members elected to the board of control were Edward A. Mahlke, Frank M. Kalteux, James P. Nolan, Otto J. Krejci, James J. Galligan, Harry Hahn, Carl M. Neilsen, Oscar J. Olsen, Charles Hansen, Hans Hansen, and John B. Schreiber.

A letter from a Columbus, O., rink bidding $1,000 for the privilege of holding the national roller skating races was read. Bidding was not closed, but the offer was received with approval.

Sleipner Races Jan. 1.

The Sleipner Athletic club will hold its first race New Year's day, and has added a new class, known as the AA class, for skaters who have not won a first, second, or third place in the A class.

Proviso Champs Planning to Make Trip to Boston

Plans are practically completed for the Proviso lightweight football team, champions of the Suburban league for the last two years, to go to Boston, Mass., for a post-season gridiron battle with an eastern school. The name of the school will remain unknown until the evening the team leaves for the east.

ALLEN DEFEATS NEW YORK STAR IN CUE TOURNEY

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 1.—Bennie Allen, Kansas City, defeated Louis D. Kreuter, New York, 125 to 54, in the first night match of the national American pocket billiard championship tournament, which opened today. Twenty-six innings were played, Allen collecting a high run of twenty-three and Kreuter one of eleven.

E. Ralph Greenleaf, Wilmington, Del., won the other night match from Joseph Concannon, New York, 125 points to 75, in twenty-six innings. Greenleaf had a high run of sixty-eight, while Concannon's best effort was thirty-nine.

In the afternoon matches James Maturo, Denver, and John M. Layton, Columbia, Mo., were the victors. Maturo defeated Morris Fink, Philadelphia, 125 to 71, and Layton beat Edward I. Ralph, Hightstown, N. J., 125 to 103.

CUE MEN COMPLETE PLANS FOR TOURNEY OF STATE AMATEURS

Conditions under which the Amateur three cushion billiard championship of Illinois will be staged were determined at a meeting of the tournament committee yesterday at 623 South Wabash avenue. The state will be divided into fifteen sections, as in the pocket tournament, the winner in each district getting a district championship gold medal.

Twenty-five Points in Prelims.

The preliminary tournaments will be at twenty-five points and the finals at thirty-five. Preliminary tournaments must be finished by Jan. 7 and the final will be held at Chicago about Jan. 10.

The revised rules adopted by the players, who took part in the national three cushion championship at Cleveland, will be used.

Big Local Field.

The Chicago district, in which there will be five sections, will have a big field of entries, including players from the Chicago Athletic association, Illinois Athletic club, Hamilton club, and other organizations.

West Virginia Full Back Sets Plunging Record

New York, Dec. 1.—[Special.]—While there are no figures with which to make comparison on the performances of other players, West Virginia has to offer for her retiring football captain, Full Back Rodgers, a record that is believed to excel that ever made by any individual. In his three big games in November—Princeton, Rutgers, and Washington and Jefferson—Rodgers was directly responsible for gains aggregating no less than 799 yards.

HARVARD ELEVEN WILL TRAVEL TO PACIFIC COAST

Faculty Approves Game at Pasadena on Jan. 1 with Western Team.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 1.—The faculty of Harvard university has approved acceptance of an invitation to the Crimson football team to meet a western team, yet to be selected, at Pasadena, Cal., New Year's day, according to a dispatch from Cambridge, Mass., received today.

Unofficial Approval Given.

The dispatch said that Dr. Ed H. Nichols, who with "Pooch" Donovan has charge of the conditioning of the Harvard players, following a conference with Fred W. Moore, graduate manager of athletics, and Coach Robert Fisher, announced that the faculty had approved the trip and an acceptance of the invitation would be forwarded as soon as the Harvard endowment committee could act. This committee, Dr. Nichols was quoted as saying, already has given unofficial approval.

Leaves Cambridge Dec. 20.

According to plans announced by Dr. Nichols, the dispatch said, the team would leave Cambridge Dec. 20, arriving in Pasadena Dec. 24, in time to become acclimated.

Notre Dame Off Dec. 19 for Game at Portland

Notre Dame, Ind., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—The Notre Dame football squad, nineteen strong, will leave Chicago Dec. 19 for Portland, Ore., where it battles the Oregon Aggies Christmas day. The faculty of the university opposed the post-season trip, but Coach Rockne prevailed upon the authorities in view of the educational value of the journey. Stops will be made at points of interest. The contest at Portland is a fitting climax to the most successful season in Notre Dame's gridiron history. Twelve monogram men will be lost through graduation and prospects for a strong team next year are not encouraging.

Find Big League Player on Penn Football Team

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Another black mark has been written across the 1919 gridiron page of the University of Pennsylvania with the announcement that Pard Pearce, Red and Blue half back, was barred from the Penn-Cornell game because of professionalism and not scholastic troubles.

Pearce played shortstop last summer with a National league club and is still on its reserve list according to his own admission. He was obtained, it is said, from a team in the Three Eyes league, where he played under the name of Dwyer.

Symbols of Service

FROM your seat in the train as you journey through the Middle West, you see at almost every station you pass the great, white storage tanks of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). These bulk stations are maintained to insure prompt delivery of petroleum products to the people in that community. To them these tanks are Symbols of Service.

As you motor over the highways and byways of the countryside, you pass the dark green tank wagons of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) busy delivering petroleum products from the bulk stations to the farmer's tank. To the farmer these are Symbols of Service.

At convenient points in city, town and hamlet you find attractive service stations, beautifying ugly corners. These are maintained for your convenience and to you they are Symbols of Service.

You stop at a railroad crossing to let a train pass. In it are a number of tank cars, hurrying forth from the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) refineries to replenish the stocks at bulk stations. Aside from their usefulness as carriers, these also are Symbols of Service.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a service organization, and wherever you may see its name or a piece of its equipment, you see a Symbol of the Service it is striving to give in maintaining its position as a public servant doing its full duty.

BURMAN WINNER OVER DUNDEE IN TEN ROUNDS AT RACINE

CHICAGO BOXER HAS EDGE IN FAST, ROUGH GO

Joe's Punches Prove a Bit Too Accurate and Effective for Foe.

Tribune Decisions

Decisions of Tribune representatives are:

At Racine—Joe Burman beat Mike Dundee [10]. Frankie Jumatti and Johnny Hagen, draw [8]. Earl Olsen beat Johnny Bresnahan [8].

At Canton, O.—Jack Britton knocked out Billy Ryan [11].

At Detroit—Lew Goldie beat Johnny Rose [10].

At Memphis—Battling Gahee beat Cyclone Wilson [3]. Kid Roux beat Leo Patterson [8].

At Philadelphia—Pete Herman beat Patsy Johnson [6]. Jimmy Socco beat Young Robideaux.

At New Orleans—Bill Brennan stopped Tom McMahon [2].

At Pittsburgh—Dick Stock and Johnny Nealey, draw [10].

At Buffalo—Frankie Britt beat Rocky Kansas [10].

BY RAY PEARSON.

Racine, Wis., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Joe Burman of Chicago outroughed, outslugged and outfought Mike Dundee the Rock Island Sicilian in the 10 round windup of John Wagner's Lakeside arena show tonight and at the end of one of the best bantamweight contests held in Racine had earned the victory by a safe margin.

For speed no one would care to look at anything better than this contest and it was too bad that more folks didn't take advantage of the chance to see it. The crowd was slim, but made up for its lack in size by enthusiasm, which at times had to be curbed by the referee.

Burman's Punches Accurate.

It was a scrap of hard punching and Burman's accuracy was a big factor in landing him out in front. Joe seldom missed with what he attempted, the only times he failed to connect being when he shot the old Mary Ann right for the jaw.

He connected a couple of times solidly and rocked Dundee, but in the early rounds Burman paid a lot of attention to the Rock Island boy's body and at the end of the fifth round Dundee's body showed red from the spot on which Burman had landed.

Dundee was a study in crimson as early as the fourth round, for in the opening session Burman opened a cut over his left eye and in the second a straight left to the mouth cut Dundee's lip. From that time on to the finish the pair of cuts bled freely, and when the final gong sounded the Sicilian was a badly marked person. Burman didn't have a mark to show for his night's work.

Dundee Aims at Knockout.

It was about an even split on left jabbing and Dundee spent the greater part of his time trying to swing over a right for a knockout. He did manage to paste Joe a couple of jolting wallops with that right, but at no time was Burman in any danger.

The first round was about even, but Burman went to the front in the second. Burman also took the third and the fourth was even. The fifth and sixth and seventh belonged to Burman, but Dundee took a brace in the eighth and won the round. Dundee also got an even break in the ninth, but the tenth was Burman's and the fight also belonged to him.

Burman weighed in the afternoon at 119 pounds, while Dundee notched one pound heavier.

Show Draws About $1,000.

Pop Wagner didn't look for a big crowd, therefore was not disappointed. The Chicago push numbered about seventy-five. The house was worth probably $1,000. Promoter Borchert of Milwaukee was a ringsider.

Earl Olsen, the Racine copper scrapper, accompanied Johnny Bresnahan of Chicago in the opening number, which was a scream. They are light heavyweights and their entertainment, which lasted for eight stanzas, was replete with joy. The fans enjoyed it, but not more so than Olsen and Bresnahan, who grinned throughout the engagement. The decision belonged to Olson, because he displayed aggressiveness. Bresnahan, at 173 pounds, outweighed Olsen about eight pounds.

Jumatti and Hagen Draw.

Frankie Jumatti and Johnny Hagen, a couple of Chicago banties, put on a dandy eight rounds that had the fans shouting. It was as good a mill as any one would care to gaze on, for they started stepping at lively speed with the opening gong and were at it when the final bell clanged and the referee parted them.

Jumatti appeared the stronger but he found Hagen a guy that refused to have his aggressiveness stopped and at the end of a draw verdict fitted the bout.

There was one thing that pleased the fans and that was the willingness of the two to mix. Time after time they stood toe to toe in the center of the ring and slugged, and how one or the other escaped a visit to the canvas is more than we know. Neither, however, was damaged.

Camp Grant Will Stage Real Boxing Show Dec. 3

Camp Grant has billed a boxing show for the evening of Dec. 3, which promises real sport. The card will consist of four bouts with a windup scheduled between Sam Langford and Young McBride. Langford and McBride are to box twelve rounds, if something doesn't happen to halt it sooner. Sergt. Case tackles Leatherby; Mandell meets Tommy, and Graves mixes with Knapp.

Britton Defeats Ryan by Knockout in Eleventh

Canton, O., Dec. 1.—Jack Britton, welterweight champion, tonight knocked out Billy Ryan of Cincinnati in the eleventh round of a scheduled twelve round contest here.

MIKE O'DOWD GOING OVERSEAS TO BATTLE

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Prompted by his victory over Mike Gibbons, Paddy Mullins, manager of Mike O'Dowd, has consented to take O'Dowd to London and box the English middleweight champion twenty rounds in the National Sporting club of London. Preparatory to sailing for England Mullins announced that O'Dowd would participate in one more bout before the trip overseas. That bout, Mullins said, would be between O'Dowd and Augie Ratner and would be staged either before the United Veterans' club of Toronto, Canada, or in the city of Detroit.

Pete Herman 'Goes Pretty' with Rival in Quaker Ring

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Champion Pete Herman picked up some soft money in the Olympia A. C. ring, enjoying a six round canter with Patsy Johnson of Trenton. The latter never had a chance from the start and had the champion been so disposed he probably could have scored a K. O. Johnson was down in the third and fourth from right hand swings. In the semi-windup Young Jimmy Socco of Boston walloped Young Robideau in a one sided bout.

Bill Brennan Scores an Easy Win Over McMahon

New Orleans, La., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Bill Brennan, the big Chicagoan, made short work of Tom McMahon of Newcastle, Pa., tonight when he stopped the Pennsylvanian in the second round of a scheduled twenty round contest. The second round was barely started when Brennan whipped a fast one to the paunch of his opponent, knocking McMahon to the canvas.

Benny Leonard to Rest After Bout with Coogan

New York, Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Benny Leonard, world's lightweight boxing champion, will desert the ring for the remainder of the year after his eight round bout Friday night at the Arena, Jersey City, against Mel Coogan of Brooklyn. This was announced today by Billy Gibson, Leonard's manager, who declared the titleholder plans to rest after his coming bout.

Kaiser's Bathtub Nothing Like Kid Roux of Memphis

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Cyclone Wilson, Chicago Negro heavyweight, took a sound thrashing from Battling Gahee, local Negro. Leo Patterson, Negro lightweight, who won considerable fame during the A. E. F. boxing tournament and because he bathed in the kaiser's bathtub, was bathed with punches by Kid Roux, local Negro, in eight rounds.

GOLDIE BEATS JOHNNY ROSE.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Lew Goldie of Pittsburgh decisively defeated Johnny Rose of St. Paul in a ten round bout here tonight.

ED LEWIS PINS OLIN IN STRAIGHT FALLS; FINN DAZED IN FIRST

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

By means of his deadly headlock Ed "Strangler" Lewis, Kentucky grappler, defeated John Olin, the Finn, in straight falls in the main bout of the wrestling show staged by the Coliseum A. C. at Aryan Grotto temple last night.

Lewis took the first fall in 58:02 with his headlock after previous similar holds had left Olin in a dazed condition. The "Strangler" made short work of his opponent in the second fall by upsetting the Finn in eleven seconds.

Olin Shows Wear and Tear.

After the men had been on the mat for ten minutes all indications pointed to a long match. Lewis frequently left himself open in order to trick Olin into dangerous positions, but the clever Finn played the game safe at all times. At the end of fifty minutes Olin began to show the effects of the match. When fifty-five minutes had elapsed Lewis clamped on a headlock and pinned his opponent.

Assisted to Dressing Room.

After the fall Olin laid on the mat dazed. He had to be assisted to his dressing room and was in no condition to appear for the second fall. He succumbed an easy victim.

In the semi-windup John Freberg won an interesting match from Emil Mogyrossy in 32:09 with a standing crotch hold. Jim Londas, Greek grappler, took a one fall match from Max Orlando in the opener with a body scissors and headlock in 11:02.

Reuben to Meet Kartje in Elks Club Mat Show

Ben Reuben and Ernest Kartje will clash in the main bout of the wrestling show and athletic entertainment to be given by Elks Lodge No. 4 in the gymnasium tonight. Among some of the other wrestlers who will appear are Sam Clapham, the English grappler, against Johnny Meyers, middleweight champion, and George Hill vs. Steve Savage. The show is one of the features of the Elks' drive for 1,000 new members. Wrestling will start at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Thomas a Mat Star; Local Pro Can't Flop Him

Harvey, Ill., Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Featuring the first monthly entertainment of the social and welfare committee tonight, was the participation in a wrestling match of the Rev. Martin L. Thomas, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, who more than held his own against Boise of Chicago, who failed to throw the Rev. Thomas in a handicap match. Boise substituted for Tommy White of Chicago, who was unable to appear.

SACRAMENTO, 20; HINSDALE, 13.

The Sacramento M. E. church basketball team defeated the Hinsdale village team at the Sacramento M. E. church, 20 to 13. It was the first game of the season for Hinsdale.

SCHURZ HIGH FIVE BEATEN.

Portage Park Sportsmen's club five trimmed the Carl Schurz High school five last night at the Schurz gym, 13 to 11.

ULTIMATE SOLUTION.

The present turmoil in the American league augurs nothing good for baseball. To two less determined fighters than B. B. Johnson and C. A. Comiskey one would be tempted to say: "Forget it, gentlemen." That, apparently, cannot be.

Baseball squabbles carried to the courts have never been settled permanently. In the ultimate it always has been money that talked—talked unreconciled opponents into selling or buying out the opposing interests.

BELATED ANNOUNCEMENT.

Capt. Angus Goetz has been reelected leader of the 1920 Michigan football team. This took place last week. Our Ann Arbor correspondent gave a quarter and his report to a small boy and told the boy to file it at the telegraph office. The boy decided to go home to dinner first. A storm arose, and the boy's mother refused to let him go out again. At last accounts the boy still had the quarter.

JACK SHARKEY WORKS TO REDUCE FOR BOUT WITH JIMMY WILDE

Judging by the way Jack Sharkey is going to it at the Arcade gym, he isn't taking chances of being overweight when he gets the big chance of his career to battle Jimmy Wilde, flyweight champion of Great Britain, at Milwaukee Saturday night. Sharkey isn't particularly in love with hard training, any more than a lot of other scrappers, but he knows what a victory in this international fuss will mean to him and is training accordingly.

Can Sharkey Make Weight?

There seem to be a few gents who follow the game around Chicago who think Sharkey is going to have trouble in making the required weight of 116 pounds at 7 o'clock. But Sharkey and his manager, Joe Wagner, form a pair who think otherwise. At the same time they realize hard work will be necessary. But hard work is going to make the New Yorker fast and land him at his best fighting pitch as well as take off poundage, so there won't be any letup until after Friday.

High Priced Seats Wanted.

Milwaukee is to stage one of those big financial shows if the interest displayed locally yesterday can be taken as a criterion. At local ticket sales headquarters applications came in rapidly and it seems the highest priced ducats, those costing $9 and war tax, are in demand. It would not be at all surprising if local fans spent $10,000 for ducats to this international bout.

NOTES OF THE GOLFERS.

VOX POP ON AUTOMATICS.

CHICAGO.—[To the Editor.]—I've been settin' back kind o' grinnin' and watchin' the arguments pro and con on shotguns—some agin the automatics.

O' course, any feller has the right to his own views, and what kind o' guns he wants to shoot his self, but along comes a feller that says any man that shoots an auto is a bum sport that riled me considerable.

If that is so, about 90 per cent of the duck hunters up and down the Illinois river are bum sports!

Now, do you believe that?

I don't, and I've met up with hundreds of 'em.

They'll quit at fifteen ducks, like a good sport should; they'll tromp and slush around in the mud for a mile or more to recover and kill a cripple, rather than let it die by starving; they'll dig down in their pockets—and deep, to—to pay a lot o' hard money for the fun o 'duck hunting—for the sport of the thing, not to see how many ducks they can kill, but for the real pleasure o' being out-o'-doors, with the wild things that fly, and swim; they'll give you a fill o' Bull-Durham, or a match if you run short, or a cup of hot coffee on a cold day if you've forgot your own; they'll take the breaks o' the game and grin, and they do shoot automatics!

You can only kill so many ducks a day with an auto or any other gun. Very, very seldom do you get a chance at more than a couple o' ducks even in a big flock, seein' as how they have a habit o' movin' on, and many's the cripple I've seen saved because there was an extra shot or two, handy-like, right-off, before the cripple could dive and get away, only to starve.

So I says to myself, this feller better look around before he condemns all users of automatics as bum sports; there's a lot o' them that he would be mighty proud to introduce as my friend, Mr. So and So, a regular, red-blooded, out-o'doors sportsman! 'Tain't the gun; it's the man that pulls the trigger.

Yours truly, GUS MUNCH.

BOWLING PAIR TAKES LEAD IN LOCAL TOURNEY

Zelasko and Becvar Roll 1,129 for First Place in the Doubles.

Pins were hard to topple last night at the Randolph alleys in the Chicago Bowling association's sixteenth annual tournament. The best shooting showed in the doubles, where J. Zelasko and F. Becvar got 1,129 for the top mark so far in the meet. The pair rolled on about an even basis, the former upsetting 569 pins, while Becvar toppled 560.

Mendels Far in Lead.

The 2,816 made by the Mendels in the main event Sunday was never threatened, the Puritans showing the only flash with 2,698, which is second high to date. The Bonner Smiths No. 4 piled up a grand total of 2,573 and the No. 1 team from the same place got 2,526.

Edward Kubal was the feature performer in the individual event with 626. He also got the highest score of the tournament, 257, in his final attack on the pins. E. J. Hayes ran second with 592, followed by J. Zelasko with 587. Scores:

SIX DAY RIDERS BEHIND RECORD

New York, Dec. 1.—One point separated the McNamara-Magin and Goullet-Madden teams at midnight, the end of the first 24 hours of the six day bicycle race at Madison Square garden. All fifteen teams had covered 493 miles, two laps, far behind the record of 537 miles, nine laps, made by Fogler and Hill in 1914. McNamara and Magin led the field in the sprints with 54 points, Goullet and Madden were second with 53, and Egg and Duppuy third with 49.

TENNIS MEN MEET TODAY.

The Chicago Tennis association will hold a meeting today at the City club. The session will get under way at noon.

DAVIS CUP PLAY STARTS JAN. 16

New York, Dec. 1.—The Davis cup international team tennis championship will be played at Sydney, Australia, Jan. 16, 17 and 19, according to word received at the headquarters of the United States Tennis association. The English team, which sailed for Australia late in October, will consist of A. R. F. Kingscote, A. E. Beamish, and A. H. Lowe. The Australasia team probably will include Norman Brookes, Gerald Patterson, and two other players yet to be selected.

The series will consist of four singles matches and one doubles contest, the nation winning three out of the five matches to be declared the winner.

KISSEL ALL-YEAR SEDAN

"Two-Cars-for-the-Price-of-One"—Delivered Immediately

The perfection of the All-Year Car is a vital feature with critical Chicago motorists who want the comfort of a permanent top.

The All-Year Top is built in, not on, with no visible fastenings or adjustments, and is entirely removable.

It is mounted on the new Kissel custom-built chassis—the result of 14 years of mechanical development.

Enjoy your car this winter as well as next spring and summer by placing your order for immediate delivery.

He expects one

A ROBE'S one of the things every man wants; it's one of the things every man needs. Still, he'd never buy one for himself; he just sort of knows he's going to get one for Xmas; expects one. You can get him a mighty cozy wool robe, one that he'll really wear, for $15

Other robes and jackets, $8.75 to $60.

YOUR BUSINESS SUCCESS

VERY often your appearance is your letter of recommendation.

Being well dressed not only increases your self-reliance and efficiency to a measurable extent—but creates the confidence of others in you.

Clothes tailored the Jerrems way have a "quiet refinement"—an "individual good style" that inspires the confidence of the most critical.

Good clothes have been the foundation of many successful careers.

Pauline Minus Her Jury; Seems Strange Indeed!

"THE LOVES OF LETTY."

Produced by Goldwyn.
Directed by Frank Lloyd.
Presented at Outlying Theaters.

The Cast:

Letty Shell	Pauline Frederick
Richard Perry	John Bowers
Nevill Letchmere	Lawson Butt
Bernard Mandeville	Willard Louis
Marion Allardyce	Florence Deshon
Hilda Gunning	Leila Bliss
Florence Crosby	Leota Lorraine
Ivor Crosby	Sydney Ainsworth
"Coppy" Drake	Harland Tucker
Slavey	Joan Standing

By Mae Tinée.

For the time being they have removed the beautiful Miss Frederick from her customary setting of murder and luxury and made an honest working girl of her. Never once does she fall under suspicion. Not once does the searchlight of the law play upon her tortured visage. Her white face gleams through no prison bars. Nor does she trail imported gowns through stately halls. Meet Miss Frederick as just Letty Shell, bookkeeper, I believe, for an awful person in the bucket shop business.

Three men loved Miss Shell. Rather—one man does. The other two—bah! Could such be love! (Thereby hangs the moral of the production.)

Letty has an interesting ailment of some sort which has brought an ultimatum from the doctor. She must stop work. A working girl dependent on her earnings who must stop work if she is to live finds the question reversed. Must she stop living because she must stop working?

Now, three men stood ready to solve Letty's problem after their several fashions.

You will find that the film interests you mildly. You will admit there is some good acting to recommend it. John Bowers becomes more prepossessing every time I see him—a nice, unaffected chap whose simplicity makes his work convincing.

Willard Louis, as the bucket shop man, is a character cleverly depicted, and the panther-like Lawson Butt is in dead earnest, as usual.

As for Miss Frederick, she is charming—but a bit strange. One misses her jury.

NOTES OF SCREENDOM

Marie Doro, Ruth Clifford, and Edith Hallor are being proudly heralded by the Republic Distributing corporation. Soon pictures featuring these well known actresses will be released. The first Doro production will be called "12:10." The scenes are laid in Paris and London and were actually photographed abroad.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

Jean's father had been carrying her for several blocks and finally he put her down, telling her that she was too heavy to carry. The small maid toddled along beside her father for some time, then, looking up at him, she said: "Please carry me; I's too heavy to walk." C. M. C.

We owned a dog named Rover that roved around a good deal. Jimmy had overheard us remark that the name fitted him. So when a friend asked the little fellow why his dog came to have such an old fashioned name, Jimmy replied: "O, we just had to name him that because he rovered around so much." O. G.

My neighbor's small son came to my house and asked for a job. I said: "All right; you may pick up the loose papers the wind has blown all over the yard and earn a nickel."

"No," he said, stoutly, "I want a men's job, so I can get a men's pay." O. G.

Little Mildred had often been told that she had hair and eyes just like her mother's. One day she was playing on the street when a lady spoke to her and remarked pleasantly: "What pretty red hair you have."

"Yes," glibly answered Mildred, "I caught it from mother. F. J."

SHELTERING EWES

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Beginners often make the mistake of housing their breeding ewes too closely during the winter, while others neglect providing shelter for their sheep until they have become wet from rain. In most cases over confinement is probably more dangerous than exposure, especially in the humid climate.

A good percentage of the weak lambs found every spring is due to the fact that the ewes are not given the proper amount of exercise during the winter. The method of feeding and managing the flock from now until lambing time should be carefully looked after.

During fair weather the roughage should be fed in the field or in lots at least a quarter of a mile from the shed.

If they are fed both night and morning this would give them a mile of exercise each day. Ewes should be out once each day and at least one mile of exercise is necessary.

While fresh air and plenty of exercise are vitally important factors, it is well to have a shelter available for the flock. Ewes must be protected from rain storms and severe cold weather. There is danger in having the barn too warm and damp. Sheep seldom suffer from low temperature if the barn or shed is kept dry. This can be done if the building is properly ventilated.

The average snow fall in this section of the country does little harm to ewes, unless it is wet and heavy, for they shake it off soon after it falls. Sheep often bed down in dry snow without serious results. The trouble usually occurs in rainy weather or in poorly ventilated buildings where moisture coming from the fleeces collects, making the quarters damp.

Many breeders have found that in mild winters it is best to allow the sheep to range on blue grass pastures and stubble fields and provide an open shed for them to run in during heavy rains or storms.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Refused to Dance.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young girl of 18 years of age and I am very fond of dancing. Last evening I was at a dance and there were three or four fellows there that were doing the 'shimmy.' One of these young men asked me to dance with him and I said no because I would not dance the 'shimmy' with any one, and he said to me, 'You're some swell Jane.' Now, Miss Blake, do you think I did right in refusing to dance with him, as I do not approve of the dance? I. B."

It's pretty vulgar, I. B., and I am awfully glad that you refused to be a party to the dance. The young man is anything but a gentleman, making a remark like that to you.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments Editor, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscripts returned.

Spoiled His Banquet.

I am sure my most embarrassing moment was at a banquet I attended some time ago in honor of a visiting celebrity whom I had never seen.

The guest of honor was late in arriving and while we waited I became thirsty and looked around for a waiter to bring me another glass of water.

A dignified man in a dress suit was hurrying up toward the head of the table and I beckoned to him. He stopped by my place and I made known my want—quietly enough, but as I look back at it it seems as though I might as well have shouted it through a megaphone.

For he was the guest of honor, hurrying to his place. A. M.

From Friend Husband.

My most embarrassing moment occurred on my birthday anniversary. I had invited some guests to dinner, and as is usual at birthday parties, I received some gifts, among which was a creamer and sugar bowl.

As we sat down to dinner, I asked my husband how he liked my new creamer and sugar bowl, which I had already put in use (he not knowing I had received it as a gift), and he said in a joking manner, in the presence of my guests, "Some more of your cheap bargains?"

I need not tell you of my embarrassment, for the lady friend who so kindly gave it to me did not seem to like the joke at all. E. P.

A Friend in Need

Sally Joy Brown

I want to be the medium through which the friend in deed and the friend in need may be brought together. It may be you have some discarded article which has not outgrown its usefulness that will make some less fortunate one happy, and you would gladly give it if you knew how to go about it. Write to me and I shall be only too happy to be of service to you. Please write on one side of the paper.

When information is wanted by mail a stamped, addressed envelope should accompany the request. Please do not send parcels to The Tribune, but write for the address of the applicant and send direct.

Invalid Needs Clothes.

"I know that you have helped so many others. Won't you please try to help me? I have been an invalid for the last eight years and have spent most everything on doctors. I need clothing most of all. I am 40 years of age and wear size 42. If there is any one in this world that can spare their old clothes, I will be the happiest woman in the world. Thanking you very much. MRS. P. T."

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Baked Haddock.

There are innumerable food prejudices which need to be put to rout. A year ago in Bangor, Me., I was told that haddock twelve hours out of the water was not fit to eat. Allow me to say positively that "there is nothing to it."

Think a bit! Finnan haddie is but lightly cured, hardly more than to protect it as refrigerating may, yet epicures have raved about its savory quality. Rightly baked fresh haddock, after traveling a cool day or two, if rightly cooked, can have the flavors of the best of shell fish besides its own.

To prove this I took just the middle of a two pound haddock for baking, or enough for three people. In order to protect and preserve every virtue in it, and tone up any possible wateryness, I stuffed it with hot mashed potato. Notice, a hot stuffing! Also hot basting!

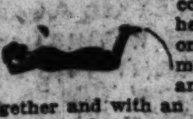
To one cup of freshly prepared and seasoned mashed potato, I added a stalk of celery, an onion, a carrot—each cut fine and smothered without browning in two tablespoons of salt pork fat. The potato and the tiny crisp dice of pork were blended with this mixture in the pan, and since it is best not to have too dry a stuffing, two tablespoons of cream were added and cooked three minutes, the whole tasted, and the necessary salt added. Notice that we do not use an egg for this stuffing!

The piece of haddock was filled with this, pinned with a skewer, put on a buttered pan with the leftover potato at the open side, both sprinkled with crumbs, basted with two tablespoons of hot melted butter, put into a 500 degree oven, and baked twenty minutes with one basting. My new assistant said she had never tasted any baked fish so good in her life. I do not believe I ever did myself, and that is rather emphatic.

PHYSICAL CORRECTIVE COURSE

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

The exercise illustrated herewith is done by lying face forward on floor or couch or bed, with head resting easily on hands and abdomen on flat surface, and raising legs together and with an upward backward lift as high as you can raise them. This is a preparatory movement for the "arch forward lying" position or more commonly known as the "bowing" exercise and intended to correct under or over developed shoulder, back, neck and abdominal muscles. Do this say ten times, increasing to twenty.



S. G. C.: ACCORDING TO STANDard measurement you are overweight about eighteen pounds, so you would better get to work on some exercise and go lightly on food for awhile. I shall be glad to supply the diet and the exercise if you will do the rest. Using the tweezers to pull out the stray hairs on the chin is all right, but it is not a permanent measure of removing them.

SOCIETY and Entertainments

Alice Bradley to Be Presented to Society Dec. 27

Mr. and Mrs. John Dorr Bradley of Lake Forest and 66 Bellevue place will give a tea on the afternoon of Dec. 27 at the Casino, when they will present to society their daughter Alice. Mr. Bradley and Miss Bradley, who have been in the Orient since the late summer, are expected to land at Vancouver, B. C., on the 17th, arriving in Chicago in time for Christmas.

Mrs. George W. Dixon of 1250 Lake Shore drive yesterday held a meeting at her residence of the ticket and box committee for the lecture to be given Monday evening, Dec. 15, at Orchestra hall by Mme. Clemenceau-Jacquemaire, daughter of Premier Clemenceau of France, on "The Soul of France." Among those present were: Mrs. Milan H. Hulbert, Mrs. Russell Tyson, Mrs. Moise Dreyfus, Mrs. Marvin B. Pool, Mrs. Frank G. Logan, Miss Clara Laughlin, Mrs. Murry Nelson, Mrs. William Burry, Mrs. Charles A. Chapin, Mrs. Edward R. Litzinger, and Mrs. Jules Brower.

"Le Cercle Français" will meet this afternoon at the Fortnightly rooms. Mrs. Edward MacDowell will be a guest of the Cordon at dinner this evening. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock and afterwards Mrs. MacDowell will speak and will play some of Mr. MacDowell's compositions.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton F. Goodman of 4840 Ellis avenue will be at home informally this evening for Mrs. Carlton H. Parker, who will speak today before the Chicago Woman's Aid.

Mrs. Anthony French Merrill will give the fifth and last of a series of lectures on "The New Era" at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. William Owen Goodman, 1355 Astor street. Mrs. Merrill's subject will be "The Power of Constructive Thought."

MISS LOUISE HESSERT
MATZENE PHOTO

Miss Louise Hessert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Hessert Jr. of 436 Arlington place, will be one of the hostesses at a bridge party to be given this afternoon at the Casino by the Chicago Lighthouse Volunteer Aids. The other hostesses will be Miss Elizabeth Martin and Miss Florence Folds. This is the first of three bridge parties the Aids will give in different parts of the city. Tomorrow Mrs. William A. Gardiner will open her residence in Evanston for the second party, and the last will be given on Thursday at the South Shore Country club.

Miss Martha Nadine Hall, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George W. Hall of 3336 University avenue, sailed on the Mauretania last Saturday for France, where she will study at the University of Lyons.

Mrs. Stanley Field gave a large luncheon and bridge party yesterday at her residence, 1550 North State parkway.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville W. Thompson will give a supper and misucal for Miss Sophie Braslau Sunday evening at their residence, 230 East Delaware place.

Mr. and Mrs. James O. Heyworth of Lake Forest will give a dinner for their daughter, Frances, Tuesday evening, Dec. 23, preceding the dance Mr. and Mrs. Leverett Thompson will give at the Casino for their daughter, Laura.

A FANTASY IN FANS

All through the horseshoe and the main floor at the opera last night there were noticeable splashes of bright colors caused by many gorgeously colored fans. When one stops to consider the ebb and flow of fashion these first aids to flirtation might be said to be enjoying a tidal wave. They have been taken to the hearts of smart dressers until one scarcely feels "all there" unless accompanied by a feather or a bunch of them mounted on amber sticks. Emerald green, flame, orange and jade are favored colors. The fans last night were to be seen in many designs, some of them so elaborate and costly as to bear out the prediction that these formidable weapons of the maiden coy are to enjoy greater popularity this season than has been theirs for many years.

With Mr. and Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed were Mr. and Mrs. Huntington B. Henry and Mr. and Mrs. James C. Ames. Mrs. Reed wore jade green tulle with a bodice entirely of green beads. Mrs. Henry's gown of gold and black brocade had sleeves of Duchess lace. Mrs. Ames wore blue velvet and carried a fan of the same shade.

Redmond Stephens was host to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Howard, and Miss Edith Blair. Mrs. Brown wore silver brocade, a sable trimmed coat, and a tiara set becomingly in her dark coiffure. Mrs. Howard was in gray chiffon with iridescent trimmings and a straight tiara. Miss Blair's hair was dressed in a high swirl and jet earrings complemented a gown of black net made severely plain. A brilliant orange fan completed a pretty effect.

Others observed in the smart Monday night audience were: Mr. and Mrs. Hale Holden, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Eckhart, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy A. Goddard, Mr. and Mrs. H. Edward Sager, Mr. and Mrs. Watson F. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Martin A. Ryerson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Whyte of London, England; Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ely Danielson, Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift Jr., Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and Mrs. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Yager, Mr and Mrs. Thomas W. Hinde, Mrs. Owen Aldis, Miss Elizabeth Hinde, Miss Sarah Hinde, Mrs. Timothy B. Blackstone, Marie Crerar.

Mrs. Robert Hotz

An engagement announcement of interest to society is that of Mrs. Robert S. Hotz of 3033 Sheridan road to Frederic T. Haskell of 2824 Prairie avenue, vice president of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank. The announcement, which was a surprise to even the intimate friends of the couple, was made at a supper party given Sunday evening by Mrs. Hotz at her residence. No date for the wedding has been set. Mrs. Hotz' daughter, Miss Lila Hotz, is a debutante of the season.

Baron Hirsch Dance Dec. 6 and Two Sales Today to Aid Charity

The Baron Hirsch Co-Workers, a charitable organization, will give a dance Saturday evening in the Florentine room of the Congress hotel. All of the proceeds go to charity. Miss Fannie H. Kramer is president of the organization. Miss Shephrah Newberger and Miss Julia E. Ehrman, chairmen of committees, and their assistants are giving much time toward making the affair a success.

Samuel A. Ettelson is chairman of the floor committee. Some of the other members of the committee are William E. Frankenstein, Dr. Abraham Hirschberg, Dr. Charles Shott, Dr. A. D. Newberger, Sidney Lyons, and Joseph Ehrman.

Among the patronesses of the evening are Mrs. Emma B. Mandl, Mrs. Benjamin Englehart, Mrs. J. Logan Fox, Mrs. Henry Roth, Mrs. Harry Hyman, and Mrs. E. J. Danek.

Mrs. Clifford Chickering and Mrs. Edward Tilden will be in charge of the twenty-fourth annual charity bazaar of the Friendly Aid society today in the art room of the Blackstone. The proceeds will be divided among sixteen charities.

The Country Home for Convalescent Children will benefit from a sale to be held today in the Congress hotel. The work of the crippled children, including handmade toys, walking dolls, bath sets, and aprons will be on sale. The children receive a share of the profits and the remainder goes toward materials for their work during the coming year.

ANNOUNCEM'NTS

Mrs. J. G. A. Johnson of 4514 Lake Park avenue, who is philanthropic chairman of the Pennsylvania colony of the Illinois club, will conduct a card party for the benefit of aged women Thursday at the Sisson hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Todd of Airdrie place left last night for Miami, Fla., for the winter. They will stop en route at Hazelhurst, Miss., to visit their daughter, Frances, who is atending school there.

Carey Orr, staff cartoonist of THE TRIBUNE, will give an illustrated lecture on "Cartoons and Caricaturing" this afternoon before the art and literature department of the Evanston Woman's club.

Gov. Lowden, Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson, and Sergt. Cesar Santini, chief chauffeur for Gen. Pershing in France, will be guests of honor at a reception and dinner to be given by the Illinois Automobile club tomorrow evening.

The Opera

BY W. L. HUBBARD.

Montemezzi's "The Ship" had its first repetition last night at the Auditorium, thus ushering in the third week of the season. An audience of good size watched the performance, wondered as to the meaning of the drama, and applauded artists, composer and the Geddes' settings and stage pictures.

Second hearing of the work impresses anew with the unsuitableness for operatic purposes of the D'Annunzio drama in its present Tito Ricordi version, and strengthened the conviction that Montemezzi has written a score containing much that is of distinct and individual beauty, which needs but to be carefully but firmly shortened to take on marked worth and power. The music often is diffuse and the whole opera drags. There is no action save in the second episode—the third act—and the vocal parts alone are not of sufficient melodic beauty and charm to hold interest and rouse enthusiasm. A condensing and abbreviating of the whole opera could but result in immediate and pronounced gain and make it possibly enduring in the répertory of newer works. Performed in the length it now has, it seems unavoidably destined to speedy retirement.

The performance last evening was better than on the opening night. The orchestra gave a smoother and more finely shaded reading of the score and the singers knew better how to lend variety and color to their work. The vocal parts often are ruthlessly written for the voice and demand a range and endurance beyond those made by the average modern scores. Mme. Raisa accomplishes wonders in her singing of the music of Basiliola, but even while listening to her and approving her power and skill, one can but hope that she will not frequently undertake the rôle, for by so doing even her splendid organ could but suffer damage. She sang the music admirably last evening.

Her acting is conscientious but not convincing, for she has no power as the seductive charmer of men. She shot the arrows better last night, but perhaps some one will tell her that the bow usually is held in the left hand and the arrow and the string with the right. She reverses the position.

Her costumes were as meaningless and as antagonistic in color as before, and it is good to know that they were not those which Mr. Geddes designed for use with his scenery, but were brought from Italy, and therefore he is not responsible for them.

Mr. Dolci sang the difficult music of Marco with good tonal volume, but his acting and appearance are so hopeless that watching him is not a delight. Mr. Rimini was again an excellent Sergio, and Mr. Lazzari an admirable Traba.

Tonight Miss Garden will appear in the tital rôle of the Massenet "The Juggler of Notra Dame" and it is officially announced that this will be the only time she will be seen here this season in the part. Her appearance in "Carmen" on Saturday night will also be her last appearance with the company until January.

PRESS AGENT FALLS FROM "IMPASSIONED HEIGHTS," YET LIVES

AND now comes a press agent—connected with the Actors' Fund of America—who wants to "rise to impassioned heights to defeat the rewrite man." A fat chance.

He's trying to tell about the Actors' Memorial day campaign, set for Dec. 5. In mentioning the fact that six Chicago theaters will give matinées for that day—next Friday—with vaudeville features in addition to the regular shows, he uses such phrases as "entire theatrical world of the midlands," "easily the greatest aggregation of talent, etc.," "Windy City," "silked star," "calicoed chorus girl"—did you ever see one of those?—"most unique," "lovely society women," "fairest actresses"—and a lot of others.

The theaters are the Garrick, Woods, Olympic, Cohan's Grand, Illinois, and Colonial. The sale of tickets begins today and actresses and others will solicit "the public in droves," as the press agent puts it. And he speaks of "boxes packed with the socially elect, who will have paid thousands of dollars for the privelige"—yep, he spells the word that way. And he thinks he can get away with it. Yeh, swell chance!

OBITUARY.

Will Bury Manufacturer Frank H. Lumbard Today

Frank H. Lumbard, president of Gerts, Lumbard & Co., maufacturers of brushes, who died late Sunday night at his home, 125 South Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park, will be buried today in Forest Home. He was 60 years old, was born in Chicago, and had been connected with the concern since he was 28.

WILLIAM C. PAYNE, principal of the Chopin school, who died at his home, 3129 Augusta street, early Saturday morning, was buried yesterday afternoon in Graceland cemetery.

Olson Approves Plans for Welfare Work Among Girls

A committee of three women visited Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court yesterday to plan new methods of uplift work for the welfare of the women and girls appearing daily in the Morals court.

Mrs. Jesse Binford of the Juvenile Protective association headed the committee. Dr. Rachel Harris and Dr. Johnson of Edinburgh, Scotland, were her two associates.

Judge Olson concurred in their plans and said he would appoint Judges Harry M. Fisher, John A. Swanson, Wells M. Cooks, and Edmund K. Jarecki, all formerly of the Morals court, to coöperate with them.

The women advocated new clinics or small hospitals for the examination of women arrested as suspects by the police. The Lawndale hospital, complained the committee, was not a proper institution for women or girls to be taken to and forced to undergo examination.

"Many women and girls who are respectable are arrested by the police," said Mrs. Binford. "They are taken to the Lawndale hospital by force and made to stand an examination.

"Small stations where a private doctor could be summoned by any person in custody of the police could be installed and do away with the present system of the Lawndale hospital."

Judge Olson made a proposition that if the women would form a committee he would appoint four associate judges to confer with them to study the state laws in regard to public morals and after a time present recommendations for changes in the statute to the legislature.

"I am in favor of this plan," said Judge Olson. "At present a decent girl may be arrested in the loop and taken to the Lawndale hospital and detained for several days."

'U. S. Is Anything but a Christian Country,' Episcopalians Told

"The United States is anything but a Christian country," declared Mr. Lewis B. Franklin, former director of the government war loan organization, at a dinner at the La Salle hotel last night attended by 1,200 workers of the nation-wide campaign of the Episcopal church to extend its influence. The dinner signalled the approach of the "intensive week" in the campaign.

"There are more than 60,000,000 people in this country outside any Christian church," said Mr. Franklin. "This campaign is for the purpose of Christianizing America, so that we can in truth be called a Christian nation."

"Keen minded leaders in commercial life are saying in no uncertain terms that what the country needs more than anything else to meet the present situation is religion," said the Rt. Rev. James Wise, bishop of Kansas. "Men like Babson, Taft, and Gen. Wood are publicly declaring it."

"Americanization of our aliens is one of the crying needs of the day," he continued. "The Episcopal church believes it is necessary, and a part of the budget you are asked to meet is $1,500,000 to set up a national program of Christian Americanization."

The Rt. Rev. Charles P. Anderson, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago and chairman of the national commission on the nation-wide campaign, outlined Chicago's part in the new project, and especially for this diocese.

B. F. MOSELEY, COLORED G. O. P. LEADER, IS DEAD

Buregard F. Moseley, a political leader among Chicago's colored population, died last night at the Fort Dearborn hospital of influenza. He had been ill for only a few days. He was born in 1868 in Lincolnton, Lincoln county, Ga., and worked his way through school. He studied law in the office of the United States district attorney at New Orleans and was admitted to the bar in that state.

He came to Chicago in 1896 and was admitted to the Illinois bar in that year. In 1898 he was admitted to the United States federal district court here.

Mr. Moseley was chairman of the colored committee of the Republican party supporting the candidacy of Medill McCormick for the United States senate and toured in the country for Roosevelt in the Progressives' national campaign. Senator McCormick was at his bedside a few hours before death came.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—That drape plus crêpe equals trimming escape is one of the rhythmic bits of present day dress arithmetic. Bodices nowadays are so simple that they may be made in the dark, and, provided that your skirt be paneled, or panniered, or draped, or trellised, or something, there is really no need of the embroideries and contrasting materials which have been a necessity in the straight up and down frocks of previous seasons. Particularly is this the case with the semi-evening dress. You may make it of georgette, or chiffon, or mousseline, and not trim it with another thing in the world.

The accompanying frock shows you just how this is done. It may be in either georgette or chiffon, but it is specified that it be in henna color. It hasn't a touch of satin or silk about it—nothing but that swirl of self material about the skirt. This dress is intended specially for the dark-haired and dark-eyed schoolgirl, for whom it will fill in many gaps of the coming holiday season. As a little dress for the school dinner it is also admirable.

IN MEMORIAM.

FINK—In sad but loving memory of our dear son and brother, William Ignatius Francis Fink, student of theology, who passed away in France 1 year ago today, Dec. 2, 1918. Anniversary high mass will be celebrated at St. Agnes' church, Central Park and 27th-st., Thursday, 8 a. m., for the repose of his soul.

You are gone, but not forgotten,
Nor will you ever be.
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But as long as life and memory last
We will always think of thee.
For in our hearts you're with us still.
Deeply missed and silently mourned by FATHER, MOTHER, BROTHERS, AND SISTER.

KAISER—George Kaiser. In loving memory of our dear son and brother, who died one year ago today, Dec. 2, 1918.

The month of December again is here;
To us it is the saddest of the year.
It was a bitter parting and shock severe
To part with one we love so dear.
LOVING MOTHER, FATHER AND BROTHERS.

KEEGAN—In memory of Rose Keegan, who passed away one year ago today. She was the truest of friends; wisest of councilors, the best of mothers.
HER LOVING DAUGHTER AND GRANDSON.

STEINBERG—Louis Steinberg. In sacred memory of my dear father, Louis Steinberg, who departed to his eternal rest Dec. 2, 1905, fourteen years ago today.
YOUR SON DAVID.

ALTENHEIM—William Altenheim, Nov. 29, aged 39 years, beloved husband of Paula Altenheim, née Hartmann, fond father of Bernice, and Lucell, son of Mrs. Katherine Altenheim, and son-in-law of Mrs. Margaret Hartmann. WRECKS OF WAVE OF OCCULTISM FILL HOSPITAL

Too Strong for Minds of Many, Psychopaths Declare.

mother were in the room with me and wanted to talk to me."

"Have the spirits been with you lately?"

"Yes, of course; it seems strange, but last night I felt that they were twitching at my tongue."

Her Dream Warning to Others.

This woman probably will recover. Her case may point a way for others to avoid. Her dream is no more real than a dream I had after talking to her. It seemed as if something strong and heavy came to me in the night and pinned my arms and began to crush me. I felt helpless and could not move or cry out. In my terror I thought of one word—"Christ"—and as I said this the dark force left me and peace came to me and I awoke, knowing it was only a dream. Her dream is no worse and she will awake some day.

An unusual number of cases of hallucinosis of this type have been coming into the psychopathic hospital lately, some of the wreckage from this wave of occultism. It is too strong for some minds.

The names of several mediums have been given to me by patients and there will be stories about most of them, showing the mental excitements they set up or aggravate.

The Indian Control.

Mrs. Emil Biedermann, whom I sought, proved to be a woman about 70 years old, gentle in manner. Her husband is 80 years old and makes violins with the aid of his spirit friends. They gave circles as well as private readings. The old medium led Miss X. into a little parlor and pulled down all the shades.

"I learned to do it that way," Mrs. Biedermann explained. "Now I cannot seem to get en rapport unless it is dark. Now give me your handkerchief. I must get some of your magnetism. My Indian control, a young girl named Wide Awake, probably will come soon. When she comes I shall not be able to hear a word of what you say. You can talk freely to her. Do not be afraid. Just say 'hello' and be friendly."

Mrs. Biedermann said she had two other controls, one an oriental and the other a Methodist preacher's daughter named Edith Cooper. Miss X. asked her how to become a medium.

"You must concentrate," said the medium. "You must not be afraid to develop your spiritualistic gifts. Trust in God and lead a good life."

"Is there any danger?" Miss X. asked her, having in mind the girl in the psychopathic ward.

"Not unless you let your passions and temper get the better of you," answered the medium. "Then the evil spirits take possession of you."

Wide Awake Talks.

"What do you see for me in spirit land?" Miss X. asked. Then Wide Awake came.

"Hello," said the Indian girl, in thin, childish voice. Miss X. was friendly, and soon learned that she was unhappily married and that she would soon contract a second marriage, in which she would be happy. She was told that "Charlies" liked her. The spirit spoke of a soldier killed in France, a young man with waving hair. She saw the word "William" written above Miss X.'s head.

A spirit guide was picked out for her, a young Indian named Three Feathers. She was told if she was ever in doubt to consult Three Feathers, and if there was a heavy feeling at her heart she must refrain from contemplated action. Mrs. Biedermann said she had seen the spirits materialize, a kind of an etherealization like a column of light of smoke stuff. The price was "anything you like, madam, but not more than 50 cents." Miss X. was invited to join the circle. Sincerely,

REPORTER K.

DRIVE AWAY HEADACHE

Rub Musterole on Forehead and Temples.

A headache remedy without the dangers of "headache medicine." Relieves headache and that miserable feeling from colds or congestion. And it acts at once! Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Used only externally, and in no way can it affect stomach and heart, as some internal medicines do.

Excellent for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, all pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

30c and 60c jars; hospital size, $2.50.

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER

how much is an hour worth in your business?

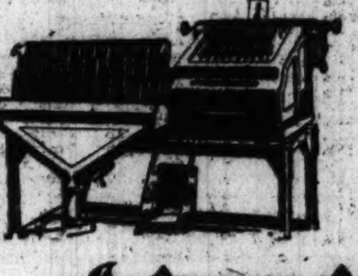
HOW much would it cost you in actual cash to have 3 or 4 of your clerks waste a couple of hours each week?

That's the time wasted in many firms every time they make up their payroll—time that could be saved by an International Payroll Machine.

This machine lists and adds the payroll and tells how many twenties, tens, fives, etc., right down to the number of pennies required to pay correctly.

It counts the money into envelopes, keeping a record of the amount put into each envelope.

It checks the payroll at every point and balances the cash automatically.



Firms now saving money by means of the International Payroll Machine include Washburn Crosby Co., Campbell Soup Co., Remington Arms Co., Baldwin Locomotive Works and hundreds of others.

If you want to know what these firms think of the International Payroll Machine, write us today.

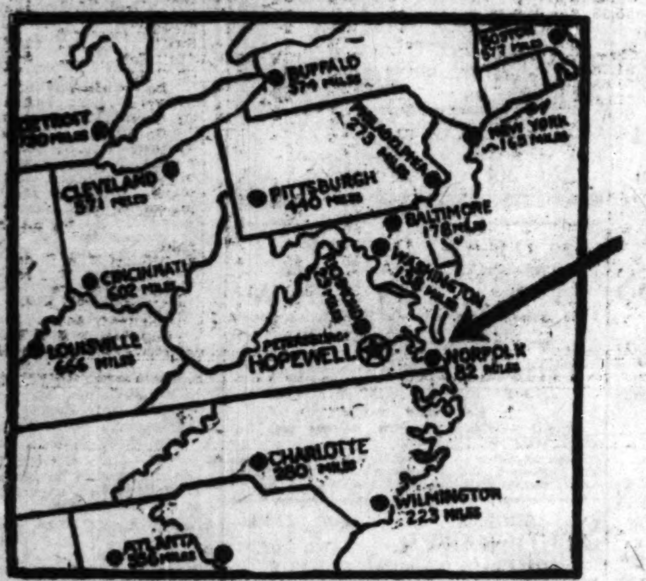
Production Costs Reduced at Hopewell

The reasons why are to be found in the following unexcelled manufacturing advantages—natural and acquired—of the Petersburg-Hopewell Industrial District of Virginia.

Where Hopewell Is



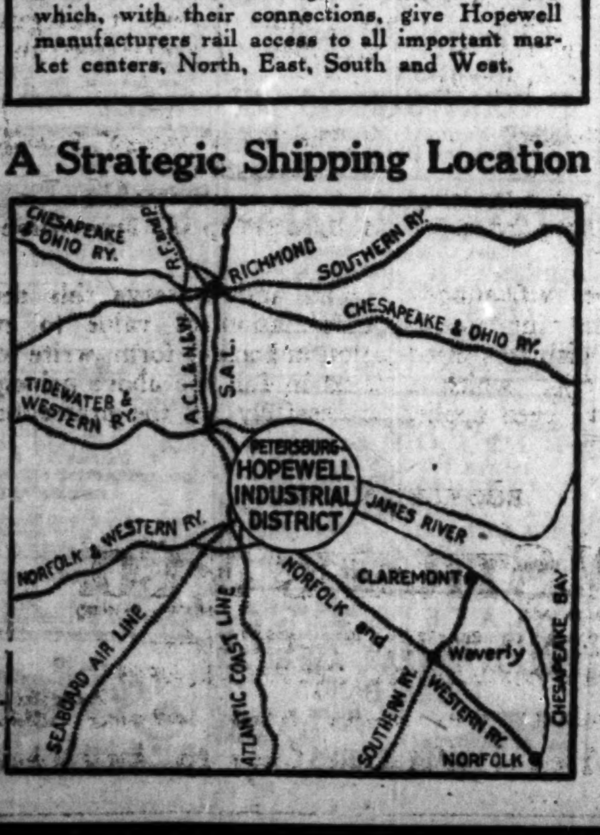
A Deep Water Port

The district is at the Junction of the Appomattox and James rivers—in reality a part of Chesapeake Bay. It lies 23 miles south of Richmond and 80 miles west of Norfolk.

The James River gives Hopewell its deep-water outlet to the sea. Small freighters can be loaded at the Hopewell wharf or products transported in barges to larger vessels at Norfolk or Newport News.

The district is served by the Norfolk and Western, the Atlantic Coast line and the Seaboard Air Line, three great trunk-line roads which, with their connections, give Hopewell manufacturers rail access to all important market centers, North, East, South and West.

A Strategic Shipping Location



Adequate Supply of Labor
skilled and unskilled, male and female. The District is free from conditions that breed discontent.

Fair Wage Rates
Low-living costs have kept wages at a moderate level. The Hopewell worker's savings are greater because his expenses are less than at most industrial centers.

Splendid Housing Facilities
Hopewell has attractive homes for 12,000 additional workers. Rents average $11 to $15 a month.

Steam and Electricity
Light, heat and power below standard prices.

Transportation Facilities—rail and deep water—that are unsurpassed in point of service and cost.

Abundance of Purest Water for all industrial and domestic purposes at surprisingly low rates.

Best Fire Protection
in the world, with consequent low insurance. Ask for data regarding our special insurance proposition.

Mild and Healthful Climate
Out-of-door work is continued without interruption throughout the year.

Civic Environment
that makes Hopewell a good place in which to live as well as to do business.

Adequate Banking
to take care of legitimate needs for development and expansion.

Assistance of Experts technical, financial and traffic—in solving the manufacturer's problems. This service is free.

The Du Pont Chemical Company has a limited number of factories, factory sites with railway sidings and other industrial equipment—our peace surplus—at Hopewell, which we offer direct to manufacturers at attractive prices and on liberal terms. We have prepared Hopewell for peace industry with as much thoroughness as it was built for war. We have obtained experts of nation-wide reputation to study the specific requirements and problems of various industries and to assist firms who come to Hopewell. This without cost. We furnish this service in a big way for the same reason that we are advertising in a big way—to dispose of our peace surplus and put Hopewell on a peace basis in the quickest possible time. Demand already is keen and Hopewell soon will be sold. Wire or write today for data.

NOTE: Our representative, Mr. F. H. Ferguson, will be in Chicago for a few days and may be reached at 1549 McCormick Building (Telephone Harrison 9280). He can give any technical information regarding Hopewell that may be wanted. He will be in Chicago but a short time and will be called upon to supply a considerable amount of data to different industries. To make sure of seeing him before he leaves, we would suggest that you phone, wire or write him immediately.

MARKET'S EYES ON CONGRESS AS SESSION OPENS

Action on Peace Treaty and Railroads Is Awaited.

With the reassembling of Congress, the peace treaty and the disposition of the railroads promise now to become again considerable factors in the market for securities.

The matter of the railroads appears to be of more engrossing interest in a market way in the east than the treaty. In the west, in manufacturing centers, the opinion holds that foreign trade conditions are of the largest importance.

To what extent formal acknowledgment of peace would help business can only be a matter of opinion at this time. But outside of the markets purely mercantile interests believe it would be helpful. To them an undetermined peace situation is similar to undetermined tariff schedules. In either situation there is lack of basis upon which to make future expenditures.

Exchange Is Problem.

Largely in the business mind at this time is the fact of the depreciated price of foreign credit or moneys. There has been to date no offering from congress of a course of procedure intended to aid in the rehabilitation of foreign exchange. But it is not known what might be suggested as an aid to the solution.

Meanwhile the general market situation is a disturbed one. The subjects mentioned are but a few of the matters of importance. Labor, money, Mexico, possible bankruptcy of Europe, and ultimate trade congestion are things of every day moment. In any direction which the market may turn there is found nothing promising immediate relief. The assembling of congress is unexpectedly offering the chance that it may adopt some attitude that will begin to clear up present unfavorable sentiment.

Money, while easier on the New York stock exchange in the matter of call funds, is rather close throughout the country. It is one condition that all the markets are carefully watching. But beyond turning to past experience, which suggests easier conditions after the turn of the year, there is not in sight immediate amelioration.

Possibly optimistic sentiment may be regarded as warranting no more criticism than that of pessimism. But to endeavor to reflect general views at this time means to record that optimism must look beyond the present.

Rail Reports Favorable.

A number of railroads making reports yesterday of their October business were rather favorable. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy had an increase of about $1,800,000 in gross and a gain of $400,000 in net operating income. The Big Four showed an increase of $300,000 in gross and about $800,000 in net operating income. The Pere Marquette had increases in both gross and net. The Southern railway made a highly unfavorable showing, with a decrease of $2,500,000 in net operating income. The Northern Pacific also made an unfavorable exhibit with a decrease of $1,500,000 in gross and $2,000,000 in net operating income.

It will be noted that the exhibits are very irregular. Taken together, there is an absence of a specific trend.

The announcement from Washington that the oil land leasing bill will be passed at the present session will mean a big increase in operations in the Wyoming oil fields. Standard Oil interests, it is learned, are ready to develop new lands on a large scale. Among the larger companies the matter of this leasing bill has been thoroughly considered and preparations made to take advantage of the opportunities for development which the bill has been drawn to afford.

MARKET STEADY DESPITE BEARISH TONE OF NEWS

Trading Active with More Buyers than Sellers Engaged.

The New York Times.

New York, Dec. 1.—[Special.]—The steadiness which stock market prices maintained today—a number of issues were moderately strong—was not altogether in keeping with the news of the day.

The scarcity of coal in certain sections of the country, noted in new measures to ration supplies, emphasized the effect the strike is having upon production of various sorts of goods. Sterling exchange receded to a new low point when sight drafts were sold at 3.98⅝ and francs and lire also established new low records.

The controversy with Mexico proceeded to a point where it seemed as though only a few hours might bring dramatic developments.

More Buyers than Sellers.

Altogether, events were hardly of the character to promote the buying of stocks, either for speculation or investment, yet the final display of quotations showed that there had been "more buyers than sellers," to use a favorite market phrase, and where weakness was noticeable it was mainly in shares for which a thin demand frequently exists in periods of uncertainty.

The number of stocks dealt in was one of the largest of the year.

Call Money Plentiful.

Call money was in sufficient supply to permit the rate to recede from 7 to 6 per cent after the renewal period, and again the demand for credit to carry stocks was reported light. It was not surprising that this should be so, for the market has passed through a rather drastic liquidating process which has put some commission houses in the position of lenders instead of borrowers.

Liberty bonds rallied moderately under a heavy turnover. The corporation bond market was steady and fairly active.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

Armour & Co. preferred was the feature of the local market, advancing to 106, a gain of 3¼ points. This price, however, did not hold, the final quotation being at 104½.

The buying in the stock was started by an operator who is officially connected with Armour & Co. The filling of his order led to a renewal of rumors of recapitalization and a segregation of the properties. It has not been denied by the Armour people that both questions have from time to time been given consideration, but there is not much reason to believe that anything definite may result from any conferences at this time. The market, however, is willing to take a chance.

Union Carbide was the most active on the list and experienced a rather heavy selling movement that carried the price down to 74⅝. There was fractional improvement at the close. An offering of 900 shares of Montgomery Ward preferred came unexpectedly on the market, after the price had touched 113. The principal sales were made at 112.

The street railroad stocks were neglected. It is not possible to form an estimate of what earnings will be. On a 6¼c fare return, the companies assert they will be able to met their fixed charges. How much more is not disclosed.

WHY no investor has ever lost a dollar of principal or interest on any security bought of S. W. Straus & Co.

I

The Reasons for Our Record

THIS is the first of a series of advertisements, which will tell in detail why the clients of S. W. Straus & Co., now numbering more than 25,000, have been protected for thirty-seven years without the loss of a dollar or delay in payment of either principal or interest.

Such a record could not be the result of chance. It is the result of the development of a complete system of scientific investment principles and their application in a definite system of safeguards, known as the Straus Plan. These principles, to be explained further in detail, include the following:

1. Fundamental Security
2. Priority of Payment
3. Investigation and Selection
4. Mortgaged Earning Power
5. The "Pay-as-you-go" Principle
6. Amortization
7. Location and Demand
8. Sponsorship and Supervision

It will be to your advantage to read and preserve this series, which will contain fundamental information of value to every investor. If you wish this information in booklet form, write today for "Safety and 6%," which explains in full the above principles, and how they have been applied successfully for the protection of investors. BY AL CHASE.

Improvements to cost over $500,000 n the west side and in Oak Park will esult from a real estate deal involving he trading of the six story fireproof ixty apartment building at 721-29 Sheridan road for several pieces of vest side business property and one vacant Oak Park corner.

George E. Spry and John C. Spry ex- hanged the following properties: South- vest corner of Peoria and Adams streets, 0x125; northwest corner of Morgan and Monroe streets, 50x120; southwest cor- ner of Throop and Adams streets, 48x 20; northeast corner of Adams and Hamilton streets, 72x128; 611 West Jack- on boulevard, 25x150, and the south- vest corner of Harvey avenue and South boulevard, Oak Park, 180x150, together with $10,000 cash, for the Sheridan road property of A. Irving Jordan, 100x270, subject to a $158,000 mortgage. The gross annual rental is reported as ap- proximately $60,000. The building was completed last May.

Mr. Jordan has had plans drawn for a $200,000 six story loft building, to con- ain 60,000 square feet of floor space, to be erected at once on the Peoria and Adams corner. It will be ready about July 1, 1920. The other properties taken over by Mr. Jordan will be improved ater. The present improvements were not considered in the transaction. Thomas H. Kelley and his son, Capt. L. Thomas Kelley, represented all parties in the deal.

Dearborn Street Lease.

The National Shirt Shops, Inc., of New York City, have leased through the Hool Realty company, from the Chicago Title and Trust company and Mabelle Sebree, trustees for the estate of James K. Sebree, the double store at 17-19 South Dearborn street, in the building just south of The Tribune building, now occupied by the Douglas Shoe company and the Kaufman Hat store, for a term of ten years from May 1, 1920, at a term rental of $200,000, or $20,000 a year.

The entire store will be approximately 38x70 and the lessees expected to spend between $50,000 and $60,000 in remodeling. The rent figures about $8 per square foot and is claimed by the brokers to be the highest price per square foot ever paid for a Dearborn street inside store, and is one of the largest single leases made in Dearborn street in a number of years.

The National Shirt Shops operate stores in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and other cities, and expect to open eleven other stores in Chicago.

Bank Buys Building.

The Humboldt State bank has purchased for a reported price of $70,000 subject to $35,000, the three story building, 49½x125, at the northeast corner of North and Fairfield avenues, from Don S. Robinson, who recently bought it from Charles A. Koepke and Gustavus Tatge. The annual net income is said to be $8,400. The main floor is occupied by the bank and a store; the upper floors are offices. K. R. Beak & Co. represented both parties.

Emil Swenson and Annie Swenson have sold the twelve apartment building at the northwest corner of St. Lawrence avenue and East Fifty-first street, to K. R. Beak, for a reported cash consideration of $75,000. Lee J. Lesser & Co. and W. K. Young & Bro. were brokers.

Kurt R. Beak also purchased from Eldon R. Haynes the twenty-four apartment building in Lake Park avenue, 149 feet north of East Forty-seventh street, east front, 150x126 feet on the northwest and 56.9 feet on the southeast, for an indicated consideration of $62,877, subject to $47,877.

Building Permits

Many permits were issued. Those in excess of $5,000 were:

1200 Sherman-av., three story apartment; Anton Wille, owner; O. F. Olsen, architect; John Anderson & Sons, mason	$225,000
5119 Woodlawn-av., two story residence; Fred F. Kristenstien, owner; E. R. Bishop, architect; Lindquist Co., mason	12,000

Illinois—
"First Among Farm Loan Bonds"
"The Security that Increases."

While the tax exemption feature of Illinois Farm Loan Bonds is highly desirable, the predominant quality that recommends them to investors generally is their great security. The reliable first mortgage security, covering the best farms in the great Illinois-Iowa corn belt, an agricultural district noted for its steady year by year production. "Production is the Soundest Basis of Security." In addition they are issued under the rigid Government regulation of the Land Banks and possess the ready market of high grade bonds.

These Municipal Bonds Offer Investors a Double Return

The Milam County (Texas) Road Bonds offered here give investors a two-fold opportunity to help themselves.

Holders of these bonds reap a steady, substantial income, because the interest is paid from taxes. Their principal is safe—these bonds are a direct and general obligation on all the taxable property in the county. And the money is put to work where it will help to lower the cost of the food of the nation.

All money secured from the sale of these bonds is used to build new and better roads. Improved transportation facilities enable farmers to raise larger crops, ship them to market in a shorter time and at a lower cost. The result of this is that the investor—the ultimate consumer—pays less for his food.

These Municipal Bonds are priced to yield 5.40%. $25,000 invested in Milam County Road Bonds will yield $1,350 yearly, which income is entirely exempt from Federal Income Tax. Next to U. S. Government Securities, there is no safer investment than Municipal Bonds.

Circulars describing in full the many advantages of this and other issues will be sent on request.

WHEAT PRICES GO TO HIGHEST MARK OF SEASON

Canadian Farmers Are at Work in Favor of Further Rise.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Wheat prices advanced to the highest of the season both here and Minneapolis and Canadian farmers are moving for higher prices there.

This was a factor in other grains, as its influence was reflected by light selling pressure. In the face of a break in the cash markets late in the day owing to the industries withdrawing from the corn market last sales were at nearly the highest for the day and the best on the present upturn with gains of 1⅜@2⅛c on corn. Cash oats were up to the best of the season and futures gained 1@1⅝c. Rye gained 2¼c, and barley 2@2¼. Outside grain prices followed Chicago closely.

No Pressure on Corn.

There was little or no pressure on corn futures until May touched $1.33, and from that figure up selling against offers and by longs on resting orders supplied the demand. At no time were prices as low as Saturday's finish, and final trades were at fair net gains with December $1.38⅝; January, $1.34; May, $1.32⅞, and July, $1.32⅜.

January led the upturn and at the top showed 2¾c above the finish on Saturday. New developments were rather bullish early, and bearish later.

Eastern cash demand slow with shipping sales of 28,000 bu. Owing to the coal and car situation country shippers are not inclined to offer to arrive, and handlers do not want to sell for deferred shipment. Receipts, 209 cars.

December Oats Act Tight.

December oats are showing increased tightness. There was fair buying credited to eastern account which looked like against export sales, and a broker who generally acts for the Belgian government bought 200,000 bu at New York. There was some 38 lb No. 2 white clipped oats sold at Chicago on the basis of 13½c over December, track New York for export, but the quantity was not given. A sale of 50,000 bu No. 3 white oats was made in store at 1c under December.

The December-May difference narrowed ½c@2½c at the last. Trade was mainly local. December closed at 75¼c; May at 77¾c, and July at 74¼c. Receipts, 123 cars with sample values 1c higher to 1c lower, closing easy. Shipping sales, 120,000 bu.

Deliveries of 765,000 bu rye on December contracts went to cash houses who wanted the grain, and failed to have any effect on futures. A feature in the market was the buying of December and selling of May. The market showed a strong undertone throughout the day, and closed 2½c higher. No. 2 on spot brought 1c over December, with sales at $1.50@1.51¼. Receipts, 9 cars.

Barley in good demand, both from maltsters and exporters, and prices advanced 1@2c. No sales to the seaboard were reported, although cash houses took 165,000 bu on December deliveries. Spot sales were at $1.25@1.54. Receipts, 49 cars.

Weakness in Provisions.

Provision prices weakened despite the advance in hog prices with the large arrivals predicted for today. Buying was poor and trade on the whole light. At the close lard was 10@17½c lower to 22c higher, and short ribs 2½@22½c higher. There was little in the market worth commenting on. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

A critical situation exists in coal and industries are shutting down to save for the essentials. The Corn Products company has only one day's supply of fuel on hand, it running mostly on coke. Its plant at Argo is expected to be shut down any day unless the situation improves. Its Pekin, Ill., plant started last Friday, and its Granite City, Ill., plant at East St. Louis is running, but all are likely to be closed within a day or two unless the fuel supply is increased. The Corn Products company bought a little corn early yesterday at Chicago, but soon withdrew, making a weak cash market, and, while futures finished at the good advances, cash prices were off 2@3c from Saturday's close.

Should the industries continue out of the cash corn market prices might decline and affect futures. Sentiment, however, is mostly bullish, and the disposition is to buy on breaks. Traders who were bearish and shorts at 10c under present prices are now bullish and long.

Cash oats were up to the highest of the season yesterday, 80½c for No. 2 white in the sample market, and No. 3 white, which are deliverable at 1½c discount, sold at 1c under December in store. A feature was the absence of heavy selling pressure on the bulge which has been against the market for weeks, and values responded more readily to buying by the same interests who have been buying for several weeks past. It was claimed in certain quarters that they sold on the bulge, but their open purchases were much larger than their sales. Traders who took oats on bids at the close Saturday, sold them out yesterday at a profit. One of the largest oat traders said at the close that the market looked as though prices might go 2@3c higher.

The visible supply of United States of 1,477,000 bu, compared with 2,611,000 bu last year. It is the lightest at this time in over thirty-nine years. Unless a scarcity of coal prevents the movement of freight trains it is expected that supplies will increase as cars are more plentiful in the west, and consignment notices to commission houses are more numerous.

Grain loadings on railroads in the northwestern region for the week ended Nov. 25 were 13,504 cars compared with 12,107 cars the previous week, and 17,704 cars last week. Total all freight, 143,639 cars against 132,752 cars the previous week and 121,001 cars last year.

Lard stocks in Chicago are 19,667,000 lbs, a decrease of 7,625,000 lbs last month, compared with a gain of 11,313,000 lbs last year, when they were 39,724,000 lbs. Total stocks of all meats decreased 2,825,000 lbs, and are 105,494,000 lbs against 101,911,000 lbs last year when an increase of 4,677,000 lbs was made.

Only 96,000 bu of contract corn is in public elevators in Chicago and available for delivery on December contracts. Included in the total is 12,000 bu No. 4 white. Aggregate stocks decreased 23,000 bu last week and are 466,000 bu. Contract stocks of oats are 1,909,000 bu, a decrease of 137,000 bu for the week. Included in the total is 300,000 bu No. 2 white and 1,584,000 bu No. 3 white, the latter decreasing 93,000 bu for the week and former 43,000 bu. Total stocks are 4,927,000 bu.

A change in the world's wheat situation as the result of the short crop in Australia and frost damage in Argentina, combined with a growing scarcity of choice grain in the United States and Canada, is regarded as the main factors in causing an advance to a new high level for the season.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Shipping sales of cash grain at Chicago Monday: Corn, 25,000 bu, oats, 120,000 bu. To store: Barley, 20,000 bu. For export at the seaboard: Oats, 200,000 bu to Belgian government.

Choice wheat is in keen demand. Dark northern springs at Minneapolis advanced 5c to a new high figure on the crop with a sale at $3.23 for No. 1. At Chicago offerings were small and the market strong, with some cars that looked 2c higher. Receipts, 72 cars. Wheat prices in all markets are now higher than when the government started to resell from its accumulated stocks.

Shippers who were short cash corn against November sales were fair buyers early, but later they withdrew, and with the Corn Products out of the market prices reacted and closed unchanged after being 1c higher early. Old was 2@3c higher, with No. 1 yellow $1.60. Receipts, 209 cars.

New high prices for cash oats were paid at Chicago yesterday, a car of No. 2 white selling at 82c. The sample market was unchanged to 1c higher early, but closed unchanged to 1c lower. Receipts, 123 cars. St. Louis, Omaha, and Peoria were ½c higher.

FORT DEARBORN TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, CHICAGO, TRUSTEE

BUSINESS. The Mechanical Manufacturing Co. was incorporated in Illinois in 1889. It is one of the largest manufacturers of packing house equipment in the world. Its plant in the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, is valued at over $1,012,000.

MANAGEMENT.
Louis F. Swift, President
Edward F. Swift, Vice President
Nathan B. Higbie, Vice President
H. A. Chetham, Treasurer

ASSETS. Total assets less current liabilities as of August 30, 1919 (after giving effect to this financing), were $1,511,213.

EARNINGS. Average annual net earnings (after all taxes) for last five years were $125,459, and for the last three years $165,505, or more than five and one-half times the annual interest charges on these bonds.

TRUST AGREEMENT PROVISIONS. These bonds are secured by a closed first mortgage on all fixed property of the company and are its only funded indebtedness. The company covenants to maintain at all times net quick assets in excess of current liabilities equal to at least the amount of these bonds outstanding.

SERIAL PAYMENT. The serial payment of $30,000 annually rapidly reduces the indebtedness and increases the margin of security.

The company's accounts have been audited by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co. and appraisals made by American Appraisal Co. Legal proceedings in connection with this issue have been passed upon by attorneys for the company and for the bankers.

We Recommend for Investment JOINT STOCK LAND BANK 5% Bonds.

Back of Your Bond

JOINT STOCK LAND BANK BONDS offer in a new guise the oldest form of investment—the land itself—with the added advantage of ready salability and tax exemption, heretofore lacking in farm mortgage investments.

Bonds of this character are secured by Government approved first mortgages on farm lands, or by Government bonds. They are declared to be instrumentalities of the Government, and are prepared and engraved by the Treasury Department. The principal and interest of these bonds are exempt from all Federal, State and local taxation, excepting only Estate and Inheritance Taxes.

Halsey, Stuart & Co.'s offerings of Joint Stock Land Bank Bonds are confined to those issued by Banks operating in sections of known productiveness and established land values, and under the direction of conservative and experienced executives.

Our circular, C. A. 48, descriptive of these and wide variety of Government, Municipal and Corporation Bonds, will be sent upon request.

Top hogs advanced 60c to $14.60 and the general average jumped 60c to $14.30 as compared with closing day last week. Receipts at 30,000 were a third below expectations. Some early sales showed 75c advance, but the finish was with part of the gain lost.

Owing to the sharp advance several local packers, including Armour & Co., remained out of the market. With 70,000 expected today, however, traders are looking for lower prices. Chicago was lower than outside western points.

Better grades of cattle met with a good call at strong prices, while the poorer kinds closed 25@50c lower. A load of 1,126 lb steers established a new high record for "market" cattle, although some "show" throwouts sold at $21.00@21.50. Sheep and lambs advanced 25@50c, best lambs selling at $15.75.

Receipts for today are estimated at 25,000 cattle, 70,000 hogs, and 27,000 sheep, against 19,754 cattle, 53,383 hogs, and 26,277 sheep corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

Actual receipts at Chicago stockyards last month, 385,889 cattle, 66,698 calves, 806,604 hogs, and 559,065 sheep. Calves increased 26,264, while cattle decreased 15,791, hogs, 87,151, and sheep 14,654 compared with November, 1918.

The Value of a Coal Mine

Coal mining is a business unto itself—it involves more than the usual risks and problems of manufacturing.

Therefore ordinary appraisals by engineers alone—or by auditors alone—cannot give full report of values or possibilities.

The Peabody Coal Company knows coal and coal mining both from the marketing as well as the operating end.

We are one of the largest producers of bituminous coal in the country—operating 28 mines, with thirteen million tons capacity.

With our organization and 36 years' experience we furnish banks, bond houses, trustees or others with practical appraisals and reports on coal properties that are more than mere theory and figures.

We also undertake the management of property where desired.

Reduce Your Normal Credit Losses

The primary function of the American's Unlimited Policy of Credit Insurance is to provide absolute protection against abnormal, unforeseen credit losses.

But so thorough and complete is the service we render that very frequently a client's normal credit loss is reduced, and he is saved many times the moderate premium paid for the policy.

If you are a manufacturer or wholesaler, we can tell you precisely the normal insolvency loss resulting from sales of any volume for your particular line of business.

Surely it is to your every interest to get such valuable statistics. An inquiry will bring them to you without any obligation.

NOVEMBER BOND SALES SMASH ALL RECORDS

New York, Dec. 1.—[Special.]—Bond sales on the New York stock exchange in November were the largest in history for that month, with a total of $358,872,000. Of this grand total, Liberty issues accounted for $286,505,250, corporation bonds $52,333,000, foreign governments $19,492,000, and the remainder state and municipals. The largest day's trading was on Nov. 26, also the largest for the year, when the turnover reached $26,871,000.

In the year to last Saturday the par value of bonds sold on the stock exchange reached $3,082,042,000, 40 per cent greater than up to Nov. 30, 1918, and nearly three times as large as in the same periods of 1909 and 1916, other occasions when transactions have exceded the billion dollar mark.

In corporation groups tractions were the outstanding feature. Inter-Met 4½s ranged between 14 and 14⅞, while I. R. T. 5s had a little wider swing from a low of 43¾ to around 45. In the rails prices were irregular. The opening was generally above Saturday's closing, but they receded in the late trading, many to new lows for the movement. Foreign bonds were inconspicuous.

American Telephone and Telegraph.

G. H.—Stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph company dropped below par a few weeks ago, the reason being fear of a reduction in the dividend. Recently it has held within a fraction of par. The fact that the company is now offering stock to its employés at par is proof that the directors are confident of their ability to maintain the dividend rate. The plan is advantageous to employés, provided that this confidence in future earnings is well founded. The plan in effect loans employés money at 4 per cent to carry stock paying 8.

St. Joseph Gas.

W. W. F.—The St. Joseph Gas company is a subsidiary of the American Light and Traction and does not make public its income account. In view of the financial strength and property of the holding company the $1,000,000 of St. Joseph Gas company first mortgage bonds are presumably at least fairly well secured. The other bonds you mention have been reviewed. Send stamped envelope for clippings if you wish them.

United Motors Company.

H. S., Charles City, Ia.—The United Motors company of Rutherford, N. J., owns two-thirds of the $2,148,800 of stock of the Sterling Tire corporation. The latter company reported average annual profits of about $235,000 in the three years 1916-18, and paid some dividends. The holding company has made public no detailed report. It has paid dividends on its $50,000 of first preferred stock, but none have been reported on $100,000 second preferred or $434,800 common.

Brief Answers.

T. M. H.—The Lincoln Highway Tire company is said to be making satisfactory progress. No recent report available. No quotable market for the shares.

J. C. C.—Perfection Tire and Rubber has been reviewed many times. The company is overcapitalized and the stock merely a speculation at present.

L. C. R., Racine, Wis.—Cosden & Co., have been reviewed. Send stamped envelope for copy if you wish it.

The Capital Needs of Business

after a year or two of war restrictions, have inevitably led to an unprecedented volume of preferred stock issues. Issuing corporations realize their advantage; investors recognize their basic soundness.

But there is need of conservatism at a time like this of great prosperity and of wide popular demand for preferred stocks. A sharp distinction should be made between permanent and temporary soundness.

Issues underwritten by this Company must measure up to requirements of the "Straus Standard," in established earning power of the business, its management, entrenched good will, ability to survive and surmount any adverse conditions which may arise in the future.

Write or call for our Booklet "C" descriptive of Preferred Stock Issues of the "Straus Standard."

H. O. STONE & CO. CONSERVATIVE INVESTMENTS

A Guaranty of Safety

OUR conservatism in making loans is your guaranty of safety in making investments.

We loan our own funds only, and every security we accept must pass a most rigid investigation.

Careful investors realize this and have no hesitancy in accepting our recommendations for their investments.

Thirty-two years' experience has gained for us an enviable reputation for conservatism, and hundreds of investors have learned to depend on us for the selection of safe investments.

We have an attractive list of Chicago real estate investments netting 6% which may be reserved now for January funds.

CANDY STOCKS

Stocks in the leading Candy enterprises of the country have had a remarkable advance during the past year. This is due to the splendid prosperity enjoyed by the industry and its bright outlook for the future. While many of the Candy stocks now listed on the different exchanges may advance in price from their present market levels, it is our recommendation that investors who are seeking the greatest safety, together with the best chance of quick profit taking, should give first consideration to such an issue as American Candy Company shares now being offered at a low underwriting price. The common stock is earning about 25% after all taxes on the present offering price and will, in our judgment, attain a much higher market value in the near future. Application will be made to list this stock on the Chicago and St. Louis Stock Exchanges. Write for descriptive circular giving details and showing earnings during the past 26 years.

FINANCIAL NOTES

The semi-annual interest due yesterday on the Imperial Russian government five year 5½ per cent external loan was defaulted. The total issue was about $25,000,000 and was floated by several American banking houses three years ago. The issue matures Dec. 1, 1921. Interest on the Imperial Russian government 6½ per cent bonds was defaulted several months ago.

Business of Sears, Roebuck & Co. has exceeded $200,000,000 for the first time since the firm was organized. For the eleven months ended with November gross sales were $226,982,749, which compared with $176,458,232 in the same period last year and $198,522,080 in the full year 1918, the best year up to 1919. November business amounted to $31,251,707, an increase of $7,223,007, or 29.94 per cent, over the same month last year.

Stockholders of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, the Merchants' Loan and Trust company, and the Corn Exchange National bank, the earnings of which have been pooled since Oct. 1 as a preliminary to merger of the institutions, will receive dividends of 5 per cent for the fourth quarter of the year, or at the rate of 20 per cent a year. This is the rate that has been paid for some time by the individual banks.

Compensation contracts with the government will be signed by the Rock Island and Chicago and Alton roads on terms named by the federal rail authorities. Both roads have contested the amount awarded for rental of the systems, but it is understood they will agree to the government's figures for the sake of a quick cash settlement. The government awarded the Rock Island $15,000,000 a year compensation for the use of the road. For the Alton the award was $3,800,000 a year.

Among the Chicagoans named by President Richard S. Hawes of the American Bankers' association on the "national committee on European finance," created at the recent international trade conference at Atlantic City are E. D. Hulbert, president Merchants' Loan and Trust company; George M. Reynolds, president Continental and Commercial National bank; F. O. Wetmore, president First National bank; Harry A. Wheeler, vice president Union Trust company; H. L. Stuart of Halsey, Stuart & Co.

ATTENTION!! CLERKS!!

NO REGISTRATION FEE.

For a limited time only we are going to omit our usual registration fee in order to give Clerks a better idea of the unusual openings at this time.

We simply must have more Clerical help. Young fellows that never have worked before to the highest Chief Clerk are in demand. Young men that are not satisfied with their present situations will never find a more opportune time than right now.

If we can increase your earning capacity $300 to $500 a year, would it not be an EXCELLENT INVESTMENT?

That is what we are doing every day.

From the Fifth Floor—

WHERE artistic and enduring gifts may be successfully chosen within the bounds of almost any contemplated expenditure, from among noteworthy assortments of china and of porcelains, of beautiful crystal and Venetian glass, of art objects in bronze and marble, lamps, frames, clocks, mirrors, pictures and beautiful paintings.

THE seeker for a gift enduring, whether something utilitarian in purpose or that whose chief appeal lies in its pronounced decorative character, will find here the broad horizon which marks the successful climax of a Christmas quest.

For here in wide assortments skillfully chosen from the world at large are gifts for the home, rich in beauty, utilitarian, decorative, artistic, of all-abiding excellence in design, creation and manufacture.

From simple little teacups of thin china to elaborate dinner services of Royal Worcester or Cauldon, from pretty little etchings in appropriate frames to paintings by Innes, Blakelock and others, the Fifth Floor offers a thousand and one Christmas gift suggestions to meet any individual taste in a gift for any particular purpose, within almost any contemplated expenditure, large or small.

Of China—

For gifts are odd plates of fine French and English china, exquisite in pattern, $2 to $10 each.

Odd cups and saucers of French and English china, in unusual shapes and beautiful designs, $1.50 to $5 pair.

Allover acid-etched French china, in conventional gold designs, bonbon boxes, compotes and other pieces, including a variety of odd plates and trays, $3 to $22 each.

Charming tea sets of three pieces, each in the same ware, $27 set.

Fine English china in open stock, from which can be assembled tea sets, lunch sets and dinner sets in gold encrusted and border designs, in Royal Worcester, Crown Derby, Cauldon and other renowned makes, $500 to $1,000 set.

Of Glass—

Table services consisting of water goblets, sherbet glasses, grapefruit glasses, wine glasses, in plate etchings and lightly cut designs, $5 to $45 dozen.

Libbey rock crystal and engraved glass boxes, plates, bowls, compotes, candle-sticks, perfume bottles in large variety of kinds and sizes, from $3.50 to $50.

Large collections of Venetian glass, including almost every conceivable article shown in this beautiful ware, $1.50 to $50.

Clocks—

Mantel clocks in mahogany and walnut, $20 to $87.50.

With Westminster, chimes from $47 to $85.

French clocks in metal and glass cases, $31.50.

Small French clocks in similar styles, $10.50 to $25.

Traveling clocks, with radium dials, in folding leather cases, $26.50 to $37.50.

Small mahogany desk clocks, with one-day and eight-day movements and radium dials, $3 to $9.50.

Tiffany never-wind clocks, handsomely designed in metal and heavy glass, $20.

Floor clocks, ranging in price from those in simple Colonial style at $82.50 to elaborately carved clocks at $600.

Unusual Lamps—

Here are lamps designed with a keen appreciation of beauty of line and color, and a thorough understanding of modern lighting.

Lanterns and torchieres of wrought iron and polychrome in the Italian periods, $30 to $150.

Wrought iron table lamps patterned after antique candelabra, $30 to $75.

Lamps of Pauleo pottery are $87.50 to $300.

Floor lamps in several different sizes, in simple designs or others elaborately carved and decorated, $25 to $150.

Modern little French lamps with fanciful shades, $20 to $45.

Clever little boudoir lamps for as little as $1.50 up to $50.

Unusual shades in parchment and silk vary in price from $3.50 to $50.

Shades designed to order in either parchment or silk.

Photograph Frames—

Beautiful polychrome frames of Italian design in antique finish, swinging frames, double-face frames for library or living room, some with French motifs for boudoir furnishings, Italian frames with doors that open and close, frames in every desired size at prices ranging from $5 to $50.

And in the important matter of selecting frames for portraits and fine paintings this section offers the suggestion and service of experts.

Art Objects—

A particularly interesting collection of small bronzes by representative American sculptors and small Italian marbles which would make gifts of distinction is offered at prices which anticipate any determined expenditure, from smaller pieces at $10 to $30 to the fine Cararra marbles at $300 to $400.

Here also are vases of fine pottery, Japanese vases in Cloisonne and bronze, very decorative and particularly suitable for lamp bases. $10 to $350.

And this store has just received from China a large shipment of teakwood stands which range in price from $25 to $60, according to style and size.

Mirrors—

Decorative mirrors in Italian and French styles with frames of gold and polychrome, from $15 to $200.

French panel mirrors from $25 to $200.

Mirrors with sconces in gold and polychrome, $20 to $95.

Hand-wrought Italian wall sconces at $10 and $12.

Marble pedestals of classic grace, $15 to $250.

Book ends—metal with bronze finish, rather massive, for library tables, $7 to $10.

In the Galleries—

Where are assembled representative works of practically all the best-known painters, one may choose a priceless gift or, within a comparatively moderate expenditure, a picture of real artistic merit.

And thus is the Christmas story of this beautiful gift-laden Fifth Floor but partly told—its final chapter must be an invitation to honor its wares with a personal inspection, for in no other way can its wonderful story be fully told.

The articles sketched here are from assortments on the Fifth Floor, North.

Hudson seal coats at lower prices

$285—$335—$355—$375

The catch of muskrat, from which hudson seal is made, is much smaller this year than last; and, in consequence of the shortage, next year's prices inevitably will advance.

Our collection of hudson seal coats is larger and richer than any in our history—and its attractiveness is intensified by the prospect of the enhanced value of your selection, in the very near future.

Hudson seal coats in the newer modes and lengths; with self collar and cuffs; or with skunk, beaver, squirrel, mink or kolinsky embellishment.
